ADD. God hath gathered together my reproach, and let Jehovah add to me another son, whom she named Joseph; in the supreme sense sig. the Lord as to the Divine spiritual; in the internal sense the spir. kingdom or good of faith; and in the external sense salvation, 3969.

ADDER, see SERPENT.

ADHERE, see JOIN. In the supreme sense sig. love and mercy; in the internal sense, charity; in the external sense conjunction, 3875; cel. love, also marriage love, but expressed by a different Hebrew word, 3875(6).

ADJOIN. Adjunction of Human Essence to Divine Essence, 2236; human rational things adjoined to the doctrine of charity which is Divine, 2858; distinction between adjunction and conjunction, 3504, 8981; a difference when man adjoins societies to himself than when the Lord does it, 4073(2); the adjunction of spirits during regeneration, 4073, 4110(2), 4129, 5851, 6914(3), 7205; the honor of an office not in the person but adjoined, 10797.

ADMAH and ZEBOIM sig. falsities and evils arising from lusts, 1212.

ADMINISTRATOR. The natural mind ministers to the rational and is the administrator, 3020, 1795.

ADMISSION. One does not receive heaven from mere admission, he must be in good, 164, 453, 2030(7), 2359, 3038(6), 4226, 5058, 5758, 9506(2). The Lord admitted into Himself temptations, 2816, He admitted all the hells in their order, 4287; also the angels, 4287.

ADOLESCENCE. See YOUTH.

ADORATION, see WORSHIP, HUMILIATION, in worship is according to love to the Lord and the neighbor, 1153; does not exist without charity, 1150; to fall on the face was a mode of adoration with the ancients, a gesture of humiliation, 1990; to adore is predicated of the good of love, to sacrifice, of the truth of faith, 10424.

ADULLAMITE rep. falsity from evil: on the boundary of the inheritance of Judah, 4816, 4817, 4854, 4885, 4895.

ADULT. Infants are in cel. things more than adults, 1453, 1738, 1776, 2291; man comes into spir. temptations in adult age, 1661(2), 5044(2); he can then be regenerated, 2636(2), 2657(5), 4247(2), 5893(2), 6125(2); children in the other life grow to be aduits, 2304; ages of man from infancy to adult age, 3254, a growth from generals to particulars, 4345(4); evils confirmed only in adult age, 9009(3).

ADULTERY. Adulterers approaching heaven are rejected, 530; impossible for them to enter into heaven, 827; are cruel, 824; adulteries are destructive of society, are from self-love, 2045(2); are adulterations of good, and falsifications of truth, 2466, 7, 8, 9; adulterers cannot approach heaven, adulteries being contrary to marriage love, to the laws of both kingdoms, and to order, 2733(2); every one may know how wicked it is to commit adultery, if he think concerning it in the case of his own wife being led astray, 2733(3); a certain spirit who by adulteries and whoredoms had extinguished all desire of marriage, and of procreating children; his punishment, 2746; the unmercifulness of adulterers, their religious profession, 2747; cannot come into heaven, 2747–8; fear neither Divine nor human laws, only punishment, 2748; their ideas are filthy, 2747–8; angelic blessedness and happiness communicated to adulterers becomes nauseous, painful, and an offensive stench, 2749; when one commits adultery on earth, heaven is closed against him; his quality afterward, 2750; adulterers that send forth emissaries who report that they are against marriage love, against good and truth, and against the Lord, 2751; adulterers are desirous to obsess man, 2752; by allurements, insinuate themselves into societies, but are rejected and fined, and at length associated with their like in the hells, 2753; the most deceitful are above the head, and more than all others they entrap by pretence of innocence and mercy; their hell the most grievous, 2754; where they love filth and excrements, 2755; with the lascivious who have not extinguished the desire of procreating children, there remains a heat, 2757. Adulteries are perversions of good, 3390; with harlotries, because opposite to marriage sig. evil and falsity, 4865; the hell of cruel adulterers is under the right foot where are those of the Jewish nation, 5057; adulterers infuse a pain into the loins and members of generation, 5059–60; those who are opposite to those who correspond to the testicles, are they who ensnare by marriage love, 5060; adulterers in the excrements of hell, 5304; when they apply themselves, they inflict a pain every where in the periosteums, and in the teeth and stomach, 5714; the most filthy of them induce a weariness of life, 5722. By the prohibited degrees of marriage, are sig. various kinds of profanations, 6348(2). Adulteries sig. adulteration of good, whoredoms, falsification of truth, 6348(2), 6432(4); the hell of those of the church who have lived in faith separated from charity, and in a life of evil, is the hell of adulterers, 8137(2); adulteress sig. the house of Israel, 8468; committing adultery, whoredom, and scortation, relate to those things which are of faith, consequently sig. the application of the Word to confirm evils and falsities, 8904; as soon as one commits adultery heaven is closed, many make light of it at this day because the church is at its end, 8904(2); to commit adultery in the natural sense is to commit adulteries, in the internal representative sense to worship idols, in the internal spiritual sense adulteration of good and perversion of truth, 8904(12); whoredoms are the perversions of truth, and witchcrafts are the falsities thence derived, 9188(5). Marriages are most holy, but adulteries most profane, 9961(4); adulteries are profane and from hell, 10174; they who take delight in them no longer believe those things which are of heaven and the church, because the love of adultery is from the marriage of evil and falsity, which is internal, 10175.

ADVENT of the Lord, see COMING of the Lord.

AFAR. To see from sig. to perceive remotely, 4723; to stand afar off, removal from things internal, thus from good and truth, 8916, 8918; to bow one's self from afar, humiliation and adoration from the heart, and in such case the influx of the Lord, 9377. See, also, NIGH and NEAR.

AFFECTION, see LOVE and CHARITY. Nothing increases and is multiplied in man except from some affection, 1016, 1017; there is affection for good and affection for truth; the distinction between them, 1904, 1997; affection for interior truth from things rational, is sig. by Kadesh, affection for exterior truth, from knowledges by Schur, 2503; all affections have gestures corresponding to them, 2153; the cel. angels perceive the Word, such as it is in the internal sense, as to affection, but the spir. angels as to the thing, 2157, 2275; quality of those who are in affection for good, and of those who are in affection for truth, 2422, 5, 30; the cel. angels from affection form to themselves in the Word lights of ideas, 2157, 2275; heavenly freedom is of affection for truth and good, and infernal freedom of affection for falsity and evil — see LIBERTY. The conjunction of truth with good is effected by affection, 3024; the first affection for truth in the natural man is not affection for genuine truth; which comes afterward, 3040; truth without affection does not enter, still less inhere, 3066. Affections are sig. by infants, damsels, young women, and daughters, but with a difference, 3067; every affection contains in itself things innumerable, and affection is the whole man, 3078(2), 3189. The origin of affection for truth described, 3085–6; in affection is the life by which is conjunction, 3095; to one affection there are many subordinate affections in an incomprehensible form, 3189; on the conjunction of affection for good with affection for truth by appearances of truth, 3207; affection always adjoins itself to things ingrafted in the memory, and is at the same time reproduced, 3336(2); affection for good is adjoined to truth in the natural man; by this truths are reproduced, and thus falsities and evils are removed, 3336(3). In the purpose may be known what the quality of man's affections are, 3796(2); all affections are bonds, external and internal, 3835; truths are nothing unless attended with some affection, 3849. Cel. affections are altogether incomprehensible and ineffable, these are stored up in the inmost recesses of the Word, 3839 (2), 57(3); affections become milder when they ascend toward interior things, or toward heaven, 3909; affection is the continuous of love, 3938(8); what the enjoyment of affection is, 3938; conjunction is wrought by affections, 3939; implanting and conjunction of the love of good and truth is wrought by affections, 4018(2); affection is insinuated by refusal, 4366, 68; the affection for truth appears to be from truth, but is from good, 4373; internal affection and external affection, their difference and relation to each other, 8995; innumerable varieties of affections, 9002 (2); the genuine affection for truth, desires truths for the sake of use and life, affection for truth not genuine, desires them for worldly ends, 8993; they who are in truth without spiritual affection are men servants; and they who are in truth from affection not genuine are maid servants; their difference, 8994; truth is implanted and rooted in the interiors only by affection, 5044(2); genuine affection are from the Lord, how they go off into various and diverse streams in their descent into the external, 3796(2); the affection of love rules and makes the new will when it is instilled by the Lord, 7342; to counterfeit affections resembling celestial from the proprium is infernal, 10309.

AFFINITY. The societies of heaven are to one another as consanguinities and affinities upon earth, 685; but of love and faith, 917; in all things of man there are consanguinities and affinities, 2508, 24, 56; derived from heavenly loves, 2739. If man knew what good is, then he would first know innumerable things, viz. the proximities and affinities of good and truth, such as they are in heaven, 3612; all consanguinity in heaven is from good, 3815, 4121; consanguinities and relationships in the other life, take place according to good, 4121; by marriage sig. union, 4450.

AFFIRMATIVE of truth must exist before the influx of good from the Lord can be received, 2568, 3913, 15; of good and truth is the first of regeneration, 3923, 28(2). Whence it is, to think from the affirmative and from the negative, 2588; they who consult outward knowledges concerning things Divine, if they are in the affirmative confirm them, if in the negative they invalidate them and at length believe nothing, 4760, 2588; the affirmative leads to all good, the negative to all evil, 2568, 88, 2689(3), 4760, 6023, 6047(3), 6479; the learned more than the simple are in the negative because they consult outward knowledges, thus deprive themselves of interior sight, 4760(4).

AFFLICTION, day of sig. man's miserable state in another life, 34(2); temptation and persecution, 1846. To afflict the soul, to compel one's self to do good, 1937, 1947. Great affliction, the highest degree of perversion and vastation of the church; profanation, 3755(3); affliction a state to arrive at good, 3864; desolation of truth, 4060; land of affliction, where temptation is, 5356; infestation, 6663, 6851; to afflict, to infest by falsities of doctrine; to oppress, to infest by evils of life, 9196; to afflict sig. to wrong, 9200.

AFFLUX. Men and animals receive influx from the spir. world, afflux from the natural world, 3646; those who are in a state of damnation cannot interiorly receive any influx of truth and good but, exteriorly, which is afflux, 7955; in temptations there is afflux from hell, 7990.

ANER, ESHCOL, AND MAMRE sig. the angels with the Lord in His boyhood, 1705; that is, the things in the angels, 1754(2).

ANGEL. Man is governed by spirits and angels from the Lord, with at least two evil spirits and two angels, 50, 697, 968; I have spoken with spirits and angels, man so created that he might speak with them, 5, 67, 68, 69, 1880. Heaven and earth from first creation were united, 1880. When man is raised up cel. angels hold the province of the heart, and two sit at the head, 168–181; spir. angels succeed, 182–189; the angels do not forsake the raised soul, but he desires to depart from them, 182, 314, 5, 6; cel. angels perceive all things from love; they know instantly from perception whether a thing is so or not, and do not reason about it, 202; they do not speak of faith, as do the spiritual angels, it is otherwise with spir. angels, 203; speech of cel. angels hence more incomprehensible, 880(3); more copious, 1647. The perception of spirits and angels, 1383–1400, 1504–1520. The light of angels, 1521–1534, 1610–1633; difference of the speech of spirits, of angelic spirits, and of angels, 1642; that of angelic spirits described, 1642; in speech of angels they have ends and uses for ideas, 1645; the speech of angels appeared like the light of flame, 1646; speech of spirits and of angels, 1634–1650, 1757–1764; state of angels when they do not speak from themselves, but from the Lord, 1745(3); temptation and pain of conscience is from the combat of spirits and of angels, 227; angels perceive exquisitely what enters with man, 228; the angels attendant on man attend to nothing but ends, 1645; the life of angels consists in the goods of charity and in use, 454–6, 696–7. There are three heavens that of spirits, of angelic spirits, and of angels; in each there are both celestial and spiritual, 459. The angels of the three heavens subordinate to each other, but not under the ordination of rule or authority, 1752(2), 1802; angels are nearer to the Lord, and more remote from Him, or interior and exterior, 1802; their cel. and spir. food is the good of love and the truth of faith, 1480; the man of the Most Ancient Church discoursed with angels; they who discoursed afterward did so in another manner, 784(2). It is dangerous to man to have heaven opened to him, and to discourse with spirits and angels, 784(2); angels appear clothed, 165; they moderate punishments in the other life, but cannot take them away, 967. Evil is with angels, but is quiescent, good then flows in from the Lord, 1581. The Lord appears as a Sun to the cel. angels, and as a Moon to the spir., 1053, 1521, 9, 30, 1; angels were with the Lord when He was in combat, 1705, 52; angels then had power from the Lord, 1752; are named from their quality as to good, 1705, 1754; have dominion over evil genii and spirits, 1755; all spirits and angels have been men, 1880; they see nothing in the solar world, 1521, 1880(3); saw through my eyes, which appeared marvellous to them, 1880(2); spirits and angels have every sense except taste more exquisite than that of man, 322, 1630, 1880, 1, 3; the evil cannot endure the presence of an angel, 1271, 1308; spirits and angels are organized substances, 1533. The Lord is meant by angels in the Word, but what of the Lord appears from the series, 1925(4). Two angels sig. the Divine Human and the Holy proceeding of the Lord; in the Word angels sig. some Divine essential in the Lord, 2310. Angels, when the Lord speaks by them, know no otherwise than that they are the Lord, 1925. Angels, inasmuch as they are in cel. and spir. love, are in wisdom and intelligence, and see thence all things below, 2572(3); spirits and angels perceive the interior things of man's thoughts, 1931; angels dwell with those who are in the goods of faith, 2268. Men who are in love and charity have angelic wisdom in themselves, but in obscurity so long as they live in the body, 2494; the internal sense of the Word is for the angels; and things therein are precious to them, which appear trifling to man, 2540(2), 1, 5, 2551, 2574(2); many things in the internal sense of the Word fall into the understanding of angels, because they are in the light of heaven, which do not fall into the apprehension of man, because he is in the light of the world, 2618, 2619, 2629; speech of the cel. angels much more copious than that of spir. angels, because from affections in the Word they form to themselves ideas, but the spiritual from significations of things, 2157(2), 2275. With what charity and joy the, are received by the angels, who come into heaven, 2131; what angels are successively attendant on infants and children, 2303; what angels insinuate beautiful dreams, 1977; the state of angels as to those things which are of the memory is most perfect, 2493; what is precious to angels is regarded by men of no importance and vice versa, 2551(2); innumerable things are comprehended by angels, and not by men, 2786, 96, 2802; all changes of state as to things voluntary and intellectual are perceived by angels, 2706(2). An angel sig. something of the Lord, 2821. With every man there are attendant evil spirits and angels, 2887–8; angels consider man as a brother, but evil spirits consider him as a vile slave, 2890; angels sig. the Lord, 1925; also the Divine Providence, 3039. Angels comprehend innumerable things, of which man does not comprehend even the most general thing, example, 3314(2); angels perceive the internal sense when man reads the letter, 3316(3); the thoughts and speech of angels are as the internal things in the body to external things, 3347; superiority of the wisdom of angels above that of man, 3404(2), 3405(2); angels dwell in the affections of every one, 3464(3). Spirits and angels appear as men, 3633; angels and spirits distinguished into three degrees 3691(4–5): angels of God sig. Divine truth, 3701; angels are forms of love and charity, 3804; man is in the society of spirits and angels of such a quality as his own, 4067(2), 4073(2), 4077(2); they who are in evil invite to themselves societies, but to those who are in good societies are adjoined by the Lord, 4073(2); in those societies angels see from causes what is of man, 4073. The Lord had societies of spirits and angels about Him, yet took nothing from them, but by or through them from the Divine, 4075. They are very indignant when compelled to recede, 4077; angels sig. something of the Lord, for the reason that they do not speak from themselves, and do not attribute good and truth to themselves, 4085; the angels of God meeting him sig. enlightenment, 4235; nothing of intelligence and wisdom from themselves, but from the Lord, 4295(2). The Lord admitted into Himself temptations from angels, 4295(3). Their chief intelligence is to know and perceive that all life is from the Lord, and also that the universal heaven corresponds to His Divine Human, 4318–23; in hell they appear to themselves in their own fatuous light as men, but viewed by angels as devils and monsters, 4533; the deceitful, when viewed by angels, appear as serpents and vipers, 4533; angels are images of love and charity under a human form, 4735(2); their changes of state appear in their faces, according to the societies into which they come, 4797; they are continually purifying, and can never come to perfection, 4803. Holy angels sig. truths from Divine good, 4809(2); they have ineffable beauty, and are as loves and charities in form, 4985; they have ineffable beauty because they are in the form of heaven, 5199; they discourse one with another about the things in the internal sense of the Word, 5249(2). Angels, who are likenesses of the Lord appear in radiance and in white, after the likeness of the Lord in the transfiguration, 5530; since the Word in the supreme sense treats of the glorification of the Lord, and in the representative sense of the regeneration of man, it enters into angelic wisdom and happiness, because they are in the Lord, 5688(3); angels and spirits attendant on man, 5846–66, 5976–93; angels flow into the truths of faith with man, 5893(3); two angels are attendant on man because they are of two kinds, cel. and spir. 5978; according to the doctrine of churches spirits from hell and angels from heaven are attendant on man, 5979(2); the angels attendant on man bend evils into goods, 5980; the filthy and defiled things of infernal spirits are turned into milder things with the angels, 598 . The angels protect man by various methods, inspire good things, and this from a love which is from the Lord, 5902(3). To give man a capacity of living, angels from heaven and spirits from hell must be adjoined to him, 5903; the influx of angels is into conscience, 6207, 6213; it is like the light of a stream of flame, 6200; the redeeming angel is the Divine Human of the Lord; the Lord called an angel, 6280; thoughts and affections extend themselves far into angelic societies, 6508–6613; the wisdom of angels is continually growing in the other life, still they cannot arrive far beyond the first degree, 6648. The Lord as to the Divine Human is called the angel of Jehovah, because the Human Divine before appeared as an angel, when Jehovah, or the Divine itself, passed through heaven, 6831, 9303, 9315; angels are veiled with a thin and suitable cloud, lest they should be hurt by Divine influx, 6849; the ancient wise ones, when they thought about God, thought about the Divine Human, 6876(2). Angelic ideas are alive, because they refer natural things to spir. and to such as are of man, 7847; the angels have Divine truth, 8192(2); Michael, Raphael, etc., sig. an angelic function, 8192(3); angels excel men in intelligence and wisdom myriads of times, 8918; angels know each other as if they had been acquainted from infancy; hence it is that the truths appertaining to man acknowledge and conjoin themselves, 9079(2); angelic wisdom is ineffable from experience, 9094; angels comprehend and see innumerable things, while man does not even know that such things are, still less what they are, 9176(2); the angels who appeared before the Lord came into the world and were called Jehovah were Jehovah Himself in human form, that is in the form of an angel, 9315; it was the Lord, His Divine Human then appeared as an angel, 9315.2); the Lord is Jehovah Himself or the Father in Human form, 9315(3); angels are forms of love and charity, 9879; angels are receptions of Divine truths, therefore they sig. Divine truths from the Lord, 9987; a man, an angel, and a spirit, is according to his love, 10177(4); angel of Jehovah, the Divine Human, Divine truth, 10508. An angel, in the supreme sense, is the Lord as to the Divine Human, and that it is the Divine of the Lord, appertaining to angels and men, references, 10528; man is also called an angel, who receives the Divine, 10528.

ANGER. Jehovah God is never angry, why so called in the Word, 245, references 8284. Anger a general affection resulting from whatever is opposed to self love and its desires; sig. receding from charity, 357; fury and anger sig. repugnances and also punishments; fury predicated of what is true and false, but anger of what is good and evil, 3614; anger sig. indignation; spiritual indignation is zeal without anger, 3909; zeal has good in it, anger evil, 4164; the anger of the sons of Jacob not zeal, but evil, 4444; anger sig. aversion, the reason, 5034; aversion and assault, 5798; sig. turning away, but when said of the Lord, it is man who turns away, 5798; sig. sadness of spirit or of understanding, 5887–8. Anger predicated of evil, wrath of falsity 6358–9; the anger of Jehovah, sig. kindness and mercy, also punishment and condemnations, also chiding and admonition, and inundation of anger, temptation, 6997(4); the heat of anger sig. repugnance and aversion, 7701. Wrath sig. the fury of lusts and an attempt to do violence with the evil, 8284; anger attributed to the Lord, but belongs to man, 8483; the Lord's love and mercy appears to the evil as anger when they are punished, hence called anger, 8875. Fire sig. anger from affection of evil, 9143; anger described as a flame in the understanding, bursting forth from the fire of the will when the love is assaulted, 9144. Anger and evil are from man, and not from the Lord, yet are attributed to the Lord, references 9306, 9204; to be wrath with anger, when of the Lord, sig. aversion on the part of man, 10431; anger is predicated of the Lord because it so appears to the man who turns away from Him, 10431, 4, 40; sig. the turning away of man from things internal, 10460, 71; long-suffering to anger is to sustain evils a long time, and sig. Divine clemency, 10618. Anger sig. evil because it is of evil, not of good, thus not of the Lord, though attributed to Him, 10618.

ANGUISH of spirit sig. a state near despair; anxiety by reason of a loss of truth of faith and good of charity, 7217.

ANIMAL, see WILD ANIMAL (fera), BEAST (bestia). Animals of two kinds, evil because hurtful, and good because gentle; evils in man rep. by bears, wolves, dogs; goods in man by bullocks, sheep, lambs, 45, 46, 3218, 3786; do not live after death, 1633, 3747(2), 4760(2), 5114(5); man has an internal man and capacity for being elevated above himself and conjoined to the Lord by love, animals not, 3747, 6484(2), 196(2), 1633, 1940(2), 1944, 2722(6), 3020(2), 3175(2), 3408, 3634, 3646, 3747(2), 3951, 5084(5), 5114(5), 5302, 10236(2). Eating the flesh of animals, in itself something profane; not by most ancient people, now permitted so far as man does it from conscience, 1002. Animals born with all knowledge necessary for their life, and live according to their order, 637(2), 1902, 4776(4), 4906, 5850, 7750; animals of sacrifice, 10042; their classification, 10042(8), 2179, 2180(2), 3218.

The increase of good and truth is by effect of charity, 1016; with one about to be regenerated, seed from the Word cannot be rooted except in the good of charity, 880; no one is regenerated who is not affected with charity; works from charity, and from obedience alone, 989; the enlightenment of the regenerate from charity, not from faith, 854; wisdom, intelligence, and knowledge are sons of charity, 1226; the presence of the Lord is according to the state of love and charity, 904; all the precepts of the Decalogue and all things of faith are of charity, 1798; in heaven all are viewed according to their charity and faith, 1258; angelic life consists in use and the works of charity, 454; angels are forms of love and charity, 553, 3804(2), 4735(2); one who came into heaven immediately, having been in the charity of faith, 318; the fruit of faith is good work, in good work is charity, in charity is love to the Lord, and in love to the Lord is the Lord, 1873; charity is not only with the church, but with gentiles, 1059; the Word is living according to every one's state of charity and innocence, 1776; the spheres of charity and faith, when perceived as odors, are most enjoyable, 1519; the church in process of time recedes from charity, 1327(2), 1834(2)–5; in the last times there is no faith, because no charity, 1843(2); they who are without charity see nothing but evil in every man, not his good, 1070, 1080, 1088; they who separate faith from charity have no conscience, 1076–7; forms of hatred and of charity cannot be together, 1860(2); life according to knowledges of faith is charity, 2049(3); charity cannot be formed without them, 2049(4), 2088(3); exists according to quality and quantity of truths, 2180(2); the good of charity not to be violated, and can be only by those who have the Word, 2359. From the Lord is all love, charity, and mercy, 2751; all blessedness consists in affection for the good of love and charity, 2363; none are saved by faith, but by the life of faith, which is charity, 2228, 2261; faith can be received by no others than those who are in the good of charity, 2343, 2349; they who look to doctrinals, and not to life, do not know what charity is, 2417(6); to look from faith and not from love and charity, is to look behind one's self and to return backward, 2454 (2); there is a doctrinal of charity and a doctrinal of faith; that of charity, now lost was in the Ancient Church and taught the meaning of the neighbor, the poor, the fatherless, and the widows, 2417; the doctrinals of faith of no effect unless they have in them charity, because they respect charity as their end, 2116(3); intelligence and wisdom increase immensely with those in the other life who are in charity, 1941; during man's regeneration the Lord fills truths with the good of charity, 2053(3); good is according to the truths of faith implanted in charity, 2190; faith has been separated from charity, and is said to be saving because men began to live in evil, 2231(3); faith separate is the light of winter, and faith from charity is the light of spring, 2231(3); true charity is without any thing of merit, 2371; the quality of those in the good of charity, and of those not in it, 2380(2); some suppose themselves not in the good of charity when they are, and some that they are when they are not, 2380(4). They who are in the good of charity discriminate as to whom good is to be done, 2425(3); controversy as to which is the first born, faith or charity, 2435, 3324, 7755; charity the essential of faith and thus faith, references, 2442; none can be saved by thinking good, and by being instructed, unless he wills what is good, 2401; charity without faith is not genuine, nor is faith without charity, 2839; there must be innocence and charity that truth may be conjoined to good, 3111(2); good is not genuine, nor fruitful, until man is regenerated, because until then good lacks its very soul, 3186; charity toward the neigbbor is a life according to the Divine precepts, 3249; he who lives in charity receives truths from the Lord such as agree with his good, 3267(3). The spir. kingdom in the heavens is every where various as to truths, but is one by charity, 3267(2); the church is not the church unless truths of doctrine conjoin themselves to good of life, 3310; they who are only in the memory of the knowledges, and not in life, do not see in the Word the interior things of love and charity, 3416; doctrinals of love and charity among the ancients, 3419(3), 3420; they who make faith an essential and not charity, may be in the good of truth, yet not in heaven or so conjoined to the Lord as they who are in the good of charity, but on the threshold, 3459; they who do good from doctrinals of faith do not know what charity is, 3463(2). The Word is open when love to the Lord and charity toward the neighbor are regarded as the end; but when faith is so regarded, the Word is closed, 3773, 3793; charity in external form and not in internal form is not charity, nor to be so called; charity which regards the neighbor and the Lord for its end is charity itself, 3776; the truths of faith are dead without the good of charity, 3849(2); faith is the external of charity, and charity the internal of faith, 3868; faith without charity is something defiled, 3870. In regeneration to know or understand truth, to will truth, and to be affected with truth, brings one into charity, which contains them all, 3876–7; spir. angels are in good of charity without recompense, 3887; the enjoyment of affection for good and truth, or charity, unknown to those who are in the enjoyments of evil and falsity, 3938(5); charity wishes as well to the neighbor as to one's self and is averse to all merit, 3956; a plane into which good and truth from the Lord may flow, must be acquired by a life of charity, 3957(7); all truths have love and charity as their beginning and end, 4353(3); the truths of faith cannot be conjoined to anyone unless he is in the good of genuine charity, 4368(5); angels are forms of love and charity, 4735(2); charity shown by a judge who from zeal punishes an offender, 4730(3); the simple know and acknowledge what charity is, not what faith separate is, 4741(2), 4754; love toward the neighbor or charity is the essential of the church, 4766(4); those in love of self and in faith separate, cannot know what heaven is, which consists in love to the Lord and charity, 4776; the doctrinals of the Ancient Church were doctrinals of charity, 4844(4), 6627–33; the internal and essential of the church is charity, 4809(4); charity toward the neighbor is affection for good and truth, and the acknowledgment of self as evil and false, 4956; acts of charity described in Matthew, 4956, 4959, 5066–71; acts of charity done from natural good, how they differ from those done from conscience, 4988(4); if man has lived in the good of charity he will come into all wisdom in the other life, 5859; the cel. and the spir. kingdoms are conjoined by charity, because charity is the external of the cel. kingdom, and the internal of the spir. kingdom, 5022(2), 6435(2); if charity were in the first place and faith second the church would be one and would be enlightened, 6269(2); how evil if faith is in first place and charity second, 6272; works are needed, for they are charity and faith in life, 6406; Issachar, those who are in charity for recompense, 6388–93; the good of mutual love and the good of charity are conjoined by a medium, as the cel. and spir. kingdoms are conjoined, 6435(2); those in charity adore the Lord as their God and Saviour, 4731(2); the good of mutual love is interior and of charity exterior, 6435(2); when angels communicate their good to another, willing to give all and retain nothing, there flows in more of good with continual increase, 6478; this is dissipated when they think of recompense, 6478; the doctrine of charity treated in series of articles prefixed to the chapters of Exodus, beginning with 6627; it was precious to the ancients, but is now lost, 6632; the Word is nothing else than the doctrine of love and charity, 6632; because it is now lost, the doctrine of faith is much alienated from the truth, 6633; charity is not to be exercised toward all without discrimination, 6703; true worship consists in exercising charity, 7038; conjunction of charity and faith like that of heat and light, 7080–6; the doctrine of charity teaches what good is and what evil is, 7181, 7255; it cannot be known what good is unless he knows what charity or love toward the neighbor and love to God are, 7178–82; the life of charity and faith make heaven with man, 7197; the good of love to the Lord is cel. good, the good of charity toward the neighbor is spir. good, 7257; the doctrine of love to the Lord is most comprehensive and hidden, the doctrine of love and charity toward the neighbor also in less degree, 7258; therefore the ancients reduced charity into classes and gave them names, which were from heaven, 7259–61; the blind, lame, maimed, etc., toward whom they were to exercise charity, they understood those who were spiritually such, 7260–3; the goods and truths of faith with those of the spir. church cannot die because conjoined with the Divine, which is life itself, 7506(2)–7507; two things proceed from the Lord, good and truth, and reign in heaven; in the church they are called charity and faith, 7623–4; an idea of the good of charity and the truth of faith may be formed from the sun and the light in spring and in winter, 7625; man is like a garden if charity and faith are conjoined, and like a desert if they are not conjoined, 7626; all things of the church have reference to charity and faith, 7752–4; the first thing of the church is charity, and the second faith, 7755; the good of charity enters by an internal way, faith by an external, 7756; the conjunction of charity and faith is effected in the interiors of man, good adopts truth there, 7757; unless conjunction be effected, charity is not charity, neither is faith faith, 7757; when faith is conjoined with charity it is no longer called faith, but charity, 7758; the good of charity has its quality from the truth of faith, and truth its essence from that good, 7759; good of charity receives its quality from the abundance of the truths of faith, also from the connection of one truth with another, 7760; called spir. good and saving, 7761; spir. confidence has its essence from good, 7762; to look above himself is to look to the neighbor, 7814–16; those in the good of charity and of faith look above themselves, 7817; the man who is in charity loves himself and the world, but only as means to an end, 7819–7820; difference between living according to precepts of faith and precepts of charity, 8013; charity is an internal affection for good, 8033; faith is an internal affection for knowing what is true and good, which conjoins itself with charity by willing to do the truth, 8034; they in genuine affection of charity know that all charity and faith are from the Lord, 8035; those in charity are regenerate and have a new will and a new understanding, 8036; those in love of self and of the world cannot be in charity and faith, they do not know what they are, 8037; charity extends much further than giving to the poor and assisting the needy, 8120–1; it consists in doing what is right, just, and good in every work and one's duty in every office, 8121–2; because man, society, the country, the church, the kingdom of the Lord, and what is good and just are the neighbor, 8123; with those who are in charity from internal affection, charity is in all things they think, speak, will, and do, 8124; a life of piety without charity is of no avail, but with it is of all avail, 8252; the life of charity consists in uses, 8253; the veriest worship of the Lord consists in a life of charity 8254; the life of charity abides with a man forever, 8256; a life according to the Lord's precepts is the Christian life, called spiritual, and by it one comes to know what faith and charity are, 8257; the internal of charity consists in doing well to the internal of man, and the external in doing good to the external at the same time, 9209(2); the end determines the quality of one's charity; when done for the sake of good, it is genuine and from the Lord; this is Christian charity, 9210; when anyone does good for the sake of good, or for the sake of truth, it is for the sake of the Lord, 9210; this ought to be the head, and himself and gain the sole of the foot, 9210(2); all in heaven are kept looking to the Lord by love to Him, and by charity toward the neighbor, 9828(2); to love what is good and true for the sake of good and truth, is to love the neighbor and God, 10310; the neighbor in the universal sense is good and truth; love toward the neighbor which is charity has in itself love to the Lord, 10336(4); whether we say charity toward the neighbor or truth from good it is the same thing; a life according to truths Divine, is charity, 10485.

Doctrine, Doctrinal, Learned. See Knowledge. The learned do not know more than the simple, 206; the doctrinals of the Ancient Church collected by Cain and Enoch, 608–609, 920(4); there can be no church without doctrine, 769; doctrine separate from love and charity does not make the church, but charity, 1798(2), 1799, 1834(2), 1844; three universal kinds of doctrines rep. by sons of Noah, 1065; the church would be one if all had charity, notwithstanding their difference as to worship and doctrinals. 809, 1285, 1288, 1316, 1798–9, 1834, 1844; doctrinals are of no account, unless the life be formed accordingly, 1515; doctrine concerning good is the doctrine of charity, doctrine concerning truth is the doctrine of faith, 2231; the doctrine of faith is not from a rational but from a cel. origin, 2510; the Lord's first thought was that the rational should be consulted in forming the doctrine of faith, 2511; He afterward perceived that the doctrine would be nought if the rational was consulted, 2512–2557; the doctrine of faith is spir. from a cel. origin, it is to be known that it is Divine truth from Divine good, and thus wholly Divine, 2531(2), 3712; doctrine should not be believed from sensual, scientific, and rational things but may be confirmed thereby, 2538(2); the doctrine of love and charity is the Divine doctrine itself, 2571(2); the good of doctrine is love and charity, the truth of doctrine is faith, 2572(2); the Lord is doctrine itself, 2516, 2855, 2859; He is the Word, 2859; the doctrine of faith is cel. spir., not from the rational, 2510, 2516, 2519; its faith is the doctrine of charity, 2571(2); the doctrine of faith is clothed with appearances from things human, 2719–20; doctrine is not perceived unless it be expounded rationally and sensually 2553; the Lord thought from the Divine celestial, but taught according to apprehension, 2553; there is a doctrinal of charity and a doctrinal of faith; the doctrinal of the Ancient Church was that of charity, which at this day is lost, 2417; hence they knew what is meant by neighbor, 2417(8); in what ignorance they are, who are in no doctrinal of charity, 2435 (2); what it is to look to doctrinals, 2454; it is allowed those, who are in an affirmative concerning Divine truths, to enter into things rational and of external knowledge, but not for those who are in a negative, 2568(5), 2588(2); doctrinals are from knowledges, 3052; what is meant by doctrinals being removed when man is first reforming, 3057(4); the doctrinals of faith are appearances of truth Divine; how doctrine becomes of the life, 3182; truths spir. are not knowledges, but are in knowledges, 3301; the spiritual separate what is Divine from what is rational; they are willing that the things of faith should be simply believed, without any intuition from the rational, 3394(3); the Philistines sig. those who reject the doctrinals of charity; they obliterate interior truths, 3412(2)–13; the doctrinals of the ancients were altogether different from those of this day, viz., besides representatives and significatives, they had the doctrinals of love to the Lord, and of charity towards the neighbor, 3419(3); those doctrinals at this day have been obliterated by the modern Babylonians and Philistines, 3419(3)–3420; the Word is not understood without a knowledge of those doctrinals, 3419(4)–20; there is only one doctrine, viz. of charity towards the neighbor, and of love to the Lord, 3445; although doctrinals are various, still the church is one, if all have charity, 3451–2; in all doctrinals, which are from the literal sense of the Word, there are interior truths, 3464(2); doctrinals are appropriated only by enjoyments and pleasures, 3502; the learned at this day love to wander only in outer surface, and to dispute whether a thing be so, 3677(2); doctrinals of love and charity are conjoined with good in the natural man when it is a pleasure and enjoyment to know them for the sake of doing them, 3709; the Lord is the Word, or Divine doctrine, in a threefold sense, the supreme, the internal, and the literal, 3712(2); the learned know less than the simple; in what ignorance they are concerning good and truth, concerning heaven, and several other things, from experience, 3747–50; knowledges are the means of becoming wise, and the means of becoming insane; hence the learned in the other life are more stupid than the simple, 4156; from a false principle flow falsities, 4717, 4721(2); particulars of doctrine are confirming additions and explicatory, 4720(2); to establish the church the doctrinals of good and truth must be collected into one for it is built on these, if this is not done there will be a defect which man's rational will supply, how blind this is, 3786(2); doctrine is as it were the embodiment of truth, truth is in doctrine as the soul is in the body, 4642; the ancients had doctrinals of charity, which led to life; how much they prevailed over doctrinals of faith, 4844(4); their knowledges interior and exterior consisted in knowing what external things signified, 4844(4); the doctrinals of the Ancient Church were doctrinals of charity, 4955; those doctrinals at this day are lost, and why, 4955; outward knowledges in the Ancient Church were subservient to their doctrinals, 4964–6; the Lord is doctrine itself, everything of doctrine proceeds from Him, and everything treats of Him, the doctrine proceeds from the Divine Human, the Word is doctrine, 5321(1, 2); the truths of the church are procured by doctrinals, and by the Word; if only by doctrinals, then man believes those who have collected confirmations, but if by the Word, then they are appropriated to himself from the Divine, 5402 (2); they who are in the affection of truth for the sake of truth, and for the sake of life, do not remain in doctrinals, but search the Word, and see whether they be truths, 5432(5); the doctrinals of knowledges are those which are derived from the literal sense of the Word, 5945; he who is arrived at spir. good has no need of doctrinals from others, 5997; the Word ought to be searched to know whether doctrinals be true, 6047(2); see Faith; all things have reference to general things thus to doctrinals, 6146; the doctrine of charity treated in series in prefaces to chapters of Exodus; doctrines are from the Word, knowledges (cognitiones) are from those doctrines on one part, and from outward knowledges (scientifica) on the other, but outward knowledge is of experience by one's self or others, 6386; Moses rep. truth proceeding immediately from the Lord, truth mediately proceeding or doctrine rep. by Aaron, 6980–7010; all doctrine is of truth, 7053; they who read the Word from heavenly love are enlightened, and thence make to themselves doctriue; but they who read from infernal love, are not enlightened, but are thereby more blinded, 9382(2); they who are in the external sense of the Word, and not in the internal, make to themselves no doctrine from the Word, 9409; all doctrine from the Word ought to lead to the understanding of the Word, 9409(3); with those who are in the sense of the letter without doctrine, truth is not in any power, 9410; doctrine ought to be derived from the Word by those who are in enlightenment from the Lord, 9424(2); the Word by genuine doctrine is sustained, 9424(2); idols in the Word sig. doctrines from the external sense of the Word, without the internal, 9424; genuine doctrine from the Word is the internal sense, 9430(2); the external sense of the Word, without genuine doctrine, is obscure like a cloud, 9430; distinction between those who teach and learn from the literal sense, and those who teach and learn from doctrine; the latter understand interior things, the former only exterior, 9025(3); doctrine from the Word ought to be fashioned by those who are in enlightenment from the Lord, to the intent that the Word may be understood; who are in enlightenment, 10105; the Word in the letter is apprehended by doctrine derived from the Word by one enlightened, 10324; doctrine from the Word is a lamp, the internal sense of the Word teaches it, 10400(3); unless man knows the Word and doctrine therefrom he can in no wise be regenerated, 10367(3); doctrinal tenets are of man when he regards his own glory and gain as an end, they are then sig. by idols, 10406(2); the sense of the letter of the Word without doctrine leads into errors, 10431; they who are in things external without an internal, and the merely sensual, read the Word without doctrine, and believe only the sense of the letter, hence come falsities, for they have a material idea concerning truth, 10582; there must be doctrine from the Word, to the intent that it may be understood, 10582 (3); where the church is, there must be doctrine from the Word, doctrine of life, of charity and faith together, not of faith alone, 10763–4; priests must teach the way to heaven according to the doctrine of their church, and lead thereby to the good of life, 10794. Euphrates, sig. knowledge which is the ultimate or boundary, 118, 120, 1585 (3); to him who would be wise from the world, his river Euphrates is his entire knowing faculty which is condemned, 130; the river of Egypt sig. the extension of things spiritual; the river Euphrates, the extension of things celestial, 1866; Euphrates is the boundary of the land of Canaan, the last and the first; it sig. conjunction of good, 4116–7, 4454. 9828(4); the good of the rational, 9341; the significance varies according to the position from which it is viewed, 9341(3); it also sig. pleasure arising from the loves of self and the world, and the falsity confirming it by reasonings from the fallacies of the senses, 9341(4); also truths falsified and goods adulterated through reasonings from fallacies and knowledges therefrom which favor love of self and the world, 9341(7).

Europe, is where the Christian Church is now, 567, 9011(7), 9407(7); its worship will end with Jewish, 10497.

Eustachian Tube. In Mars and in Most Ancient Church this tube served as a means of carrying tacit speech to the inner ear, 1118, 7359–61, 10587.

Evangelization. See Gospel.

Eve the mother of every one that liveth, so named from the life of faith in the Lord, 281, 290; sig. the church, 287, 289; Eve named from life, 291, 476.

Evening. Evening sig. a state of shade, of falsity, of no faith; and morning a state of light, truth, and knowledge of faith, 22, 883, 1837, 2335; the spir. man whilst he is becoming cel. is the sixth day and evening of the sabbath, 86; evening sig. the dawn before the morning, 883; a state of a church ceasing to be a church, which is followed by its being no church; also a state of a church at its birth; but, in this case evening sig. twilight before morning, 2323, 5156; day commenced from evening, 860, 5156, 5270(2); evening in general sig. visitation, both of the faithful and unfaithful, 2323; an obscure state, 3056, 3197, 3603, 3833, 3949, 8750 (2), 9787; also those things which are beneath, 3197; the state when there is spir. hunger, 5579; in the heavens there is morning, mid-day, evening, and twilight, evening is a state of non-perception in which they are not affected with good, 5962(4), 5964; in heaven there is evening and twilight, but not night, which is in hell, 6110(6); evening in hell is anxiety, 6110(6); between the evenings sig. the end of a former state, and the beginning of another; as well for those who are saved, as for those who are damned, 7844; evening, the end of a former church, or its vastation, and the beginning of a new church, 7844(3); evening and morning, the coming of the Lord, 7844(4); evening sig. obscurity as to truths, the enjoyment of natural loves, also the end of a former state, 8426(2); in the time of evening, in heaven, the spir. is in obscurity, and the natural in clearness, and contrariwise when it is morning, 8431; in a state of evening in the other life, they are remitted into natural enjoyment, 8452; evening sig. a state of light and of love in the external man, and morning in the internal; illustrated by the state of angels, and by reasons, and shown, 10134–5; when morning involves mid-day, evening involves twilight, 10135(4); between the evenings sig. evening and twilight, 10135 (5); evening and night sig. the last time of the church, 10135(6); evening in heaven is a state when they are in the enjoyment of doing good in a large way, the state described, 8487(4).

Evil. See Sin. Before regeneration it appears as good, falsity, as truth, 21, 39, there is no life in them, 30(2); evil deeds called works of the night, 38; the Lord fights for man against evils and falsities, 63; the origin of evil is from the desire to search into the mysteries of faith from the senses and outward knowledge, 126–130, 190–3, 194–313; evil is from the proprium, 152–4, 164; see Proprium. The evil of all the churches is that they do not believe in the Lord or the Word, but in themselves and the senses, 231; how evil comes into man, 233; evil is from the will, 585. Evil punishes itself from the law of equilibrium, 696–7; evils and falsities remain with man notwithstanding his being regenerated. 865, 868, 874, 887. 894; man is strongly withheld from evil, 929; he is punished on account of actual evils, not hereditary, 966; man is nothing but evil; of himself he cannot have dominion over evil, 987; he who is without charity thinks nothing but evil of his neighbor, and observes evil, 1079–80, 1088; evil is not separated from man and angel, but they are withheld from evil, 1581; evil spirits cannot excite anything of evil and falsity with infants and the simple in heart, 1667(3); evils from falsities and falsities from evils, 1679, references, 10109, 10624; they who think evil of others, are amongst the infernal; but they who think good, are amongst the celestial 1680(2); it is not allowable for evil spirits to speak falsities, except from the evil which is their life, 1695; the Lord had no power from evil spirits, but only from good, 1749; evil has with it consummation, 1857; in evil is its punishment, 1857 (2); evil ascribed to God, 1902(8); all evils remain with man after death; but in one way with those who live in them; and in another way with those who are in charity, 2116; how great evils are at this day, is evident in the other life from those who come from the Christian world, 2121 -2; see JUDGMENT; at this day good and truth are turned in an instant into evils and falsities, in the world of spirits, 2123; evils are separated from good, with those who are elevated into heaven; and good from evil, with those who bring themselves into hell, 2256(2); goods and evils are separated with man, for if they should be mixed together man would perish, 2269(3); unbelief of those in a life of evil, 2343(6-8); they may have a knowledge, but not an acknowledgment and life of faith, lest they profane, 2357(2), 2401(2); infants are nothing but evil, 2307-8; at the end of a church men are more strongly withheld from evil by a mighty force from the Lord, 2406; what, and of what quality, is the evil of falsity, 2408, 1212; good and truth from the Lord flow in so far as evils and falsities are removed 2388(2), 2411; he who thinks evil at length speaks it and does it, 4126; if good and truth form the rational and the natural, then man becomes an image of heaven, but if those are formed by evil and falsity he then becomes an image of hell, 3513(2), evil hinders Divine influx, 4078; evil is not appropriated to man, if he believe that evil flows in from hell, and good from the Lord, and if he suffer himself to be led of the Lord, 4151(6); the evils appertaining to man are those which are by his own fault, which he has confirmed with himself; the evils not by his own fault, are those which are brought in by others, and which he has not confirmed, 4171, 4172 evil with man has many origins, the first origin is from inheritance the second from what is actual, actual evil comes either with his fault or without his fault, explained, 4171-2: the evil of merit, 4174; all evil remains with man although he be regenerated 4564(2); in the other life, all and single things of the life of every one are laid open, 4633, the real quality of falsity and evil is seen only from the light of heaven, 4674(2); evil from falsity of evil is from false doctrinals; this evil closes the way to the internal man, 4818; the kinds of evils are innumerable, and appear before the angels, 4818(6); evil is contrary to Divine order, 4839(2); evil flows forth from the intention or end regarded, 4839; evil is disjunction; it is known what evil is, if there be any study what the love of self and of the world is, 4907(2); evils are those things which conceal the Lord, 5696; evil sig. aversion from good; thus the returning of evil for good, 5746; evil is attributed to the Lord, when yet it is from man himself, 2447, 6991, 6997; see ANGER. It is a fallacy to suppose that the Lord is angry and does evil, when it is man who does it; the truths which teach this are in general explained 6071(2); man casts himself into hell, when he does evils from consent, next from purpose, next from enjoyment of affection; hence he opens hell to himself, 6203; evil hence obstinately inheres 6203; evil, which enters into the thought, is not hurtful, but what passes into the will, and into act, 6204; the reason why evil is appropriated to man, is, because he believes that he thinks and acts from himself; if he believed otherwise, it would not be imputed, 6206; evil is hell, 6279; evil sig. error, 6288, 6290; although all things flow in, nevertheless man becomes guilty, because he appropriates evil to himself, by believing that he does it from himself, 6324; if he believed otherwise evil could not be appropriated to him, 6325; in evil there is punishment, 6550; the interiors are defiled with evils, howsoever they appear otherwise in externals, 7046; evil is damnation, 7155; to do evil sig. to hurt by injected falsities, 7165, 7168; no one knows what evil is, unless he know what the love of self and the world is; falsity is known from evil 7178; it is not known what hell is, unless it be known what evil is, 7181; what evil of falsity is, from examples, 7272; evils favor falsities, 7437 (2); evil is attributed to Jehovah, in the sense of the letter, when yet it has its birth from man, 7533 7632; evils and falsities are of many genera and species, 7574; they are in falsities who are in evils of life whether they know it or not, 7577 (2); falsities are nothing else than evils reasoning and supporting themselves, 7577(3); evil is from man, because man turns the good which flows in from the Lord to himself; instead of looking at the Lord and the things which are of the Lord, in all things he looks at himself, 7643, 7679, 7710; the evil devastate themselves when heaven flows in, which the Lord is continually arranging in order; evils and punishments are conjoined, 7643(3); the ancients attributed evil to Jehovah, on account of the simple, 7632; the Divine does not vastate anyone, it is one's evil which vastates, 7796; the Lord vastates no one, still less condemns and casts into hell, 7877(4); from the Lord

there is nothing but good; all evil is from those who are in evil, 7026(2). Evil of life has in it falsity which manifests itself when the thought is employed about truths and salvation; if there be truth, it is then falsified, 8094; the Lord appears to every one according to the quality of the man; as terrible darkness to the evil, and as light to the good, 1861(15), 6832, 8197(2); man is kept in good and truth; then evils and falsities are removed, because the Lord is present in good and truth, 8206; evil has its punishment, and good its recompense in the other life, there is a law of retaliation, 8214, 8223(2), 8226(2); the evil of punishment, or of retaliation, is not from the good, but from the evil, 8223(3); nothing of evil proceeds from the Divine, but from themselves, 8227(2)–8; from the Lord's presence alone those who are in falsities from evil are cast into hell, 8265; evils are heavy, and sink down into hell; falsity is not from itself, but from evil, 8279, 8298; when the evil do evil to each other, it appears as if it were from the Divine; this is a fallacy, 8282; man is free to abstain from evil, because he is kept in good by the Lord, and perpetually in the tendency to abstain from evil, 8307; the origins of evil, are the loves of self and of the world, 8318(2); anger is attributed to the Lord, when yet it appertains to man, 8483; the Lord turns evil into good, proved from the representations of the spirits of Jupiter, 8631; from the Lord there is nothing of evil, 8632; in the other life all are remitted to their interiors, therefore into their evils, 8870(3); evils from the understanding, and not from the will are milder than those from the understanding and will together, 9009; why the simple of old attributed evil to God, 9010; good is to be conjoined with its reward, and evil with its punishment, illustrated by the law of order, 9038; why evil ought not to be resisted, 9038(6); the internal man, with those who are in evil, and falsity thence derived, is closed above, and open beneath, 9128(3); hence it is evident, that evils and falsities are not from the Lord, 9128 (3); the evil which man does consciously proceeds from both the will and the understanding and he is guilty of it, 9132–3; evils in the Word are called sins, iniquities, and trespasses or transgressions, transgressions are things done contrary to the truths of faith, iniquities are the things done contrary to the goods of faith, and sins those done contrary to the goods of charity and love, 9156; evils and falsities are not wiped away from man, but are only removed by repentance, 9333–8; the Lord flows in and is received only as evils are removed by man, 9378(2); anger and evil are from man, and not from the Lord, although they are attributed to the Lord. See references, 9204, 9306(4); evils remain with man, but they are removed, references, 10057(6); man must be purified from evils, that he may receive good from the Lord, 10109; evils and falsities have no power at all, 10481 (2); so far as falsities from evil are removed, so far truths from good are multiplied, 10675.

Hereditary evil, is from parents, 2910 (4), 3469(4), 3710, 3903, 4265(2), 4317 (4), 8550, 8876, 10318, 10367(3); no one punished for, 966, references, 9069(2); broken by regeneration, 8550–1; from father interior, from mother exterior, 4317(4–5); hereditary evil and actual evil, 4564(2), 4586(2); how removed or expelled, 4563, 5353; it is sig. by a nurse, 4563; not exterminated but only separated, 4564(2); hereditary evil with the Lord from mother not from father, in external man not in internal, 1444, 1573, 1921, 3031; this He expelled, 1477, 4564 (4); with Him there was no actual evil, 3036.

Origin of evil, from the desire to search into the mysteries of faith from the senses, and from outward knowledges, 126–130, 100–103, 104–313; evil is from the proprium, or the love of self and love of the world, 152–4, 164, 6850, 7178, 7255, 7376, 8318(2), 10038(2); see PROPRIUM, LOVE OF SELF AND WORLD; evil also from doctrine, and from life, 4745; evil not from the Lord but sometimes ascribed to Him, 6907(2), 7643, 8227(2), 8365, 10781; evil from falsities, 8308(2), 8902(4, 5), references, 9327; evil of life, 9310. See WORKS.

Remission of evil, the Lord removes hell as man desists from evil, 9014(2), 9937(3); not removed instantly, 9333, 9336–7; signs of remission of evil, 9449–50; remission of evil sig. by the mercy-seat, 9506; purification from evil and falsity rep. by sacrifices, 9900, 10022, 10057(6), 10100, 10122, 10211; propitiation on the altar sig. purification from evils and falsities, 10127, 10208, 10211, 10218, 10228–9; removal of evils by truths, 10232. See REPENTANCE.

EVIL SPIRIT. See SPIRIT.

EXALTING. He has exalted sig. He has manifested His Divine in His Human, 8264.

EXCITE. Evil spirits excite man's evils and falsities, 653, 741, 904, 987(3), 1088; but angels excite only his goods and truths, 1088, 6647(2); thence arises a combat which is temptation, 5280(3), 8150.

EXCREMENT. Concerning the excrementitious hell, 943, see HELL; some delight to dwell in dunghills, 954; adulterers love filth and excrement, 2755; they who have lived in delicate life with cunning, are in things excrementitious, 4948; those who are tenacious of revenge correspond to unclean excretions, 5390; the cruel and adulterers are in excrementitious hells, 5394; the voluptuous, and they who had regarded mere pleasure as an end of life, are under the buttocks, and live in filth, 5395; in the hells there is a great stench, 7161(4); see STENCH; dung (fimas), dung (stercus), and excrement sig. what is infernal, 10037.

EXECRATE, To, sig. to blaspheme, they who in heart deny the Word or doctrine therefrom blaspheme, 9222.

EXISTENCE. EXISTERE. See ESSE. The difference between being (esse) and existing (existere), 2621, 3938(2, 3), 6880; everything exists, or subsists from another, or by another, thus from the first, 3627–8, 4523(3)–4, 6040, 6056; esse is of the will and existere of the understanding thence derived, 9282; see WILL; subsistence is perpetual existence; thus preservation and all production in each world, the spir. and the natural, is perpetual creation, 3648; what existing (existere) is in respect to being (esse), 2621, 3061, 3938, 4087(2), 5002, 9282, 6880, 8939, 9282, 10579.

EXODUS treats of the liberation of those in the lower earth and their elevation into heaven by the Lord, when He came into the world and glorified His Human, 7932½.

EXPANSE. See TO EXTEND, or STRETCH OUT, and CURTAINS. The internal man is an expanse; hence mention is made of spreading forth the earth and stretching out the heavens, 24, 25, 30; to expand or stretch out sig. to make or create from Divine power, 7673, 8043(3); to expand the heavens and the earth, is like expanding the curtains of the tabernacle, 9596(5).

EXPEL, To. See DRIVE OUT, sig. removal, 9333.

EXPIATION sig. same as purification, 9000(3), 10208–11, 10218–32; the expiation of one thrust through, 8902(16), 9262(3–7); expiations were laid upon those who did evil not purposely or with guile, by which were sig. liberation from damnation, or amendment of spir. life by actual repentance, 9076–8, 9937(11); the expiation of Aaron when he went into the Holy of Holies sig. the glorification of the Lord's Human even to the Divine good which is Jehovah, 9670(5); see REDEMPTION, PROPITIATION; it sig. hearing and reception of worship, 10500.

EXPLORATION whether truth be conjoined to good, 3080, 3110–1, 3116.

EXPLORE, To. To explore the mysteries of faith by outward knowledge is as impossible as for a camel to go through a needle's eye, 233, 1085, 1151(5); or by mere reasonings, 1195; visitation is an exploration as to quality, 2242, 2323(3), 7273; see VISITATION; exploration of truth to be initiated and conjoined to good, 3109–16; one should explore in himself the ends and enjoyment, and his various states, 3796(3); those in the province of the kidneys love to explore the quality of others, 5381–5; explore their ideas of the Trinity, 10736.

EXTEND. They who deny that spirit is extended, 444–6; the extension of affections and thoughts into societies in the other world; into heaven according to good, 5477(2), 6598–6621; the extension is according to the quality and extent of good, 8063, 8794.

EXTERIOR, EXTERIOR MAN, see EXTERNAL, NATURAL.

EXTERMINATE. The things of the merely human rational should be exterminated, 2657; the first rational was exterminated when the Divine rational succeeded, 2657; hereditary evil with man not exterminated but separated, 4564(2); but it was exterminated with the Lord, 4564(4); to eat up sig. to exterminate, 5206; truths exterminated by falsities, 5207–8, 5217.

EXTERNAL. See also INTERNAL, CHURCH, and WORSHIP. The external man is the body, 3; the internal and external man, 978; the internal man, the interior and external, 1015; there are three faculties which constitute the external man, the rational, learning, and the sensual, 1589(2); the rational or interior man is intermediate between the internal and external, 1702(2), 1707, 1732; the external is beautiful when united with internal, deformed when disunited, 1598; what the external man is, 1718; enjoyment becomes more vile in proportion as it is more external, 996; interior things produce exterior, 904(3); of what quality internal and external worship is, 1083; the quality of the man of the internal church, and of the external, 1900; there is an internal in the worship of those who are of the external church, if they be in charity, 1100–51, 1153(2); external worship without internal, is no worship, 1094; what it is to make internal worship external, 1175; the external worship of those who do not believe in eternal life, 1200; external worship is the more profane, in proportion as the interiors are more profane, 1182; in the external man, are given things which agree, and which disagree with the internal, 1563(2), 1568 (2); what separates the external from the internal, 1587; there ought to be external worship, 1618; the external church is nothing without the internal, 1795; the external man was united to the internal with the Lord alone, 1577; the beauty of the external man conjoined to the internal, 1590; the baseness of the external man disjoined, or separated from the internal, 1593; the love of self disjoins the external man from the internal; mutual love conjoins, 1594; what it is to see internal things from external, 1806–7; with every one there is an internal man, a rational man which is middle, and an external man, 1889, 1940(2); there is an influx from the Lord through the internal man, into the rational, and thereby into the knowledges of the external man, 1940(2); what it is for man to separate himself from the internal, which is of the Lord, 1999(4), 2018; what is interior can perceive what is in the exterior, not vice versa, 1914(2), 1953; from an exterior to an interior, is the same thing as from a lower to a higher, 3084; washings sig. purifications of the external or natural man, 3147; the spir. or internal is wise from the light of heaven, the natural or external from the light of the world, 3167; the distinction according to degrees; the interior in respect to the exterior, 3691; they who are in external truths alone are weak as to the understanding; they who are in internal truths are firm, 3820; external things are farther from the Divine than internal; wherefore they are relatively without order, 3855; in every heaven, there are those who are internal, and those who are external, 4286(2); the inhabitants of this earth are external-sensual; concerning their combat with the internal-sensual, from experience, 4330; what it is to be in externals, and what in internals, shown by examples, 4459(3); man ought to be in internals, because if he does not come into them in this world he cannot come into heaven, 4464; they who are in externals have no concern about internals, 4464(4); exterior things cannot flow in into interior, but vice versa, 5119; the internal can see all things which are in the external, but not contrariwise, unless there be correspondence and a medium, 5427–8, 5477(2); man at this day is in the external, or body, shown by examples, 5649; the external man ought to be altogether subject to the internal, and to be without freedom from the proprium, 5786(2); the internal man and the external are altogether distinct; the internal lives, when separated from the external, 5883; exterior things ought to serve interior; they were formed for this purpose, 5947; the external lives from the internal; the internal puts on things in the external to enable it to produce effect, 6275, 6284, 6299(2); interior things exist in exterior, in this order, what is inmost is in the midst, 6451(2); exterior things are respectively obscure, because common or general, 6451(3); one thing is formed from another successively, and not continuously; things interior and exterior are distinct from each other, succeed in order, and interior things are in exterior, 6465; the external does not flow in into the internal, but the internal into the external, 6322; the internal flows in with those who account the Word holy, and holily celebrate the Holy Supper, 6789(2); good is in the interiors, truth in the exteriors, 7910; interior things close and rest in exterior, 9216; there is no conjunction of the Lord with what is external without what is internal, 9380; the internal and external man, 9701–9; see INTERNAL; when the Lord is in the outmost, He is at the same time in all things, and governs them at pleasure, 9824(4); ultimate things keep together prior or interior things in connection, 9828; in the ultimates of good and truth there is strength and power, 9836(3); the external is more holy than the internal, 9824(5); answers or revelations are given in ultimates, 9905(4); external things in the heavens and with man correspond to truths, 9950(2); first and also last, sig. all things; thus the whole, 10044, 10329(4), 10335; hair and the beard because the outmost sig. the whole; so likewise the feet, 10044(3); the internal man is in the light of heaven, and the external in a shade as to things spir., 10134; the merely natural man is in hell, unless he become spir. by regeneration, 10156. See NATURAL, HELL, and REGENERATION. The external man is an image of the world, but the internal an image of heaven, 10156(4); to imitate Divine things by study and art, is external, illustrated by fantastic imitation amongst spirits, who do so in externals; when yet in internals are things filthy and diabolical, 10284, 10286; the internal of man is for heaven, but the external is for the world, 10306(2); they, whose interiors are closed by earthly loves, do not acknowledge any internal, and believe nothing; why, 10396(3), 10400(2), 10411; they worship themselves instead of God, who love themselves above all things, 10307(2), 10412(2); they who are in externals without an internal, look downwards and outwards to their own loves, 10420(2); they do not receive influx from the Divine, 10429; what it is to be in externals without an internal, the quality of those with whom the internal man is closed; and with whom the internal man is open, 10429, 10472; the internal is a lord, and the external a servant, 10471; the internal is heaven, and the external the world, references, 10483; the external separated from the internal is hell, 10489; all in hell are in externals separate from the internal, 10483; the internal is closed by evils and falsities, 10492(2); why it was closed with the Jews, it is also closed with

Christians; with what Christians; it is closed with more of the intelligent than the simple, three reasons, 10402; all instruction concerning the goods and truths of the church, and of worship, is effected by the external of the Word, but by those who are enlightened, 10548(2); they who are in externals without an internal, have the truth of faith in obscurity, and are in the falsities of faith from a material and earthly idea; they believe the Word according to the letter, and without doctrine, 10582; what it is to be in externals separate from the internal, 10602; those who are in the internal of the church, of worship, and of the Word; and who are in an external in which is an internal; those who are in externals without an internal, references, 10683; the internal and external man, or the spirit and body explained, 10501–7; by externals which rep. internals there was effected communication with heaven, references, 10698–10707; there is no church with those in an external without an internal, 10698; then there is communication with hell, 10698. See INTERNAL.

EXTINGUISH. See DIE.

EXTIRPATE. The Lord extirpated the inheritance from the mother, 1745(2); so that He was no longer the Son of Mary, 6872(4); the Jews extirpated with themselves the truths of doctrine with the ancients, 4500, 4502, 5044(7); when man is regenerated the hereditary evil enrooted from his nearest ancestors is extirpated, 4317(4).

FAINT sig. a state of combat, 3318–21.

FAITH. See LOVE, CHARITY, CHURCH, WORSHIP, KNOWLEDGE, DOCTRINE. Faith is scientific, intellectual, and saving, 30(2); faith is obedience to doctrine, 36, faith separate from charity, its nature, 337–411; it is one thing to know, another to acknowledge, another to have faith, 654, 896; they who make faith the essential of salvation, do not even see or attend to those things which the Lord so often spake concerning love and charity, 1017; they who separate faith from charity, cannot have conscience, 1076–7, see CONSCIENCE; faith separate from charity is no faith, 1162 1176, charity constitutes the church, not faith separate, or what is of doctrine 809 916(2). 1798–9 1834(2), 1844; in the last times there is no faith, and no charity, 1843; there is no faith except what is from love and charity, 724; faith is by love from the Lord, 30(2), 31–38; faith is not except where there is charity, 654; faith without it charity does not make a church 916(2); the heavenly kingdom is for those who have faith from charity, 1608(2); faith is all the doctrinal teaching of the church when this is from charity it is the internal of the church, 1798(2); illustrated by precepts of Decalogue, 1798(3)–9(3); charity saves, not faith without charity 379, 389; in heaven all are regarded from charity, and faith thence 1258; in the other life it is perceived what is the quality of every one's love, and what the quality of every one's faith, 1388, 1394; the odors of charity and faith are grateful, 1519; the fruit of faith is good work: in this is charity; in this, love to the Lord; in this, the Lord, 1873; charity is by faith, 393–4; charity is the brother of faith, 367; charity ought to have rule over faith, not contrariwise, 363–4; the interiors of those who are not in true faith are not opened so as to acknowledge and believe, 301–3; the cel. angels do not name faith and the things of faith, but say that it is so, or not so, 202; the spir. angels discourse about faith, by confirming goods and truths, 203; faith is the lesser luminary, 31, 32; see MOON; faith is compared to night, 709; the vastation of faith; see VASTATION, JUDGMENT; controversy concerning primogeniture, whether it be of faith or of charity, 2435; faith without charity is no faith, 2417(4); the knowledge of the doctrinals of faith is of no account if men have not charity; for such knowledge has respect to charity as an end, 2049(3), 2116; there is no salvation by faith, but by the life of faith, which is charity, 2228(2); they are saved who are in faith, if there be good in the faith, 2442; faith, which is not according to the life, perishes, 2228(2); the truths of faith do not save, but the goods which are in the truth, 2261(2); the acknowledgment of truth cannot be given, thus neither faith, unless men be in good, 2261(2); faith is never given but in its life, which is love and charity, 2343(3), 2349(2); no one can be admitted into heaven by thinking only; neither does he suffer himself to be instructed, because the life of evil opposes, and is not receptive, 2401(2); if faith of the thought were saving, all would be saved and introduced into heaven; but this is impossible, because the life opposes, 2363(4); with those, who establish as a principle that faith alone is saving, truths themselves are contaminated by false principles, 2385(3); they do not suffer themselves to be persuaded, because it is against their principle, 2385(2); they who are in the good of charity, receive the truths of faith in another life; the holy of worship is according to the quality and quantity of the truth of faith implanted in charity 2100; faith separate from charity, is as the light of winter; faith from charity, as the light of spring. 2231(3); reason why men have separated faith from charity, and have called faith saving, 2231(3); all regeneration is effected by the truths of faith, 2046; they are implanted in charity while man is regenerating, 2180(2); man is not regenerated by truth, but by the good of truth, 2697, there are spir. things of faith, rational things of faith, and knowledges of faith, 2504(2); persuasion of truth is not genuine truth without a life of good, 2682(2), 2689(4), 3424(4); see PERSUASION; charity is not genuine unless there be faith, neither is faith genuine unless there be charity, 2830; man ought to do good, and to think truth from himself, that he may receive a heavenly proprium and freedom but still must know that it comes from the Lord, 2882–3, 2891; see PROPRIUM and FREEDOM. Out of several there is one church, when charity is the essential, not when faith, 2982; confidence, which is called saving faith, cannot be given except in good of life, 2982(2); conjunction of the truth of faith with good in the rational, is wrought by affection, 3024; fruits of faith are fruits of good, which is of love and charity, 3146; as light without heat produces nothing, so the truth of faith produces nothing without the good of love, 3146; they who make faith the essential, which it is easy to do, and still are in good of life, are in the Lord's spir. kingdom, 3242; there is no church, unless the truths of doctrinals be implanted in good of life, 3310; from various reasonings it appears as if faith were prior to charity; also, truth to good; but these reasonings are fallacies, 3324; many passages collated concerning faith and charity, and concerning truth and good, 3324; they who separate faith from charity, cast themselves into falsities and evils; this was rep. by Cain and Abel, by Ham and Canaan, by Reuben, and by the Egyptians, in that their first-born were slain, 3325(3); the spir. separate the Divine from the rational, insomuch, that they are willing that the things of faith should be simply believed without any rational intuition, 3394(3); truth cannot be interiorly received when there is unbelief; unbelief, as it were, limits and drives away truth, 3399(2); they who are in faith alone, appear in light, but in the light of winter, which is turned into darkness; thus the mind into stupor when they approach towards heaven, 3412(3), 3413; those in faith alone called Philistines cannot endure the presence of good, or of the Divine, 3415; they who are not in charity, but only in the memory of the knowledges of faith, cannot in anywise see in the Word the interior things which relate to love and charity, 3416; they deny the internal sense, because they make faith the essential of the church, and call good the fruit of faith; when yet love to the Lord is the tree of life, charity and good works are the fruits thence; and faith and the things of faith, the leaves, 3427(3), they who make faith the essential, not charity, may be in the good of truth; but they are not so in heaven, or conjoined to the Lord, as those in the good of charity, 3450(2); they who do good from faith, and not from charity, are more remote from the Lord, 3463(2); the Word is unclosed when love to the Lord and charity towards the neighbor is the essential, but it is closed when faith is, 3773; the truths of faith are nothing without the affection of good, 3849; faith in the understanding and faith in the will, sig. by Reuben and Simeon, 3863(3); they have not faith who live evilly; but some have an external profession the quality of which is described, 3865(2, 3); faith is the external of charity, and charity the internal of faith, 3868; faith without charity is something defiled, 3870; faith is the truth of doctrine, such as there is in the confession called the apostles' creed; few know what confidence cannot be given, except in the life of charity, 3868; those who depend on the faith of others, 4047; the evil can receive the truths which are of faith, but only externally, 4180(2); to know is not to believe, 4319; confidence of faith, true and false, 4352(2, 3); see CONFIDENCE; the truths of faith cannot be accepted, or conjoined to good, except with those who are in the good of charity and of love, 4368; the light of those who are in persuasive faith, and yet have led a life of evil, 4416; the Most Ancient Church was not willing to hear of faith, 4448; the correspondence of the sight of the eye, and of light, with the truths of faith, 4523–4534; not faith, but the life of faith, or the fruit of faith, is saving, 4663(2); the church commencing from faith has no other regulator except the understanding, but that which commences from good, has charity and the Lord, 4672(2); when faith is primary in the heart, the Divine truth is rejected to lower things, 4673; the church turns aside, in process of time, from charity to faith, and at length to faith alone, 4683; in which case they adjoin the fruits of faith, and say that faith is confidence, when yet no confidence can be given in evil, 4683(2), 4689; they who are in faith separate from charity do not at all adore the Lord's Divine Human, 4689(2); truth in the Ancient Church is the same as faith in the Christian 4690; certain false doctrinals from faith alone, 4721(2); the life of faith is what saves, 4721(3); the reason why men have lapsed into the falsity, that faith alone is saving, in what manner they confirm themselves, 4730(2); the church ceases to be a church when there is no longer any faith in the Lord, 4731(2); the simple know and acknowledge what charity is, not what faith separate is, 4741, 4754; there is no church where charity is not acknowledged for an essential of the church, 4766(4); they who are in faith alone cannot know what heaven is, and several things besides, 4766; they who are in faith alone give a wrong interpretation of the Word, examples given, 4783; some who receive the truths of faith but live evilly, in the other life they abuse the truths of faith to gain dominion, their quality, 4802; good has the primogeniture actually and truth apparently, 4925–30; see PRIMOGENITURE, REGENERATION, and TRUTH; faith taken for the essential of the church, has many errors in it, 4925(2); faith alone without charity is dead; the error of the church on this subject, 5351(3), the truths of faith appear as if they are procured by man, when yet they are insinuated and given by the Lord, 5664½(4); it is one thing to know, and another to believe the truths of faith; even the worst can know, 5664½(3); the church is not from the truths of faith alone, but from charity, 5826(2); unless the truth of faith become the good of faith by willing and acting it, it is of no use, and is dissipated in the other life, 5820; the internal at this day is rejected to the ultimate, thus to the lowest things, 5886; there must be truths of faith, to the intent that man may be regenerated; they must enter with affection, since, when the truth of faith is reproduced, the affection is also reproduced, and vice versa, 5893(2); in things spir. the beginning is from truths of faith, not from knowledges, if from the latter, man is led into falsities and negatives, 6047(2); the commencement is to be made from the doctrinals of the church, then the Word is to be scrutinized from the affection of knowing truth, otherwise all genuine truth would be from the soil in which it is propagated only, and from its birthplace; afterwards it is allowed to confirm those truths by knowledges, 6047(2); as the spiritual are in obscurity they set faith first, and good second, 6256(2); how much of good there would be in the church, if charity were first and faith second, 6269 (2); how much of evil, if faith be first, and charity second, 6272; from natural light alone it may be seen that good is first and truth apparently; see TRUTH and REGENERATION; unless faith be conjoined to good, it either becomes no faith, or is conjoined to evil, whence comes profanation, 6348; doctrinals concerning faith alone destroy charity, 6353(2); to have faith is to believe spiritual truths, 6970; faith without charity is not faith; its quality is described, 7039(2); heat and light in the natural world correspond to love and faith in the spir. world; they are also of such a quality if they be compared, 7082, 7084; they who are in faith alone, and also in a life of evil, infest the well disposed in another life, sig. by Egyptians, 7097(3); they who have persuaded themselves that faith alone is saving, and yet have lived evilly, infest the well-disposed in another life by the general things of the Word, 7127; such make no account of works, howsoever they may call them the fruits of faith, 7127; their bells, 7127(2); they who have professed faith alone, and have lived a life of evil, in the other life receive falsities, and infest the well-disposed; they are specifically meant by Pharaoh, where Pharaob rep. those wbo infest by falsities, 7317, 7502(2). 7545; the truths of faith cannot be given with the evil, 7342; the difference between the goods and truths of faith, of those in the church who are saved, and of those who are damned, 7506(2)–7; the conjunction of good and truth, or of charity and faith; man's quality when they are conjoined, and when not conjoined, 7623–7; worship from good is true worship; worship from truth without good is only an external act, 7724; all things of the church refer to charity and faith and the conjunction of faith with charity, 7752–62; the confidence wbich is of faith is not confidence, it must be from love; it is not from truth when it is said that man is saved by merit, whatsoever bis life had been, 7762; they are in no faith, who are in evil, 7778; they who are in evil have no faith, but only tbe knowledge of such things as are of faith, 7766, 7778(2); in what manner it is to he understood tbat faith without charity is damned, 7766, 7778(3); truths of faith are falsified in the first place hy saying that faith without charity is saving, even at the last hour of life, 7779(2); they who are in evil, notwithstanding their being in persuasive faith, are still in the falsities of their evil, 7790; no one can be in the truth of faith who is in evil of life, 7950; the difference between living according to the precepts of faith and the precepts of cbarity, 8013(2); what charity and faith are, 8033–7; faith merely natural is sensuous faith, which is faith of miracle and authority; this faitb is not from the Lord, but the truth of innocence, if any be within it, is from the Lord, 8078(3); the affection of good and truth makes faith spiritual, 8078(4); faitb separate from charity, or faith alone, is described hy Cain, by Ham, by Reuben, hy Simeon and Levi, by the Egyptians, by the Philistines, by Tyre, and by Sidon, many references, 8093; faith alone made first from evil of life, 8094; FREE sig. no longer serving the internal man, 9061, 9063. To set free sig. to remit sin, 10622. See FREEDOM.

FREEDOM, FREE WILL. It consists in being led of the Lord, slavery in being under the dominion of diabolical spirits, 892, 905; all reformation is effected by freedom; no man is compelled by the Lord, 1937, 1947; all worship must be from freedom, 1947(4); to force oneself to do good, and to resist evil, is freedom, 1937(2), 1947(2); in such compulsion, and in every temptation in which man conquers there is freedom, thus man is gifted by the Lord with a heavenly proprium, 1937(3), 1947(6); cel. freedom is to act according to conscience, infernal freedom to do evil, 1947(3); man is carried by freedom to opposite delights in both directions in marriage love, 2744; concerning man's freedom, 2870–93; all freedom is of some love and its enjoyment, 2870; infernal freedom is of the love of self and the world, cel. freedom is of love to the Lord and towards the neighbor, thus of the love of good and truth, 2870; the infernal spirits do not know any other freedom than what is of the love of self and the world; if they lose that freedom, they have no more of life than a new-born infant, 2871; they who are in heavenly freedom, desire to communicate their own blessedness and happiness to others; how this is effected, 2872; infernal freedom is as far distant from heavenly, as hell is from heaven, 2873; freedom is the life of every one, 2873; the quality and difference of freedoms, and the distinction of each, 2874; in heavenly freedom is insinuated the good of life, in which is implanted the truth of doctrine, 2875; what is done in freedom is conjoined, but what in compulsion, is not conjoined, 2875; no one can be reformed but by freedom, therefore freedom, so far as appears, is never taken away, 2876, 2881; unless a man has freedom, the affection of good and truth cannot be insinuated into him by the Lord, 2877–8; thus neither regeneration, 2877–8; because the root of good and of truth is in the inmost of man, 2870; nothing appears as man's own, but what is from freedom, therefore that man may receive a heavenly self, he is introduced by freedom, 2880; all worship is from freedom, none from compulsion, 2880; if man could be reformed by compulsion, all would be saved, 2881; man has a stronger freedom in temptation-combats, than out of them, 2881; no one has cel. freedom from himself, but from the Lord, not even man whilst in integrity, 2882; to the intent that man may receive the heavenly self, he ought to think what is true from himself, and to do what is good from himself, but still to know and acknowledge that it is from the Lord; the angels are in such acknowledgment and perception, 2883, 2891; the freedom of the love of self and of the world is altogether slavery, still it is called freedom, 2884; all think and will from others and thus successively, thus all and each from the First of life, the Lord, 2886. Evils and falsities have connection with the hells, truths and goods with the heavens, 2886; man would have no life if spirits and angels were not with him, 2887; the all of life flows in from the Lord, comparatively as from the sun into the objects of the earth, 2888; spirits have no life, until the former life, which is the lust of evil and the persuasion of falsity is extinguished, then first they have life, 2889; evil spirits consider man as a vile slave; angels as a brother; they keep him in freedom, 2890; he who lives in good, and believes that from the Lord is truth, good, and life, is capable of being gifted with heavenly freedom and peace; but he who does not believe is carried into lusts and anxieties, 2892; all evils and falsities are from hell, and all goods and truths from the Lord; this may be known and is known to every one, still it is not believed, 2893; the natural is left in freedom, but not in the same way as the rational, 3043(2); the Lord also left the natural in freedom when He made His Human Divine as to truth, 3043(3); without freedom there is no conjunction of truth with good, thus no regeneration, 3145–6; truth cannot be conjoined with good, and man cannot be regenerated unless in a free state, 3158; everything which is from the will appears free, 3158 (2); all reformation and regeneration is by freedom, it is impossible to be effected by compulsion, 4031; compulsion is hurtful, 4031(3); how man's states are governed in freedom, 4136(2)–7; the external man ought to be without freedom from the proprium, and should be subjected to the internal, 5786; man, by spirits from hell, and by angels from heaven, is placed in equilibrium, thus in freedom, 5982; spirits from hell rule man, as a slave, but the angels gently by freedom, 6205; if man were in a state to believe that all good and truth is from the Lord, and all evil and falsity from hell, he would be gifted with peace and would be in essential freedom, concerning which freedom, 6325; a general sphere of endeavor to do evil from hell, and a sphere of endeavor to do good from heaven encompass man, and hence man has equilibrium and freedom, 6477; the liberation from infestation is effected by degrees, not suddenly, 7183–6; true worship must be in freedom, 7349; there is a sphere of endeavor to do evil from the hells, and a sphere of endeavor to do good from the heavens, between which there is equilibrium, that man may be in freedom, and may be reformed, 8209; it is in man's freedom to desist from evil, because he is kept by the Lord perpetually in that endeavor, 8307; repentance must be effected in a free state; in a compelled state it is of no avail, 8392; a compelled state in some cases, 8392; faith and charity implanted in freedom remain, but not in compulsion, 8700(3); they are servants who act from the obedience of faith, or from truths only, and not from correspondent good, but they are lords and free, who act from the affection of charity, 8987–90; see OBEDIENCE; freedom consists in being led by the Lord, and servitude in being led of hell, 9096(2); the freedom of man, 9585–9591; all freedom is of the will and love, it manifests itself by enjoyment, 9585; servitude consists in being led of hell, and freedom in being led of the Lord, 9586–91; the Lord leads man by freedom, 9587; what is inseminated in freedom remains, and what in compulsion does not remain, 9588; heavenly freedom and infernal freedom, 9589–90; heavenly freedom is from the will to do good, 9591; worship is from freedom, that anything may be appropriated to man, 10097; freedom is of the love, references, 10097, 10416; to set free is to remit sins, 10622; unless man be kept in the freedom even to do evil, good cannot be provided for him by the Lord, 10777.

GOOD (bonum). The quality of good from self and good from the Lord, 39; man of himself can do nothing good, nor think anything that is true, 874–6; see PROPRIUM; all good and truth is from the Lord, 1614; and all wisdom and intelligence, 109, 112, 121, 124; man and angel is not separated from evil, but withheld from evil, and held in good, 789, 1581; the intention of good inserts one among the angels, the intention of evil among the devils, 1680(2); every one as it were from the proprium ought to do good, nor to hang down his hands, 1712(2). Divine truth is order, and Divine good is the essential of order, 1728; the Lord has nothing of power from the evil, but from Himself, because from good and truth, 1749, 1755; they are infernal who think evil of others, cel. who think good, 1680 (2); the Lord is good Itself and truth Itself, 2011; all good and truth is from the Lord, all evil and falsity from man, 2016; good and truth from the Lord so far flow in as evil and falsity are removed, 2411; good cannot flow into truth, so long as man is in evil, 2388(2); good Divine flows into truths of every kind, but it is of the greatest concern that they be genuine truths, 2531; to be judged from good, from truth; the Lord never judges any one, but from good, 2335(2); Divine good elevates all into heaven, but truth condemns all to hell, 2258(2), 2760; the ancients instituted a marriage between the affection of good and the affection of truth, 1904; there is a marriage of good and truth in all things, 2173; good is formed, that is, born and grows up, by means of the truths of faith, 2190; the marriage of good and truth from which marriage love is derived; see MARRIAGE; truth is in a similar ratio and degree with man, as the good with him, 2429(2); they who are in the good of life, receive the truths of faith in the other life; see NATIONS; good and truth increase immensely in the other life with those who are in charity, 1941; the affection of good and the affection of truth, 1997; good with the regenerate has with it much from things worldly which are tempered, 2204; good which is of life is vastated when doctrine is separated from life, 2454(5); innocence makes good to be good, 2526, the difference between the good of infancy, of ignorance, and of intelligence, 2280; rational truth without good is morose; 1940(2), 1950(3), 1951, 1964; the rational when it is from good, is of the quality described, 1950(2); goods and evils with man are altogether separated; if they were commixed he would perish, 2269(3); cel. and spir. good; the former is of love to the Lord, the latter of love towards the neighbor, 2227; an impure good or good of falsity, 2450; the quality of those who are in natural good, and defiled with falsities, they are Moab, and the sons of Ammon, 2463–4, 2468; man ought to compel himself to do good, 1037, 1049(2); use makes knowledge or truth to be good, 3049; cel. freedom is of the affection of good and truth, infernal freedom of the affection of evil and falsity. See FREEDOM. Every one ought to act what is good, and think what is true of himself, that what is true and good may become his own and he may have heavenly freedom, 2882–3, 2891; all good and truth is from the Lord; and so far as man believes that it is from Him, so far he is in His kingdom, 2904(3); spir. good and truth, what is just and equitable, and what is honorable and becoming, succeed each other in order, and upon them conscience is formed, 2915; the first state of those who are regenerating is, that good and truth are from themselves, in which opinion also they are left for the reasons there explained; but when they are regenerated, they then believe that those things are from the Lord; the angels perceive it so, 2946, 2960, 2974; good flows into the rational by an internal way, but truth by an external way, 3030(3); falsity cannot be conjoined with good, nor what is true with evil 3033(2); truth is the form of good, 3040; use makes it to be good; but such as the use is, such is the good, 3040; all beauty in which is innocence is from good, 3080; good flows in by an internal way, truth by an external into the natural, to conjoin themselves in the rational, 3098; good acknowledges its own truth, and truth its own good, and they are conjoined, 3101–2(2); a most exquisite exploration and caution are used to prevent the conjunction of truth with evil, and of falsity with good, 3110(2), 3116; there must be innocence and charity to receive and conjoin truth, 3110(2); truth is initiated into good in the rational according to the quality of instruction, 3141; good from the Lord flows in into truth when those things are removed which are of the love of self and of the world, or the lusts of evil and the persuasions of falsity, 3142, 3147(2); the initiation and conjunction of truth with good; see TRUTH; good makes to itself the truth to which it may be conjoined, because it acknowledges nothing else for truth but what is in agreement, 3161(3); there is nothing in the universe but what has reference to good and truth; whatever is of use, and of life, refers to good; but whatever is of doctrine and knowledge refers to truth, 3166; natural good, and natural truth, 3167; good knows its own truth, and truth its own good, 3179; truth perceives in itself the image of good, and in good the very effigy of itself, 3180; good is not good, neither is it made fruitful, until man is regenerated; because, before this, there is not in good its essential soul, 3186; both the cel. church and the spir. have good and truth, but with a difference, 3240; the good of truth in its first existence is truth, 3295; with good and truth the case is as with offspring, they are conceived, are in the womb, are born, grow up to maturity, 3298, 3308; good and truth are conceived together, but good gives life by truth, and both are called soul, 3299; good is connate with man, not truth, on account of hereditary evil; nevertheless, truth adheres to good with some ability, 3304(2); with good and truth the case is as with offspring; they are conceived, are in the womb, and grow in age to the last, and with the good to eternity, which are states of progress, or of the conjunction of good and truth, 3308; how good of life is formed from doctrinals, 3310(3); the good of the rational flows in into the good of the natural immediately, but mediately into the truth of the natural, this is sig. by Isaac loving Esau, and Rebekah Jacob, 3314, 3573, 3616, 3969(2); he who is not in good feels an irksomeness in thinking of things relating to the glorification of the Lord's Human, 3314(2); good reduces truths into order, 3316(2); by reasonings it appears as if faith were prior to charity, or truth to good, but this is a fallacy, 3324; faith and charity, good and truth are treated of, references, 3324; with a spir. man truth is apparently before and superior to good, 3325, 3330, 3336; see TRUTH; the spir. man, when he is regenerating, proceeds from the doctrine of truth to good of life; but when he is regenerated, vice versa, 3332(2); good of life is of the will, and good of truth is of the understanding, and good of doctrinals is of knowledge, 3332(3); affection always adjoins itself to things which enter the memory, and they are together reproduced, 3336(2); the affection of good is adjoined to truths in act, in the natural appertaining to man, by the Lord; by the affection of good they are reproduced, and thus falsities and evils are removed, 3336(3); good to look upon, sig. that which is pleasing by reason of its form, and thus which is easily received, 3388; good and truth are removed from man towards the interiors, so far as he is in evil and the falsity, 3402(2); to know good and truth is not to have them, but to be affected by them not from the love of self and of the world, 3402(3); natural good is not human natural good, but is given by the Lord, 3408; who are in the good of truth, 3459, 3463; natural good is fourfold in its kind, natural good from the love of good, from the love of truth, from the love of evil, and from the love of falsity; inclinations to those are received by children hereditarily from their parents, 3469(3); natural good is not spir. good, until it is reformed of the Lord by regeneration, 3470(2); natural good is reformed by regeneration, 3470(2); truths not genuine are insinuated into good, and what truths, 3470(2); in such case the man has grief and combat, 3471; truths are as the fibres which form good, but that they are led and applied into form by interior good, 3470(3); good is the elder son, or the first-begotten, illustrated by the state of infants, 3494; man without that good would be a wild beast, 3494; see FIRST-BEGOTTEN and INFANT; the good of infancy is not spir. good, but is made so by the implanation of truth, 3504; natural good is from the order of things in the natural, 3508; if good and truth form the natural rational and the natural, it is an image of heaven; but if evil and falsity, it is an image of hell, 3513; domestic good is what is derived from parents, the interior from the father, the exterior from the mother, 3518; distinction between the good of the natural and natural good, the former is from the Lord, the latter from parents, 3518; natural good from parents, serves first as a medium of introducing truths in order, principally when man is regenerating, 3518(2); natural domestic good with the Lord, after it had served for a medium, was rejected, 3518; there are innumerable genera and species of good and of truth, 3519(2); truth apparently is in the first place when man is regenerating; but good of life is in the first place when he is regenerated, 3530(3), 3548, 3556, 3563, 3570, 3576, 3603; natural good and truth are formed from rational good and truth by influx, 3573, 3616; there are innumerable mediums treated of in the internal sense of the Word, 3573(2); from rational good inmostly exist good and truth in the natural, 3576; good produces truth in the natural, almost as life produces fibres in the body, 3579; goods and truths form as it were one kingdom or one state and this from the form of heaven, and influx thence, 3584; few know what good is, and what truth; it is known only to the regenerate, 3603(2); good is changed into evil and truth into falsity, in the descent from heaven amongst the evil, and contrariwise, 3607; when truth is deprived of self-derived life, it is then conjoined with good, and by good receives essential life, 3607(2); the state when truth is in the prior place, and when in the posterior, 3610; in good there is a continual endeavor to restore the state, that truth may be subordinate, 3610(3); if it were known and perceived what good is, innumerable things would be known, also their conjunctions and proximities, 3612; life is expressed in the plural number, because there are two faculties of life; the will which is of good, and the understanding which is of truth; they form one life when the understanding is of the will and truth is of good, 3623; the good of truth and the truth of good, are inverted in respect to each other, 3669, 3688(2); the case with good and truth is as with seeds and ground, seeds are in the rational, ground in the natural, 3671; man is successively enlightened concerning the qualities of goods and truths as he regenerates, 3688(5); the Lord is Divine good, from Him is Divine truth, like the sun from which is light, 3704, 3712, 4577; good is the first of order, and truth the last of order, 3726(2); truth without good is not truth but is a sound without life, 3728; the natural man can perceive natural, moral, and civil good, but not spir. good, 3768(2); collateral good of a common stock is such as prevails among the gentiles, 3778; the Word is uncovered from good, its interiors seen and acknowledged only from good, 3708; good varies in all and every one by truths; from truths it receives its quality, 3804; all consanguinity in heaven is from good, and thence advances, 3815; truths are conjoined with good when they are learned and acknowledged for the sake of uses of life, 3824; truths are conjoined to man only so far as he is in good; they are not conjoined with the affections of evil, 3834(2); regeneration is effected from truth to good, which is ascent, and afterwards from good to truth, which is descent, 3882; good is not spir. until truth is conjoined to it, it then becomes good, 3951; external goods are enjoyments which are only so far good as they have in them spir. good, 3951; those are not of the church, who are in the affection of truth, and not in good; also who are in the affection of good, from which truth is not derived, 3963(2); good and truth not genuine, serve as means of introducing genuine truth and good, 3974; the truth and good which serve as means for introducing genuine truth and good, are afterwards relinquished, 3665 (2), 3690(2), 3974, 3982–3, 4145; goods with every man are various, but from the varieties one is formed by the Lord, 3986(2, 3); unless doing good is conjoined with willing good, and teaching good with thinking good, there is no good in the man, 3987; goods appertaining to man are mixed with evils, and truths with falsities, which are not contrary to good and truth, illustrated by examples, 3993; goods and truths are in the midst, and evils and falsities in the circumference, 3993(13); in one good there are innumerable truths, 4005(3); during man's regeneration, there is influx from the Lord into the good of the internal man, and by truth into the natural, 4015(2); good as a medium, which serves for introducing genuine goods and truths, 4063; see REGENERATION; it is effected by spir. and angelic societies, concerning which, 4067 (4); good is manifold, and yet appears one; societies of spirits and of angels correspond to it, 4067(2); in what manner good is conjoined to truth, illustrated by the influx of good into the knowledges of truth, 4005–7; not to speak to any one from good to evil, sig. no longer communication, 4126; at this day there are no knowledges concerning goods and truths, wherefore what is said of them cannot easily be comprehended, 4136(3); good becomes various by truths, so that in no case is it altogether alike, 4149(2); goods and truths are in a threefold degree according to so many heavens; and in like manner in the external man, the things which correspond to them, 4154; good of the will consists in doing good from good; but good of the understanding consists in doing good from truth, or from the understanding, 4169; how good comes by evil not of one's own fault, 4172; to believe good to be from self, is to be willing to merit salvation, 4174; see MERIT; good is reproduced by truth, which enters with the affection of good, and vice versa, 4205(2); good is in the first place when man lives according to the truth which he has learned from affection, 4243(2); the genera and species of good are innumerable, yea, endless, 4263; good is respectively a lord, and truth a servant, they are also brethren, 4267; truths ought to be insinuated into good, to make it good; they are insinuated by affections, 4301; truths in goods are arranged into order, when according to truths in their order in the heavens, corresponding to the order in the human body, 4302(3); the good of truth is truth in will and in act, 4337(2), 4346, 4390; when truths are conjoined in good, progress is made from things general to things particular and singular, 4345(4); the conjunction of good with truth, the order of its progress, 4353 (2); see REGENERATION; good acknowledges its own truth, 4358; before truth is received and conjoined to good, confirmation must precede and be associated, in order that it may be believed, 4364; truths cannot be accepted, thus cannot be conjoined to good, except with those who are in the good of charity and of love, 4368(2); the affection of truth appears to be from truth, but it is from good, 4373; good acts, when truth acts it is from good, 4380; truths of good are the truths which good has with it when it inflows, 4385; all things refer to truth and good, 4390, 4409; spir. good consists in willing good to another from no gain to self, but from the enjoyment of the truths of faith from the Word, 4538(4); truths are the forms of good, 4574(2); the difference between cel. good and spir. good, 4581; truth is not truth except from good; falsity, when it is from good, is received as truth, 4736; good acts by truth, 4757; truth is to good as water to bread, or drink to meat, in nourishment, 4976; good does not appropriate to itself truth, but the good of truth, that is use, 4984; good and truth natural-spiritual and not spiritual, its nature shown by examples, 4988, 4992, 5006, 5008, 5022, 5025, 5028, 5032(2)–3; see NATURAL; good is conjunction; it may be known what good is, if there be any study to know what love to God is, and love towards the neighbor, 4997; natural good not spir.; spir. good is from religion, 5032; love and reverence from the internal towards the Lord are testified by exercises of charity towards those who are in good, 5066–7; good without truth cannot be given, because truth is a variation of form, and good is the enjoyment thence derived, 5147(2); all things in the universe have reference to good and to truth; in man, the will and the understanding have that reference, 5232; truth is conjoined with good when man is in charity, 5340, 5342 (4); truth is multiplied only from good, 5345, 5355; truth is conjoined with good, and good with truth, the process, 5365(2); there is a controversy at this day concerning the highest good; no one knows that it is the good of charity without any selfish end, 5365(4); when truth passes into the will, it becomes the good of truth, 5526; they who are in good, in the other life, are in the faculty of growing wise, 5527; good arranges truths in order into the form of heaven, but evil arranges falsities into the form of hell, 5704; truth is applied by good, and under good, 5709; when inversion takes place in man who is regenerating, namely, when good takes the first place there is temptation, 5773; between truth and good there is close conjunction, 5807, 5835; between internal and external good there is conjunction, otherwise they perish, 5841; in the good of charity is the all of wisdom; he comes into this latter after death, who had come into the former good, 5850; good is multiplied around every truth, and makes it as a little star, it produces truths from truths by derivations successively, 5912; the reciprocality and reaction of truth into good is from good, 5928; truth and good with the regenerate are arranged into a heavenly form, the best in the midst, and so successively, 6028; truths lead to good, 6044; good is from a twofold origin, from the will and the understanding, 6065; truths seek life in knowledges, and good in truths, 6077; they who are regenerating are elevated from things sensual, 6183; before man is regenerated, he looks at good from truth; but when he is regenerated, at truth from good, 6247; the natural must necessarily be regenerated, to effect influx through the internal, 6299(2); they who are regenerating, undergo many states, and always enter more interiorly into heaven, and come nearer to the Lord, 6645(2); they are perfected to eternity, and yet cannot arrive far beyond the first degree, 6648; the evil dare not assault good, for thus they would be tormented and cast themselves into hell, but it is allowed them to assault truth, 6677; good is through heaven, 6720; truths make the quality of good, because truths become good, when they become of the life, 6916; they who are in truth are rigid, they who are in good are soft, 7068; no one knows what good is, unless he knows what love to the Lord and towards the neighbor is; it cannot be known what truth is, except from good, 7178; it is not known what heaven is, unless it be known what good is, 7181; all things which are according to order have reference to good and truth, and which are contrary to order, to evil and the falsity, 7256; good and truth which are of the Lord, and which are not of the Lord, 7564; there are goods and truths which look inwards, and which look outwards; man is of such a quality that he can look above himself, or to the Divine; and that he can look beneath himself, or to self and the world, 7601(2), 7604, 7607; see CHARITY; natural good is altogether different from spir. good; spir. good is a plane to the angels, but natural good not, in the latter it is easy to be led away into evil and falsity, 7761; good and truth are taken away from the evil, and given to the good, 7770; all goods in heaven are distinct, 7833, 7836(3); truth becomes good when man wills and does it, 7835; good is accepted in which is falsity if there be ignorance, and in ignorance innocence, and a good end, 7887; the enjoyments of affections adhere to truths, in this case truths are according to the affections which are excited, 7967; good gives the faculty of receiving influx from the Lord, not truth without good, 8321 (2); the affection of truth is from good, the one is from the other, 8349, 8356; truths appear undelightful, when communication with good is intercepted, 8352; goods and truths conjoined appear as one in the image of a man, 8370; good from the Lord has inmostly in itself heaven and the Lord; good from the proprium has inmostly in itself hell, 8480(3); heavenly good vanishes according to the degree of increasing concupiscence, 8487 (2); what it is to look from good to truth, and from truth to good, 8505; the quality of truth with respect to good, and its quality without good, various comparisons, 8530; the measure of every one's good in the other life is according to his faith and charity in life, 8533; there are two states with the man who is regenerating; the former that he may be led by truth, the other that he may be led by good, 8516(2), 8640, 8643, 8658; man cannot come into heaven until he is in a state to be led by good, 8516, 8539(2); see REGENERATION; what must be the quality of truths that they may be made good, 8724; the Divine good itself is a flame of infinite ardor, which no angel could bear without intermediate tempering, 8760(2); good and truth are as a fibre containing spirit, and as a vessel containing blood, 9154(2); good has its quality, thus its form, by truths, illustrated from living things, 9154(2); truth desires good, and is willing to be conjoined with good, 9206 (2), 9207; good implanted from the Lord by truths compared with seed, 9258(2); the good of the new will is the habitation of the Lord with man, and the truth of the new understanding thence derived is the tabernacle, 9296(3)–7(2); truth is formed with man according to uses of life, 9207(4); the good of the spir. church is from truths, 9404(2); good is the soul of truths, it is the all in all in truths, to give them being, 9550, 9568; the Divine of the Lord is in good, 9568(4); the only good which reigns in heaven, and makes heaven, is the good of the Lord's merit and justice, thus His Divine Human, 9486; the sphere of good from the Lord around heaven and the societies, 9490–2, 9534–5; good and truth reciprocally conjoin themselves like the heart and lungs, 9495; every truth has its own good, and every good its own truth, 9637; all things are from good, as light is from flame, 9667; the internal good is good of innocence, and is good Divine from the Divine Human, all goods flow in order from this, 9473(3); the good of the inmost heaven is of love to the Lord, the good of the middle heaven is the good of charity toward the neighbor, 9670; the difference between the two, references, 9670(3); no one can know what good is unless he lives in good according to the Word, 9780(2); the good of the three heavens, the good of love to the Lord, the good of charity toward the neighbor, the good of faith and obedience, 9812(2); good deeds done with the idea of merit are not good; those done from the love of good are really good, 9974–9984; good reigns universally in the heavens, 9832; how the goods of love succeed each other in the heavens, 9873; all real good is from the Lord, 9981; man can with difficulty distinguish between truth and good, because he can with difficulty distinguish between thinking and willing, 9995(2); good is implanted in man from infancy, that it may be a plane to receive truth, 10110(4); all things have reference to good and truth, or to evil and falsity; thus to will and understanding, what a man wills, this he loves, 10122(2); the Lord flows in immediately into good, and mediately into truth, 10153(2); cel. good is formed by truth in order from the outermost, 10252, 10266; the Divine good of the Lord in itself is single (unicum), because infinite, its distinction into cel. and spir. is from dissimilar reception, 10261(2); there are three kinds of goods which constitute the three heavens, 10270; spir. good is truth in its essence, 10296; man is his own truth and his own good, 10298(2); the Lord is good and truth itself, 10336(2); to do good and truth for the sake of good and truth, is to love the Lord above all things, and the neighbor as one's self, 10336(4); man is such as he is as to good, not such as he is as to truth without good, 10367; man is led of the Lord by truth to good; truth becomes good, when it becomes of the will or love, 10367(4); see REGENERATION; good and truth must be conjoined to be something, 10555; the Lord is good itself and truth itself, because infinite, 10619; the conjunction of good and truth, illustrated by things acting and reacting, 10729(2); when we speak of good we mean its enjoyment, its pleasure, or its love, 10367(2); the Divine good and Divine truth, 10196(2).

See LIFE and FREEDOM. By influx truths in the natural man are called forth, are elevated, and implanted in rational good, and how, 3085–6; good from the Lord flows in when those things are removed which are of the love of self and of the world, or the lusts of evil and persuasions of falsity, 3142, 3147(2); thoughts flow in from within, and not from without; experience concerning some who fell from an angelic society, because they were in falsities, 3210; appropriation, is effected when truths are insinuated into the natural, how effected, 3513; the order of influx is that interior things flow into exterior, not the reverse, 2577; the good of the rational flows into the good of the natural, thus immediately, it also flows in mediately through the truth of the rational into the truth of the natural, this is meant by Isaac loved Esau, but Rebekah loved Jacob, 3314; during man's regeneration, good is without and truth within; but when he is regenerated, then good is within and truth without, and what the quality of the influx is in the first state, and what in the second, 3563(2); heaven corresponds to the Lord; man as to all and single things corresponds to heaven; hence heaven is the Greatest Man, and man the smallest heaven, 3624–49, 3741–50, 3883–96, 4039–55, 4218–28, 4318–31, 4403–21, 4523–34, 4622–34, 4652–60, 4791–4806, 4931–53, 5050–62, 5171–90, 5377–96, 5552–73, 5711–27. See MAN. See also CORRESPONDENCE. Influx is from the interior, but its appearing to be from the exterior through the external senses is an appearance and a fallacy, 3721; how the Lord flows in through the interiors into the ultimates, 3739, 3855, 4027(3); all influx with man is effected by societies of spirits and of angels, concerning whom, 4067; the all of life flows in, thus all evil is from hell, and all good from the Lord, 4151, 4318–4322; man believes that all things are in himself, when yet they flow in, which he may know from the doctrinal that good and truth are from the Lord, evil and falsity from hell, 4249(2); as there is doubt and denial of heaven, it cannot be known that there is any influx thence and correspondence, 4322; from influx comes endeavor, from endeavor energy, and from energy effect, 5116(2); exterior things cannot flow in into interior, 5119; the influx of the Divine is through what is inmost into things inferior mediately and immediately, 5147–5150; the exterior natural is a plane, and as it were a face, in which interior things see themselves, and that hence man has the power of thinking, 5165(2); unless the natural be subordinate, as with the regenerate, interior things cannot be presented; thus neither can those things be believed which are above sensual things, 5168(2); what is exterior does not flow in into what is interior, but what is interior into what is exterior; thus what is Divine into all and single things, 5259; man's power of intuitiou, of thinking analytically, of forming conclusions, of willing, is from influx, 5288; the influx of the Divine, is by good and truth, 5482; men do not perceive at this day that good is given to man gratis by the Lord, because they are in worldly things, and do not believe in any influx, 5649(2); angelic societies know this well, from experience, 5649(3); what is external does not flow in into what is internal, but what is internal into what is external, 5779; influx adapts itself to efflux, influx through the internal man is checked so as not to be received, on account of the opposition of evils and falsities, 5828(3); the good of the internal church produces the good of the external church by influx, 5841; all things which man thinks and wills flow in, 5846; there is a general influx and a particular influx, 5850; a general influx with animals, because they are in order; but a particular one with man, because he is not in order, 5850; on influx into man by means of angels and spirits, 5846–5866; the influx of the Greatest Man or heaven into man distinguished into four operations, into the organs of reason, respiration of lungs, pulsations of heart, the kidneys, 3884–3895; the regeneration of the natural as to good and truth is not effected by knowledges but by influx, 5398; to command sig. influx, 5732; spirits flow in into the thoughts, angels into ends, good spirits into those things which are of faith and charity with man, 5854; the things appertaining to man, which pass from the thought and will into the body, flow into act by a general influx according to correspondence, 5862; manifestation by influx, 5885; angels flow in into the truths of faith appertaining to man, 5893(3); see REGENERATION. Influx progresses through perpetual mediations, 5920; the corporeals of man are ruled from a general influx, 5990, 6192, 6211; internal good flows into external good, not into truths, unless by or through good, 6027; that the natural with man may live, there must be immediate influx from the Lord, and mediate through the spir. world, 6063(2); the influx and intercourse of the soul with the body, 6053–8; see SOUL, SPIRIT, MAN; nothing can be known concerning the influx and intercourse of the soul with the body, when it is unknown what the soul is, 6053; there is influx immediately from the Lord into the most particular things, and mediately through the spir. world, 6058; what influx is, illustrated by comparison with the heat and light of the sun flowing into all things of the earth, and with other things, 6128, 6190; the influx and intercourse of the soul and body, 6189–6215; each and everything with man flows in, 6189, 6213; each and everything flows in into the thought and will, from manifold experience, 6191; they flow in into the thought by spirits, from experience, 6194–9; spirits enter into all things of man's memory, and believe them to be their own, 6192–3, 6198–9; spirits do not know that they are with men, 6192; there is a general influx into the actions and speech of the body, 6192; general influx is a continual endeavor flowing into the single things of the life of man, 6211; angels know that all good and truth is from the Lord, and all things flow in, the evil are not at all willing to know this, 6193(2). The material ideas of thought have appeared as it were in the midst of a kind of wave, 6200; but not so when the thought is in the sensual, 6201; there is another influx, when a society of any infernal spirits speak among themselves, and this is communicated, for when this is the case, anxieties are induced in the province of the stomach, 6202; man casts himself into hell when he does evil from consent, at length from purpose, then from the delight of affection, hence he opens to himself a correspondent hell, which flows in, 6203; hence evil obstinately remains in man, 6203; spirits rule man as a servant from the authority of rule, but the angels gently by freedom, 6205; evil is appropriated to man because he believes that he thinks and wills from himself; if otherwise it would not be imputed, 6206; the influx of the angels is into those things which are of man's conscience, 6207, 6213; the influx of the angels appears as an aerial stream lucid and flamy, 6209; influx with the prophets, from experience, 6212(2); it can hardly be believed that spirits know the thoughts, from experience, 6214; when yet in the other life they know the most particular things, 6214; continuation concerning the influx and intercourse of the soul with the body, 6307–27; there is an influx from the spir. world through angels and spirits, 6307; evil spirits assault, and angels dispel what they infuse; such is the order of influx, 6308; no hurt comes from what enters into the thought, but from what enters the will, thus from what comes forth, 6308; influx when man is in a sensual light, 6309–18; see SENSUAL; angelic influx is effected hy representations, 6319; the spirits with man perceive as man thinks, not as he feels with the hody, 6319; angels flow in through affections; few things are received hy man, 6320; man cannot live unless there he angelic influx, from experience of those who in part took away influx, 6321; things external do not flow in into things internal; there is no physical influx, from experience, 6322 (2)–3; although all things flow in, yet man becomes guilty, who appropriates to himself evil by believing that the things which he does are from himself, 6324; if he believe otherwise, then evil would not he appropriated to him, 6325; if man were in a state to believe all good to he from the Lord, and all evil to he from hell, he would he gifted with peace, and would he in essential freedom, 6325; life from the Lord is the principal cause, man as a recipient is the instrumental which act as one, 6325; continuation concerning influx and the intercourse of the soul with the hody, 6466–05; influx from heaven is mediately from the Lord, 6466; all life flows in from the Lord, 6467, 6468–71; see LIFE. The Most Ancient Church was instructed by perception, the Ancient by doctrinal teachings through the senses and memory, 608–9, 895; before instruction man is in an obscure state, 1453; the Lord was instructed as another man, 1457; Abram's sojourn in Egypt rep. the Lord's instruction in knowledges from the Word, 1461; Jacob in Egypt rep. same, 1462(6); the Lord's instruction in knowledges, 1469 (2), 1479, 1495; it was by continual revelations, by Divine perceptions and thoughts from Himself, that is from the Divine, 2500(2); this way of growing wise is not given with any man, 2500(2); Abraham's sojourn in Egypt, the Lord's instruction in knowledges, His sojourn in Gerar, in doctrinals of charity and faith, 2496; changes of state of the thoughts are knowledges, produced by instruction, 1463; when man is instructed the progression is from knowledge in the memory to rational truths, then to intellectual truths, at length to cel. truths, 1495; all instruction is simply an opening of the way, 1405(2); Abram's sojourn in Egypt, in Philistia, Isaac's sojourn there, involve arcana concerning the instruction of the Lord, of man, of the church in general, and of children in heaven, 1502(3); no one can fight against evils and falsities before he has been instructed concerning them, 1661(2), 0088(2); Divine revelation, the Word necessary for man's instruction in heavenly things, 1775, 10548. See WORD, REVELATION. Instruction necessary for spir. progress and development, 1802(3), 1832, 1838(2), 2025, 2280(2), 2704, 3141(2), 5126(3), 5280(4); the order of instruction, it is from the Divine Law, 6827, 3151–5; the first instruction is in regard to God Himself who is to be worshipped, 6879–80; the second is that Divine truth which is from Him must be received, 6881–2; the third, the Divine Human is to be worshipped, 6883–8; the age of instruction is from the fifth to the twentieth year, 10225; those who are instructed in truths and led to good are called hungry, bound, blind, etc., 4844(5), 9209; Jehovah speaking sig. instruction from the Divine by Divine truths, references, 8127; instruction sig. by various things, as by planting vineyards, 1069(3), by sojourning, 1402, to give to drink, 2704, to ride on a chariot or a horse, 2761(5), to draw water, 3057, 3094, to build, 4390, to sow seed, 4686(2), 9272, to feed, as a shepherd, 5201, 5670, to say or speak, 7347, to lend, 9049(6), to lead, 9256, to hear, 9311, to clothe, 9468(4), to fish and to hunt, 10582(6).

INSTRUMENTAL. Things essential, not things instrumental, ought to be regarded as ends, 5948; things essential so far perish, as things instrumental are regarded as ends, 5948(2); there is nothing essential in the nature of things, but only in the Lord, who is the Esse or Jehovah; consequently all things else are instrumental, 5948(3); if things essential were regarded as ends, there would be things instrumental in abundance, 5949; the all of life is from the Lord, it is as cause principal and instrumental, which act as one cause, and is made sensible in the instrumental, 6325(3); see, 1472, 1589(2), 1895(2), 10738(4).

INTEGRITY. Justice and just have respect to the good of charity, integrity and entire to the truth of charity, 612; what is meant by entire, 1094; integrity sig. the Divine truth in effect, or a life according to Divine precepts, 9095; Thummim in Hebrew means integrity, it sig. what is complete, entire, uprightness, 9905(3).

INTELLECT, INTELLECTUAL. See UNDERSTANDING. How the intellectual is developed from infancy, 6125; it is rep. by Ephraim, its nature described, 6222. Intellectual truth rep. by Sarai as sister, 1475, 1484–5, 1495–6, 1499, 1801, 1805, 1901, 1904(3); the nature of intellectual truth, 1911, 1914, 1919(3), 1921(3), 1935, 2053, 2507.

INTELLIGENCE of cel. man rep. by garden in Eden, 77, 98, 3220; by its rivers, 107; intelligence rep. by Israel, 119; by the south, 1458, 1555; by kings, 3183(4); by moon, 3693(4); by flowers, 8369(3), mitre, 9818(21), turban, 9949; the order in which the Lord advanced to intelligence and wisdom, 1493; the light of intelligence regards the intellectual part, 1555; it is not wisdom, but leads to it, 1555(2); acquired through learning and knowledges, 1555(3); after twentieth year, 2280(2), 10225; intelligence is from variegations of cel. and spir. light, 3862; intelligence of the angels is to perceive and know that all life is from the Lord, that heaven corresponds to His Divine Human, and that men, angels, and spirits correspond to heaven, 4318; truths make intelligence, by life, 4844(6), 4884; distinction between intelligence, wisdom, and knowledge, 5287; it ought to be procured by the Word, 6125(6); no intelligence without an end, 9407(2); intelligence is formed by elevation of truth from the natural into the rational, 3190; the light of heaven is intelligence, 4884; truth when led by good first becomes intelligence, 4884(2); a man intelligent and wise, sig. truth and the good of truth, 5287; he is intelligent who from faith does truths, 10331(2); the internal is closed in more of the intelligent than the simple minded, because in love of self and world, 10492(4).

INTEMPERANCE an origin of disease, 5712(2).

INTENTION. See END. The end or intention, 3489, 4839, 9210.

INTERCESSION. The Lord's intercession described, 2248–85. The Lord in a state of humiliation interceded, but in a state of glorification He has mercy and brings help, thus mercy is intercession, 2250; the intercession of the Lord with the Father is mercy, which is in the Divine truth proceeding from the Lord, 8573; mediation and intercession, 8705. The idea of mediation and intercession with the simple is as of a son asking a favor of his father, 8705(2); mediation and intercession are of the Lord with Himself; the reason why it is said to be of the Son with the Father is, because no idea of what is Divine can be had without what is human, 8705(3); intercession by prayer, 8179, 8573; mediation or intercession is of Divine truth with Divine good, not of one person with another, 8705.

INTERCOURSE of soul and body, is the Lord's influx through the intellectual into the rational, thence into knowledges of the memory, thence comes the life of the senses, 657, see 5146(2), general article, 6053–8, 6189–6215, 6307–27, 6466–96, 6508–6626. See INFLUX.

INTERIOR. See INTERNAL. It is an intermediate between the internal and external, it is called the rational, 1702(2), see RATIONAL. The interiors appear in the face, 3527(2); progression toward interiors is toward heaven, 4598; interiors and exteriors of the natural, 5070, 5165 (2); interior degrees can exist without exterior, but not the reverse, 5114(3), 5127, 5146, 5707(2), 6326.

INTERMEDIATE. See MEDIUM.

INTERNAL. See EXTERNAL, WORSHIP, CHURCH, LOVE, CHARITY, FAITH. The internal and external man, 24. An example that what is internal is in what is external, and how, 161, 1873; interior things with man are distinct, and succeed each other, 634; interior things produce exterior, 994(3), 995; what the internal man is, and what the external; the internal man is not thought, but is formed from cel. and spir. things, the interior or middle man from rational things, the external from things sensual derived from things corporeal, 978(2); enjoyment grows viler in proportion as it approaches more to what is external, 996; what the internal man is, the interior, and the external, 1015; internal and external worship, their quality, 1083; external worship without internal is no worship, 1094; the interior man is the rational, the middle between the internal and external, 1702, 1707, see RATIONAL; in the external man there are things which agree and which disagree with the internal man, 1563(2), 1568; the lusts of evil and the persuasions of falsity separate the internal from the external man, 1587, 1594, also love of self and love of the world, 1594(3); the love of self separates the external man from the internal, mutual love conjoins, 1594 (4); the external man in no instance is united to the internal, only so far as the Lord unites, 1577; only with the Lord the external is united to the internal, 1577; the beauty of the external man conjoined to the internal, 1590; the internal man is of the Lord, 1594(5); there is an internal and external of the church, 1242; the quality of the man of the internal church, and of the external church, 1098; from what considerations it may be known that there is an internal in worship, 1102 (3), 1150, 1153(2); internal things vivify worship, 1175; there is an internal in the worship of those who are of the external church, if they be in charity, 1100; the external church is nothing, if not internal, 1795; what it is to make internal worship external, 1175; they have no internal worship who do not believe in eternal life, 1200; in proportion as interior things are more profane, external worship also is more profane, 1182; every one has communication with the interior and inmost heaven, whence he is directed to ends and uses, 1399; what it is to see internal things from external, 1806–7; what is meant by what is interior in the Lord, 1026; with every one there is an internal man, a rational which is the middle, and an external which is the natural man, 1889, 1940(2), 2181, 2183(2); the internal man is of the Lord with man, the rational is as it were of man, 1904(3), 1999(3); man separates himself from that internal, but it is disagreement, not disjunction, 1999 (4), 2018; the internal man can perceive and see what is transacting in the exterior, not vice versa, 1914(2), 1953; interior is expressed by superior, by what is high, 2148; the explanations of the internal sense are nothing but the particulars which elucidate the general idea, 2395; exterior and interior sig. the same thing as inferior and superior, 3084; arcana of internal sense of the Word are such as to scarcely be seen in this world, may be seen in the light of heaven, 3086(2); the spiritual and natural man or the internal and external man; the spiritual or internal man is wise from the light of heaven, but the natural or external from the light of the world, 3167; the internal man, in the course of regeneration, receives truths before the external, hence is the combat of temptations, 3321; the internal man thinks, and in the external, 3679(2), see THOUGHT. A distinction according to degrees, what the interior man is, relation to the external, 3691; they who are in external truths alone, are weak carried by every wind; but they who are in internal truth, are firm, 3820; external things are further from the Divine than internal, therefore also they are relatively without order, 3855; unless the external man be conjoined with the internal, there is no fructification, 3987. The reason why those not in good and truth cannot see the internal sense, 3793(3); so far as cel. things, which are of the internal man have the dominion, truths are multiplied, but so far as worldly things which are of the external man have the dominion, so far truths are diminished and vanish away, 4099(2); the internal sense is the angelic Word, 4122; how ignorant men are of that sense, 4234(3); in each heaven there are those who are internal, and those who are external, 4286(2); the Jews were not chosen, they obstinately pressed to be a church, 4290, 4293(2); they are of such a quality that they can be in a holy external without an internal, 4203(4); see JEW; at death the interiors are opened, such as they had been inwardly, 4314(5); the inhabitants of this earth are external sensual men; their combat with those who are internal spiritual men, from experience, 4330; what it is to be in externals alone, and what in internals, 4459(2); why man ought to be in internals, 4464; progression towards things interior appears manifestly in the other life, as from a kind of cloud into light, 4598(2); those in faith alone reject the internal things of the Word by which it is inspired, 4726; the Jews regard the internal things of the church as falsities, as a barlot, 4865(2); the internal of the church is charity towards the neighbor in willing, and from willing in acting, and thence faith in perceiving, 4899(4); the internals of the church, which the Lord taught, were known to the ancients; He abolished external representatives, 4904(2); those who have no concern about internal things, from experience, 4946; exterior things cannot flow in into interior, but vice versa, 5119; what exterior and interior thought is, 5127(2); exterior things ought to be subject to interior, or sensual and natural things to what is rational, 5128; interior things are more perfect, because nearer to the Divine, 5146–7; there is no desire at this day to be acquainted with interior things, but with the ancients there was a desire, the reason why there is no desire at this day is on account of the affection for exterior things, 5224(2); time, space, and person drop out of the Word while it is becoming the internal sense, 5253; the Lord from an internal which is pacific rules what is external where are things inordinate and tumultuous, from experience, 5306; without correspondence, what is internal appears to what is external as strange and hard, 5422–3, 5511; the internal can see all things which are in the external, but not vice versa, unless there be correspondence and a medium, 5427–8, 5477(2); the interior thought of the man who is in good is in the internal sense, though he is not conscious of it, 5614(2); in the interior there are a thousand things, which appear as one in the exterior, 5707(2); the external man ought to be altogether subject to the internal, and to be without liberty from the proprium, 5786(2); the internal man and the external are altogether distinct, the internal lives after separation from the external, 5883; the inmost in things successive, arranges itself in the midst in things simultaneous, 5897; perception is clearer as it is more interior, 5920; exterior things ought to serve interior, they were formed for that purpose, 5947; the internal man is the soul, 6053–8; the things, which are successively born from the internal, are more and more interior, 6230; what is external lives from what is internal; what is internal clothes itself with such things as enable it to produce effects in that lower sphere, 6275, 6284; the external must correspond with the internal, 6300(3); there is an internal man and an external, which may be known from several considerations, 6309; when man is elevated towards interior things, he comes into a milder light; this elevation from the things of sense was known to the ancients, 6313; the man who is elevated by being in the good of faith, is alternately in sensual light and in interior light, 6315; see SENSUAL; no one perceives what is internal but he who is in good, 6306(4); interior things exist in exterior, they there exist in this order, what is inmost is in the midst, and so forth, 6451(2); exterior things are obscure respectively, because common, 6451(3); one thing is formed from another successively; they are not made purer by continuity; hence, interior and exterior things are distinct from each other in successive order, and interior things are in exterior, 6465; when the influx of truth and good from the Lord is not received by the natural, the interiors are closed, and at length even to the sensual, 6564; when the internal ceases the church ceases, 6587; what is external does not flow in into what is internal, but what is internal into what is external, from experience, 6322; the holy from the internal flows in into the external with those who account the Word holy, and receive the Lord's Supper holily, and effects conjunction, although they are ignorant of it, 6789(2); the interiors of the evil are defiled, howsoever the external appears otherwise, 7046; man is of such a quality, that he can look inwards or to things Divine, and outwards to himself and the world, 7601(8), 7604, 7607; the interiors are occupied with falsity when the exteriors are, 7645; good is in the interiors, and truth in the exteriors, 7910; conjunction of good and truth is in interiors, 7910; he is led by good from the Lord who lives in Divine order, his interiors are opened by the Lord, but they are closed with him who is not in Divine order, 8513. The internal and external man, 8742–7; the internal man, when the natural man is regenerated, and when he is not regenerated, 8744–5; see REGENERATION; an internal is in all and each of the things that are from the Divine, 8868; in the other life external things are taken away, and all are remitted into their internal things, 8870(3); the internal man is open with those who are in faith and love to the Lord, but closed above and opened beneath, thus to hell, with those who are in evil, 9128(3); interior things close and rest in exterior, and have connection with them, 9216; in all things there must be an internal that they may exist and subsist, 9473(2); perfection increases towards interior things, 9666(2). The internal and external man, 9701–9; it is believed that it is the internal man who thinks and wills, and the external which speaks and acts, 9702; but the case is otherwise; namely in one manner when they are conjoined, and in another manner when they are separated, 9703; when man thinks well, he thinks from the internal, but when he thinks ill, from the external, 9704; so far as he thinks from love of the Lord and the neighbor, so far he thinks from the internal; and so far as from the love of self, so far from the external, 9705; the internal man is formed to the image of heaven, the external to the image of the world, 9706; so far as man thinks and wills from heaven or the Lord, so far he thinks and wills from the internal; and so far as from himself and the world, so far from the external; in the first case the internal is so far opened, in the second it is so far closed, and the external is opened, 9707; the external is reduced into order by the internal, so far as it is subordinate, 9708; the quality of those whose internal man is closed, and of those whose internal man is opened, 9709; all good, that it may be good, must have interior good in it, 9912, 9921; what is internal must be in what is external, that it may exist; thus external things derive their quality from their internal, 9922; the internal man is in the light of heaven, the external in the world, as to things spir., 10134(4); the external man is in hell, unless he is made spir. by regeneration, 10156; the internal man is an image of heaven, and the external an image of the world, 10156(4); interior truths are those which are implanted in the life, and not those which are only in the memory, 10109(8); interior truths in the memory are external respectively, 10109(8); it is not perceived by man in the world what is transacting in the internal man, but what in the external, 10236(4), 10240(2); the internal man is actually in the internal sense of the Word, but he cannot be enlightened who judges according to the knowledges in which the external man is, 10400(3); concerning those who are in external things without an internal, 10420; see EXTERNAL; what is internal is a lord, and what is external is respectively a servant, 10471; what is internal is man's heaven, and what is external is his world, 10472; what is internal is closed by evils and falsities from the love of self and of the world, 10492(2); why internal things were closed with the Jews; they are closed with Christians who are acquainted with the truths of faith from the Word, and do not live according to them, and with the intelligent more than the simple, 10492(3); from the internal can be seen what is in the external, but not what is in the internal from the external, 10468; the internal cannot die, 10501; every man has it, 10502; it is the soul, 10502; this internal is the spirit, 10593; which appears in the other world in the human form, 10504; this continuation of life is the resurrection, 10505–7; they who are in the internal of the Word, of the church, and of worship, love to do truth for the sake of truth, also they who are in an external, in which is an internal, but with a difference; they who are in an external without an internal, do truth for the sake of themselves and of gain, 10683; the light of truth in the external of the Word is from the internal, for those who are in the internal, 10691; they who are in an external without an internal, cannot endure things internal, 10694, 10701, 10707; the church is in the internal of man and not in the external without it, 10698; the interiors of man actually turn themselves according to his loves, 10702.

JEW. It was not given to the Jews to know the interiors of faith; why they had all things by representatives, 301–3; their worship was merely external, 407–11, 422; they are sig. by Canaanites, 1167; being converted they fluctuate, 788; they are distinguished by the stench of mice; of robbers in the wilderness, the filthy Jerusalem, 940; their other Jerusalem between Gehenna and the Pool, 941; the Jews in Egypt lost the name Jehovah, restored through Moses, 1343(2); why the interior things of the Word were not discovered to the Jews, 2520(5); by representatives something of the church was exhibited amongst the Jews and Israelites;

in their rites they were strictly bound to exhibit such representations, 3147(10); by the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, is not meant their posterity, because they were the worst of all nations, but they who are in goods and truths from the Lord, 3373(2); interior things were not discovered to the Jews lest they should profane them; on this account they are also kept in unbelief at this day, 3398(3), 3480; the Jews were not willing to know the internal things of worship and of the Word, 3479(2); still they could rep. holy things and the Lord Himself, by reason that they could he in a holy external, 3479(3); on this account they have been reserved to this day, especially because they have much reverence when they hear the Word, 3479(3); a holy internal does not at all affect them, 4231(2); internally, 3479(4); in heart they were idolaters, 2722(3), 3732 (2); how unclean things appertaining to them were removed when they represented, 3480(2); discourse with the Jews in the other life concerning the Word, the land of Canaan, and the Messiah, 3481; Judea sig. the Lord's church, 3654; the Jews even from the time of their fathers were of such a quality, that every one was willing to have his own god, and they worshipped Jehovah only as to name, 3732(2); the Word is altogether closed to the Jews, 3769(2); the Jews had their name from Judah, which name, in the supreme sense, sig. the Lord and his Divine love, in the internal sense the Word, also the Lord's cel. kingdom, in the external sense doctrine from the Word, which is that of the cel. church, 3881; Judah, and also the Jewish nation, when they continued in rituals, rep. the Lord's cel. kingdom, but when they turned aside from those rituals to idolatries, they then rep. the kingdom of the devil, 3881(11); see also To Confess, whence Judah had his name, 3880; the four sons of Jacob in order, Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah, rep. the progress of the regeneration of the cel. man, and by the rest, when the order is continued to Joseph, the progress of the regeneration of the spir. man, 3882, 3921(3); it was peculiar to the families descended from Abraham, that each acknowledged his own god, they were idolaters, the Jews acknowledged Jehovah but only as another God, 4208 (2); see Abraham; nevertheless the genuine principle of the church could be represented by them, 4208(3). The internal historical sense treats of the posterity of Jacob, 4279(3); they had no genuine marriage love, 4280(4); with the posterity of Jacob there was the representative of the church, but not the church, 4281(2); their Divine worship was merely external, and separated from internal, thus idolatrous, still they could represent; they were compelled to that worship by external means, 4281(3); with the posterity of Jacob, there was not a representative church, but the representative of a church, 4288; the representative of the church was not instituted amongst the posterity of Jacob, until they were altogether vastated as to interior things, otherwise they would have profaned what is holy, 4289. The Jews were not elected, on the contrary they were very urgent to be a church, 4290; they were of such a quality that they could be in a holy external without an internal, 4293(3); the Jews had an idea of Jehovah as of a very old man with a long and snowy beard, who could do greater miracles than other gods, 4299(5); with the Jews there was not a church, but the representative of a church, 4500; they were in corporeal and worldly love, and in no cel. and spir. love, 4307, 4311; they were encompassed with evil spirits even when they were in a holy external, 4311 (2); the Lord was representatively present with them, that is, the holy external was miraculously elevated into heaven, 4311 (2); the quality of that nation is evident from the Lord's parables, and from many things which the Lord spake concerning them, 4314(2); the Jews were such from the earliest times, and afterwards, 4316; hereditary evil was such with them, that they did not admit of regeneration, 4317; they yielded in temptations which were only external, 4317(6); the internal historical sense in its application to the Jewish Church, how it destroyed all good and truth in itself, Gen. xxxiv. 4325–4522; they extinguished interior truths, 4429(2), 4433(3); they could not receive interior truths, 4433(2); the representative church had good in it, but in respect to the posterity of Jacob it had not good, 4444(2); when they became idolaters, they then represented things infernal, 4444(4); the statutes, judgments, and laws commanded to the posterity of Jacob were known in the ancient churches, 4449(2); the Jews are mostly in externals, because in avarice, 4459(6); they extinguished all the internal of worship and became a representative of a church, 4500; how the Jewish Church extirpated all good and truth in itself rep. by slaying Hamor and Shechem, 4502; the Jews were forbidden to erect pillars and plant groves, because they would have turned them into idolatry, 4580(3). In the church amongst the posterity of Jacob were all falsities and evils both generally and specifically, 4503(2); the posterity of Jacob could not receive the internal of the church, 4680 (4); Judah sig. what is contrary to whatever is good, 4750; such Jews and such a church were rep. by Judas Iscariot, 4751 (3); the tribe of Judah went more astray from good than the rest of the tribes, 4815 (3); the Jews derived their origin from a Canaanite, and from fornication, 4818 (2); that origin involves that evil from falsity of evil appertained to them, 4818 (3); the Jews were also from whoredom with a Canaanitess, 4820; they were idolaters continually, who worshipped only things external, 4825; this takes its rise from an inmost idolatry which is from the loves of self and of the world, 4825(2); with the posterity of Judah falsity of evil prevailed, or false doctrine derived from evil of life, 4832; the Lord foresaw what would be the quality of the church with the posterity of Er and Onan sons of Judah, that it would not be serviceable, 4832; the representatives in the Jewish church were not new, but existed before in the Ancient Church, 4835(2); amongst the Jews there was nothing of marriage either in a spiritual or natural sense, 4837(2); Judah sig. in general the nation descended from Jacob, specifically that which descended from Judah, 4815, 4842; the Jewish Church was a renewal of the Ancient Church which had perished, 4835(2); the internal of the church could not be given with the Jewish nation, the reason, 4844–7; how erroneously they think, who believe that the Jews, in the end of the church, will be converted and brought back to the land of Canaan, 4847 (3); Judah sig. the religion of that nation, 4864; the Jews regard the internal things of the church no otherwise than as falsity, 4865; their conjunction with the internal of the church is like as with a harlot, 4868; the conjunction of the external of the Jewish church with the internal is as with a harlot, and of the internal with the external like that of a daughter-in-law with a father-in-law under pretence of fulfilling the duty of a brother-in-law, 4874 (2), 4913, 4899(4); with the Jewish nation there was a church, but in that nation none, 4899(3), 4912; they had an external without an internal, shown by their doctrinals, in that they were allowed to hate an enemy, and to treat nations with barbarity, and did so, 4903(2); the Jews from their religion also affirm internal truths, when they view them as their own, but in what manner, illustrated by examples, 4911; an explication respecting the conjunction of the external with the internal being as whoredom in that nation, 4911(3). The hell of cruel adulterers, where are such as were of the Jewish nation, 5057; how cruelly the Jews treated the nations from delight, 5057; Judah sig. the good of the external church, 5583; the good of the church, 5583, 5603, 5782, 5794, 5833; the fathers of the Jews, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, worshipped every one his own god; their fathers in Syria did so; the Jews and Israelites were of such a genius, 5998; the sons of Israel in the land of Canaan rep. the church; the nations there rep. things infernal; on this account they were given to devastation, and it was forbidden to enter into a covenant with them, 6306; with the Jews there could only be instituted what was representative in the external form, not in the internal; still by that representative there was at that time communication with heaven, 6304(2); Judah sig. the cel. church and the Divine celestial, 6363; the brethren of Judah sig. the truths of the cel. church, 6364; the Lord appeared to the Israelitish people from Mount Sinai according to the quality of the people, thus in smoke, a cloud, and thick darkness, 8861(15), 6832; the Jews acknowledged many gods, and worshipped the name of Jehovah, 6877; with the Jewish and Israelitish nation there was the representative of a church, and not a church, references, 7041(2), 7040–7051; there are several reasons why it is believed even by Christians, that the Jewish nation is chosen, and that they are to be introduced into the land of Canaan; confirming passages from the Word are quoted; from the Word it is shown what is the quality of that nation, 7051; the Jews and Israelites were cruel against their enemies, 7248; in heart they believed in many gods, 7401. The Jews and Israelites were not better than other nations, and in no respect chosen for heaven, although they are called the people of Jehovah, 7439(2); the worship of many gods was implanted in the heart of the Jews more than all other nations, 8301(4); the error that the Jews are again to be chosen, 8301(6); the Jews and Israelites above every other people could rep. holy things, because they worshipped external things as Divine, without an internal, references, 8588(5); in what manner the representative passed from them, first to simple angelic spirits who correspoud with the skin, and from these to interior angels, 8588(6). What the kingdom of judges is, and the kingdom of priests, and next the kingdom of kings; and that the Jews were divided into two kingdoms, what this represented, 8770; interior things are veiled with the Israelitish and Jewish nation, when they are only in representatives, and that this was their sanctification, references, 8788, 8806, 8886, 8928(4). The Israelites were in the greatest obscurity as to the truths of faith, and falsities from evil of life; therefore the Lord appeared to them in a thick cloud, in smoke, and in fire on Mount Sinai, 8814, 8819; this was according to their quality, 8819(2); the posterity of Jacob were most prone to worship things external, and why, 8871(3); they applied the Divine statutes to things idolatrous,

8882. JUPITER. See PLANET and EARTH. The Lord was seen by the spirits of Jupiter, such as He had appeared to them in their earth, 7173; the spirits and inhabitants of the planet Jupiter, 7799–7813; it was granted me to be longer with them than with any from other earths, 7799; they and the planet appear in front towards the left, at some distance, 7800; there are several kinds of spirits from Jupiter, with whom I have discoursed, chastisers, instructors, and holy angelic spirits who have bright faces, 7801; spirits speak with the inhabitants there, 7802; the chastising spirits come to man, and when they come they strike terror; they are described as to their quality, 7803; the instructing spirits came, 7804; the angelic spirits are present at the head, and rule them, 7805; they see two signs, an old man with a white face, for a sign that they should say nothing but what is true, and a face in a window for a sign to depart, 7806; in this case the face of the man of that earth is kept cheerful and smiling with an open mouth, the region of the lips being prominent, 7807; the man is punished severely who commits evils, 7808; spirits speak with man but not man in return, except a few words; it is forbidden him to tell any one that a spirit has spoken with him, 7809; the kinds of punishments, 7810; the angels exercise a species of judicature over man but to appearance, 7811; spirits afterwards come who suggest contrary persuasions from evil, 7812; spirits apply themselves under the left elbow, with a hoarse speech, and are sent before the angels when they come to man, 8021; the speech of their angels attendant upon me was at first grosser, then purer, and at length still purer, 8022–8026; a spirit interrupted the discourse, and admonished me to behave modestly with his angels, 8027; it is according to the order of heaven that spirits should be sent before the coming of angels, as John the Baptist before the Lord, 8028; spirits are taken up into heaven, when they become angels, by bright horses as of fire like Elias, 8029; angels in the first heaven appear clothed in blue; that color is loved by them, 8030: those spirits cannot have consort with the spirits of our earth, why, 8031; the approach and influx of a spirit of Jupiter is gentle and sweet, 8111; signs when there are disagreements among them, a slender ray of white light like lightning, or a little band in which are glittering stars, 8112; they kept my face smiling and cheerful, and have tranquillity and delight in so doing, 8113; they have interior felicity, because their interiors are open to the Lord, 8114; angelic choirs greatly delight them, 8115; in that earth there is a great multitude of men because they can be nourished, 8116; they are distinguished into nations, families, and houses, and have no ambition to bear rule, nor to possess the goods of others, 8117; the case was the same in ancient times on our earth, concerning which times, 8118; the faces of the inhabitants of Jupiter are beautiful, 8242; they believe that after their decease their faces will become larger 8243; and then the fire of heaven will make warm their faces, 8244; on this account they wash and wipe the face much, but care little about the body, 8245; the faces of the inhabitants of our earth did not please them, 8246; they love smiling and cheerful faces, because such with them are in no anxiety concerning things future, nor in care about worldly things, 8246–7; they love faces which are prominent about the lips, because they speak by the face, 8246–7; their speech by the face was shown, 8248; they have also vocal speech, 8248; the most ancient people of our earth held such discourse by the face; its excellence above discourse by words, 8249; the inhabitants of Jupiter do not walk erect, but as it were hop, 8371; they always keep the face forwards and never downwards, 8372; how they sit, 8373; they are very willing that the face should appear, and that hence the spirits appear as if they were swimming, 8373–4; in the warm zones they go naked except with a covering about the loins, nor are they ashamed, because their minds are chaste, 8375; when they lie down, they turn their face forward or into the chamber, why, 8376; they are long at their meals for the sake of discourse at the time, and then they sit on fig-leaves, 8377; they do not prepare their food for the taste but for use, 8378; their habitations within have an appearance like that of heaven, 8379; their tents, 8379. They care for nothing beyond necessities; they love infants, 8380; they have large horses, but in forests, and have a natural dread of them, 8381; the spirits of Jupiter are infested by the spirits of our earth, 8382–3; they weigh well what they say, 8384; they were informed concerning printing, the Word, doctrinals, and what is written, and thus published, 8385; they acknowledge our Lord, whom they call the only Lord, and that He is a man; they have seen Him in their earth, 8541; the doctrine of faith is there handed down from parents to children, 8541; the greatest caution is taken to prevent wrong thoughts concerning the only Lord, 8542; He is the same with our Lord, 8543–4; they do not attend to scandals injected by the spirits of our earth, 8545; all good is from the Lord, a discourse with them, 8546; the Lord is the only Man; men are only so far men as they are His images, 8547; their wisdom is transferred from parents to children successively, 8627; they have no concern about the sciences, because they say they are as clouds before the sun, and cause blindness, 8627–8; they cannot be with the spirits of our earth, why, 8630; they are distinguished from others by their spheres, 8630; an example of their perception and intelligence, from a representation by which they show how the Lord turns evil into good, 8631; they were instructed that the Lord does evil to no one, but they were not willing to admit, until they were told that evil is not from their angels, 8632; they had no concern about things of science or art, 8633; they have no festival days, but perform worship at sun-rising and setting, 8633; the speech of the spirits of Jupiter is inwardly voluble, closing in a murmur, 8733–4; in the Greatest Man they have relation to the imaginative of thought, 8733; their saints, what is their quality, 8735–40; they say that they are mediatory lords, 8735; they call the Lord the supreme Lord, not the only Lord, 8735; they say that the babitation of the supreme Lord is in the sun, and therefore they adore the sun, 8736; the instructing and chastising spirits do not come to them, why, 8737; they wear turreted caps, 8738; in the other life they sit as idols, and their faces shine as by the light of a fire, but that still they are cold, 8739; they cut wood, because they attribute to themselves merit, 8740; those who are called chimney-sweepers, 8846; they have reference to the seminal vessels, and desire to be admitted into heaven, 8846–8; they have conscience on occasion of slight evil, from experience, 8849; I saw a bony baldness, such a sight is presented to them when they are about to die, 8850; they are not concerned about death, because they know that they are to live afterwards, 8850; they do not live more than thirty years, because of the too great abundance of men of that earth, 8851; they enter into the married state in the first flower of youth, 8851.

KNOW, To, KNOWLEDGES (scire, scientia), knowledge, outward or external knowledge, scientific. See DOCTRINE, INTELLIGENCE, WISDOM, PHILOSOPHY, PRINCIPLE, WORD, RATIONAL. The Lord was instructed like another man, 1457, 1461; it is not forbidden to acquire knowledges and by them to confirm the truths of faith, 120; but how wild they are who are desirous to grow wise in the mysteries of faith from things of sense and knowledges, 128–130; the use of external knowledges is for the purpose of serving the internal man, 1486–7; there are two states of man, one from infancy to childhood, the other when he is imbued with knowledges, 1548; the order of influx respecting instruction from knowledges, which are met by things spir. and cel., 1495; by knowledges the external man is conjoined to the internal, which knowledges are implanted in the cel. things of infancy, 1450–1, 1453, 1616; by the senses, learning, and knowledges a way is opened to the internal man, 1563; they who are elevated into heaven are imbued with knowledges, 1802(3); the process of the regeneration of man by knowledges and intellectual truths, 1555; wisdom, intelligence, and knowledge are sons of charity, 1226; it is one thing to know, another to acknowledge, and another to have faith, 806; knowledges are not truths themselves, but the vessels of truth, 1469, 1496; knowledges which have served their use, 1489, 1492, 1490, 1500; are to be destroyed, 1487; knowledges which respect worldly ends, draw man outwards, 1563; knowledges of no use extend themselves to lusts, 1600; they who reason concerning faith, perceive but little, 1385; by things scientific and philosophical no one can comprehend spir. things, 233; those who reason concerning things Divine, are drunken, 1072; from reasoning and outward knowledge come what is evil and falsity, 232–3; they who reason about the things of faith are in doubt and know nothing, 215; those who reason about spirit from things sensual, scientific, and philosophical, 196; they were called serpents, 195; worship from reasonings, 1195; they who reason from the senses and outward knowledge, have little perception, 233, 1385; the intellectual, the rational, and truth of knowledge are distinct, 1904; languages and sciences are of no avail after death, but only the things which man has learned and imbibed by them, 2480; the affections of rational truth and of knowledge, 2503; knowledge rep. by Pharaoh, 1491; the affection of sciences and knowledges excel all other affections belonging to the external man, 1909; the rational is not born of knowledges but of the affections of the knowledges, 1895; are not meant the knowledges taught by the learned, but every knowledge derived from civil life, from doctrine, and from the Word, and imbibed experimentally and by hearing; in the affection of such knowledge the man of the spir. church is, 2718; see RATIONAL; how the rational is born by influx into the affection of knowledges, 2093(2); from the Lord there is influx through the internal rational, and thence into the knowledges of the external man, 1940(2); the rational first conceived makes light of the intellectual, in proportion as man reasons from knowledges, 1911; the rational from things scientific and sensual cannot comprehend Divine truths, exemplified, 2196 (2), 2203, 2209; the knowledges of faith are of no avail unless they have charity, because the former respect the latter as an end. 2049, 2116(3); truths rational and knowledges are like a veil and clothing to spir. truths, 2576; to look behind, and to return back, sig. to have respect to the doctrinals of faith, 2454; it is allowed those who are in the affirmative concerning Divine truths, to enter into things rational and of knowledge as to the doctrinals of faith, but not those who are in the negative, 2568, 2588; how great a desire spirits have to know things, it is their food, how much they are tormented when deprived of the power of knowing what others know, 1973; the reason why the arcana of faith are scientifically expounded, is, because men say that they would believe if they knew it to be so, but they who believe the Word in simplicity, have no need of such expositions, 2094; to know, when predicated of the Lord, sig. to be united, 2826; knowledges, or those things which are of the exterior memory, are most perplexed and shady, 2831(10); he who does not believe except from natural knowledge, believes nothing, 2832; all knowledges which are of the natural man are things of service, 3019–20; see NATURAL; outward knowledge is a vessel of truth, and truth a vessel of good, 3068; by influx truths from the natural man are called forth, are elevated, and implanted in the good of the rational, 3085(2), 3086; all subordination, application, and submission must be from the First of life, or the Lord, that there may be conjunction, 3091; knowledges are the truths of the natural man, 3203; a knowing man is predicated of the affection of truth, 3309; the truths of the natural man are truths of the senses and of knowledge; they succeed in order, 3309, 3310(4); doctrinals are founded on truths of knowledge otherwise no idea of doctrinals can be had, 3310(4); in the learned world, it is debated whether a thing be, and whether it be so, 3428; there are knowledges of external truth which admit things Divine, and there are those which do not admit, 3665(2); see TRUTH; what is to be understood by the learned shining as stars, 3820(4): they who reason whether a thing be, and whether it be so, are in obscurity, and are ignorant of innumerable things, and do not see the first threshold of wisdom, 3833(2, 3); man may know many things by the use of reason respecting the state of life after death, concerning which, 3957(2–5); knowledges respecting spir. good are at this day wanting, and on this account what is said concerning them cannot be comprehended, because influx is into the knowledges appertaining to man, 4136(2); knowledges are the means of growing wise, also the means of becoming insane; by knowledges the rational is cultivated, and is likewise destroyed, 4156(2); they who are in evil can reason about truth and good, and yet be in no enlightenment, because in fatuous light, 4156(3); it is not the part of a wise man to confirm a tenet, but to see clearly whether it be true, 4741(3); that in consulting outward knowledges concerning Divine truths, they who are in the affirmative are confirmed, they who are in the negative are rendered more unsettled, till at length they believe nothing, 4760; the learned believe less than the simple, because they are in the negative, and thus they deprive themselves of interior sight, 4760 (4); the doctrinals of the Ancient Church were doctrinals of charity, and their knowledges and outward knowledges consisted in knowing what the rituals of the church, with other things in the world, rep. and sig., 4844(4); the outward knowledges of the ancients had relation to correspondences, to representations, and significations, 4749, 4964–6; there are outward knowledges at this day of no use, 4966; the interior things of outward knowledges are applications to heavenly things, 4965; every outward knowledge is in the natural man, 4967; outward knowledges are as it were mirrors in which an image of interior things appears, 5201; the things which are in the exterior memory are outward knowledges, and those which are in the interior memory are truths; the former are in the light of the world, the latter in the light of heaven, 5212; the outward knowledges, to which the things of faith and charity can be applied, are all the knowledges about correspondences, representatives, significatives, influx, order, intelligence and wisdom, and the affections and also all truths of inner and outer nature, both visible and invisible because these correspond to spiritual truths, 5213; the knowledges of good are truths, but they do not become truths until they are acknowledged in the understanding and will, 5276; when the natural of man is regenerating, all things are brought together into the outward knowledges there, because these are the ultimates of order, 5373(3); the outward knowledges are the receptacles of good, 5480; every truth of the church has with it ideas derived from outward knowledges, and in the other life this is wont to be shown, 5510; by knowledges man is introduced into the truths of the church, they are like the entrance hall into a house, how the understanding is built up through them, 5580; they who reason from sensual things and are in inverted order, reason with greater sharpness and cunning than others, 5700(2); sensual things, outward knowledges, and truths, are distinct from each other, 5774(2); when conjunction is effected of truth with good in man, incongruous and opposing knowledges are rejected to the side, 5871. Knowledges are ultimates, 5874; from them truths are extracted, and as it were sublimated, 5871–74. The knowledges and truths appertaining to man are arranged in bundles, and conjoined according to the loves by which they were introduced, 5881; the knowledges, which are not acknowledged, are rejected to the last things, thus they are the lowest things, 5886–o. Knowledges are the first things for man to learn, because from them truths are to be drawn, and at length they form a plane into which truths then terminate, 5901; there are knowledges of earthly, corporeal, and worldly things, which are lowest; there are knowledges relating to civil life which are little more interior; knowledges which relate to moral life, which are still more interior; and knowledges relating to the things of the church, which are more interior than all the rest, 5934; the knowledges of the church were the representatives and significatives of rituals, also classifications of the neighbor, 6004 (2); interior truths are collated into knowledges and must be together there, that interior things may agree with exterior, for several reasons, concerning which 6004(4), 6023, 6071, 6077; unless truths are insinuated into knowledges, the conjunction of the internal man cannot be effected, 6052(2); the beginning of conjunction is to be derived from the truths of faith, not from knowledges, if from the latter, man is brought into false and negative principles, 6047; commencement is to be made from the doctrinals of the church, next the Word is to be searched to see whether doctrinals be true; otherwise it would come to pass that truth would be truth merely from a man's native soil; afterwards it is allowed to confirm them by knowledges, 6047(2); knowledges are what the internal sight looks at, as the external sight looks at earthly objects; in the midst are those which delight and are agreeable, and those which are at the sides are obscure, 6068, 6084(2); truths and knowledges are distinct from each other, 6077(5); concerning knowledges true and suitable, or darkened by fallacies and unsuitable, 6112. Knowledges are in loves, illustrated by the case of animals, 6323; man would be born into all wisdom, if he were in charity towards his neighbor and in love to the Lord, thus if he were according to his order, 6323(2); those who, in thinking of the truths of faith, do not elevate the thoughts beyond outward knowledges, 6383(2), 6384; a distinction between doctrinals, knowledges, and outward knowledges, 6386; the man of the spiritual church in the other life is infested by knowledges and falsities, thus he is purified so as to be capable of being elevated into heaven, 6639(2); knowledges in the natural are arranged in series and order according to the ruling love, 6690; sensual things are the first plane, then knowledges, on these things intellectual, also the truth and good of faith, 6750, 6751; truths of knowledge in the church are the Word in the sense of the letter, also the significatives and the representatives appertaining to the Jews, 6832; to know sig. foresight, 6853, 6906; knowledges with the evil are evil and falsity, the same with the good are good and truth, 6917; knowledges are the vessels of good and truth, 7770; what is meant by the scientific being entire, or sound, 8005; interior things flow in into knowledges, 8005; knowledges in things spiritual are as bones in the body, 8005; some have placed wisdom in terms and scientifics; scientifics blind, 8628; they are the means of growing wise, and the means of becoming unwise, 8628(2); exemplified by a learned person who had understood nothing of spir. life, 8629; the intellectual calls forth nothing else from the knowledges of memory but what favors the loves and pre-conceived principles, 9349; basins sig. scientifics or knowledges, these are of use as vessels to receive interior things, 9394; knowledges of memory compared to muscles, 9394(5); knowledges are things of memory for the natural man; by knowledges the internal man is opened; they are the means of growing wise and of becoming insane; they are the vessels of truths, and truths the vessels of good; they become such vessels when they become of the life; be who is in good is capable of being elevated above knowledges and sensual things; man carries with him knowledges into the other life, but they are there quiescent, references, 9922(3); knowledges are of the external man serviceable to the internal, when they pass to things internal, they become truths of faith and goods of charity, 9918; worship is from the interior knowledges of the church, which are doctrinals, 9921; knowledges of faith and love, 9945; from the sensual, thus from knowledges from the world, heaven cannot be entered, 10236 (4); knowledges internal and external are things ministering, 10272; what is meant by wisdom, intelligence, knowledge, and work, they follow in order with the good, 10331; with the evil there is no knowledge in the genuine sense, 10331(3). How knowledges are called up from the memory and applied to use, 9723; to know sig. to understand, believe, and perceive, 10155.

The Lord alone is the life and the living, 290; salvation was effected by the Lord's coming, 637; all live from the Lord, 681; the universal heaven has reference to the Lord, 551–2; the Lord is the Only Man, the all of His kingdom and church, 768 (3); when it is said in the Word the Lord turns His face toward or away from anyone, it sig. man turns toward or away from the Lord, 1054; with the Lord alone there is correspondence of the body with the Divine, 1414; the Lord alone has cel. seed, 1438; he who is not in the Lord's love, is not in His life, thus not an heir, 1799, 1803; some are more remote from the Lord, some nearer to Him, 1799(2), 1802; the presence of the Lord with man is in his charity, 904(2); the fruit of faith is charity, charity is love, and love is the Lord, 1873; the Lord is called the seed of the woman, 256; they who have the faith of charity directed to the Lord, have the heavenly kingdom, 1608; the Lord appears to every one according to his quality, 1861(15); the Lord appears to the cel. angels as a Sun, but to the spir. as a Moon, 1529–31, 1838; He appears to the evil as darkness, and a consuming fire, 1838; there is parallelism and correspondence between the Lord and man as to things celestial, 1831, but not as to things spiritual, 1832; what the priestly kingdom of the Lord is, and what the regal, 1728; the Lord has all power in the heavens and in the earths, 1607; He had power from eternity as to the Divine, 1607(2); the Lord has nothing of power from evil and falsity, but only from Himself, because from good and truth, 1749, 1755; the Lord rules all things, from permission, from sufferance, from indulgence, from good pleasure, and from will, 1755; everything good and true is from the Lord, 1614; marriage love is from the mercy of the Lord towards the whole human race, 686; the Lord looks at all from mercy, 223; to repent, when spoken of the Lord, sig. to pity, 587–8; the good are at the right hand of the Lord, the evil at the left, 1276, so around man and angel, 1274, 1277; the Lord is never angry, still less does He curse and slay, how those expressions are to be understood, 245, 502, 1093, 1874; neither does He lead into temptation, 1875; He never sends anyone to hell, 696, 1683; He withholds man from evil, if not, man would of himself plunge into hell, 789; evil spirits attribute to the Lord the evil of punishment, but the Lord never punishes, 592; He subdues evil and hell with man, 987(3); by birth from a virgin He had infirmities like other men, by conception from the Divine He was Divine, 1414; He was the Perfect Man and the Only Man, 1414. The Lord is the All in all, how to be understood, 1416. The Lord's progress in glorification described, 1616(3); it was known to the sons of the Most Ancient Church that the Lord would come, 1123; the worst sort of them knew that the Lord would come; they rep. Him as an old man and bearded, 1124; the Lord liberated the world from the antediluvians, 1266; the dreadful fantasies of the antediluvians against the Lord, 1268, 1270; the hereditary of the Lord from Jehovah was Divine, from the mother evil, 1414, 1444; the first state of the Lord in which He attained to the cel. things of love, 1438; He fought against the hereditary evil from the mother; but He had no actual evil, 1444, 1573(3); the Lord was instructed as another man from the Word, 1457, 1461; the Lord endured the most grievous temptations, and more than all other men, 1663(2), 1668(2), 1787(2); the Lord was engaged in combat from first childhood to the last hour of life, 1690; the temptations of the Lord were attended with despair concerning the end, 1787; when He combated was attended by angels, to whom He gave power, 1752; He fought from love towards the whole human race, and indeed against the love of self and of the world, 1690(2), 1691(6), 1789, 1812, 1820; the state of the Lord's humiliation, 1785; His perception, 1442, 1791; the Lord knew all things appertaining to Himself, what they were, of what quality, and whence, 1701; the quality of the influx of the internal man through the interior into the external with the Lord, 1707; His internal man was Jehovah; the interior and external was also made Jehovah by temptations and victories, 1725–29(2), 1733(2); the Lord's internal man was Jehovah, because conceived of Jehovah, 1815(2); the Lord is Jehovah is manifest from the Word, 1736; the Lord by union, as to the external man, was also made Jehovah and the life, which is glorification, 1603 (2); the Lord's life from boyhood rep. in Gen. xiii., 1542; the Lord had all power, 1607; union was effected by temptations and victories, 1607(3); the Lord by knowledges was united to things cel., 1616(4); by His own proper power He united the Divine to the Human, 1616(5); He implanted knowledges in the cel. things of infancy, 1616(5); He advanced successively to union with Jehovah, 1864; so far as the Lord was united to Jehovah, so far He discoursed with Jehovah as with Himself, in every other case as with another, 1745(2); Jehovah appeared to the Lord as absent in temptations, 1815(2); the Lord was made justice as to the Human Essence from His own proper power, 1813; this was predicted by the prophets, 1813(3); the Lord alone rose again as to the body, 1729(2); unless the Lord had come into the world, and by temptations admitted into Himself, had overcome and subdued the hells and glorified His Human, all things would have perished, it is sufficient to know and believe this, 1676; some after death were immediately taken up into heaven and accepted by the Lord, 319; all are present under the Lord's view, 1274, 1277; the internal rational of the Lord and the external. See INTERNAL, RATIONAL, and EXTERNAL. The Lord is the only Man; men are so called from the Lord, 1894; what the interior of the Lord is, 1926; the internal of the Lord was Jehovah, to which He united the Human, 1999(5), 2004(3), 2005, 2018, 2025(4). Jehovah was in all and singular things of the Lord inmostly, 1902; Jehovah was His soul, 1921(3); the Lord rules the universe from the Divine itself, from the Divine Human, and from the Holy proceeding, 2288; the Lord rules all things from will, from good pleasure, from indulgence, and from permission, 2447; the Lord is one with the Father; the universal heaven is His; from Him is all innocence, peace, love, charity, mercy, marriage love, all good and truth; Moses and the prophets, and every ceremony of the Jewish Church relate to Him, 2751; the Lord is called the Father, 2005; in the Lord there is a Trine, the Divine itself, the Human, and the Proceeding; this Trine is one, 2149, 2156, 2329, 2447(6); the Trine in the Lord is Jehovah, 2156, 2329; the Lord even as to the Human has life in Himself, 2658(2); the learned were explored, what idea they had of one God, and it was found they could not but have an idea of three, and that hence the Jews said that Christians worship three gods, 2329(6); the state of humiliation and the state of glorification of the Lord; that in the former state the Lord discoursed with Jehovah as with another, in the latter as with Himself, 1999(2); the Divine Human, and the Holy proceeding of the Lord, also the good of charity ought not to be violated; who they are who violate, 2359; mention is made of several persons in the Word, by whom the Lord is sig. in one comprehensive idea, 2535, 2580; the Lord, like men, was in ignorance in infancy, He successively dispersed the shade and emerged into wisdom by His own proper power, 2523(2), 2632; the Divine rational of the Lord was and existed from the union of the spir. Divine with the cel. Divine, 2625(4); the Lord made His rational successively Divine, 2632. Three arcana; the Divine Human sprung forth from the Divine itself; it was not only conceived of Jehovah, but also born; the Divine human is the name of Jehovah, 2628; unition was not effected at once, but successively, 2033; Jehovah, or the infinite Esse, could not appear to man, except by the Human, thus that it was the Lord who was seen of old time; Jehovah cannot flow in except by the Human Essence of the Lord, 1676 (3), 1999(2), 2016(2), 2025(5); this was the cause of the Lord's coming into the world, 1676(2), 1999(3), 2016(2), 2025(5); the Lord from His own proper power united the Human Essence to the Divine, 1921(2), 2025(5); and was thus made justice, 2025(5); the Lord by His own proper power made Divine both the rational, the sensual, and the corporeal, wherefore He alone rose again with His body, 2083; He put off all the human received from the mother, so that at length He was not her son, 2159, 2574(2), 2649 (2). What is meant by the Lord being called the Son of God and the Son of Man, 2150(2); unition was reciprocal of the Divine Essence with the Human, and of the Human with the Divine, 2004; the Lord acquired to Himself wisdom and intelligence by continual revelations from the Divine, or from the Divine love, 2500 (2); He had infinite wisdom, because in the Divine love, 2500(3); love towards the universal human race was the Lord's life when He was in the world, 2253; He arranged all things appertaining to Himself into a cel. form, 1028(2); they within the church, who are in the good of charity, acknowledge the Lord's Divine Human; but not they who are not in the good of charity, 2326, 2354; there is a union of the Lord's Divine with the Human, but that of the Lord with man is conjunction, 2021; in the union of His Human Essence with the Divine, the Lord had respect to the conjunction of Himself with the human race, 2034(2); the conjunction of the Lord with man is in his impurity, 2053; the Lord's love transcends all human understanding, its nature shown by the love of the angels, 2077(2); they who are in external worship could not have been saved unless the Lord had come into the world, 2457; the Lord came into the world that He might save the spiritual, 2661(2), 2716; the obscurity of the spiritual has enlightenment from the Divine Human of the Lord, 2716; in a state of humiliation the Lord interceded, but in a state of glorification He shows mercy, 2250; the Lord is called a servant, when He was in the Human in a state of humiliation, 2159; why the unition of the Divine Essence of the Lord, and His perception and thought, are so much treated of in the internal sense, 2249; why the internal sense of the Word treats of the whole life of the Lord in the world, 2523; the Lord is the Word or doctrine, 2533(3); the Lord is good itself and truth itself, 2011; from the Lord is all good and all truth, 2016; the Lord as a King rep. Divine truth, as Priest, Divine good, 2015(10); the Lord rules the universe, as well heaven as the things which thence depend, 2026(2)–7. His love transcends all human understanding, 2077(2), 2500(3); heavenly love from the Lord flows in, but is impeded by the loves of self and of the world, 2041(2); from Him all life flows in through the internals with men, also with spirits and angels, 1954; good and truth from the Lord so far flow in, as evil and falsity are removed, 2411(2); all order and all the laws of order are from the Lord, 2447 (2); the Lord is present with all, even in hell, but the presence is according to reception, 2706; the Lord thought from the Divine, thus from Himself, otherwise than other men, 1904(4), 1914(2), 1935; the Lord had perception of all things, above all human perception, 1910; it may appear surprising that to believe in the Lord is to be saved, or that faith in the Lord is saving, but faith cannot be given except in its life, which is love and charity, 2343(3), 2340(2); in the Holy Supper, by body is signified the Divine Human and the Holy Proceeding of the Lord, that is, love itself, 2343; men are withheld of the Lord from evil by a mighty power, 2406(2); when the Lord speaks through the angels, they know no otherwise than that they are the Lord, 1025; judgment appertains to the Divine Human, and the Holy proceeding of the Lord, 2310–21; the Lord never judges any one, except from good, He judges no one to hell, 2335(3); the Lord destroys no one, although in the literal sense of the Word it is so said, 2395; evils are attributed to the Lord by the sense of the letter, but they are done from permission, 2447(2); the Lord, in the supreme sense, is the neighbor, and others so much as they have of the Lord in them, 2425(3); the gentiles in the other life, who have been in charity, acknowledge the Lord. See NATIONS; why the Lord questions man, when He knows all things, 1931, 2693; the purpose of the Lord's coming was that the Divine good might be conjoined with truths of reason and outer knowledge, and that man might thus be saved, 2554; the passion of the cross was the last of the Lord's temptations, by which He fully united the Human to the Divine; the general belief is, that the Lord suffered for the human race, and thereby took away their sins, but it is not so, since the passion of the cross was the last of temptation by which He fully united the Human to the Divine, and the Divine to the Human, and thus by that union they may be saved, 2776(2); the Lord induced on Himself various states when He underwent temptations, concerning which, 2786, 2795; the Divine of the Lord, could not be tempted, 2795(2); the Divine Human was not only conceived, but also born from Jehovah, that is, from the Lord Himself, 2803(3); in the Lord there is a Divine marriage of truth and good, from which comes the heavenly marriage, 2803; the Lord, as to the Divine Human, from eternity was truth itself, and the same after He was born into the world, 2803(3), 3195(3); the Lord as to good could not be tempted, but as to truth; the reason, 2813; Truth Divine is the Son of Man, He underwent temptations, 2813 (2); Truth Divine itself is above all temptation, and thus that the Truth Divine in the Human Divine of the Lord, which underwent temptations, is truth rational, 2814; what Divine Truth is, and what Truth Divine, 2814; the Divine Human of the Lord is the all of worship and the all of doctrine, 2811; Truth Divine is what was scourged and crucified by the Jews, 2813(2); the Lord admitted temptations into Himself, and prepared Himself for them, 2816; it was known to the ancients that the Lord would come into the world, and would suffer death, hence it was that they sacrificed their sons, 2818; none are saved by the Father looking upon the Son, but by the union of the Divine with the Human in the Lord, 2854; the Lord is doctrine itself, because He is the Word, 2859; heavenly freedom is from the Lord, and consists in being led of the Lord; see FREEDOM; all life is from the Lord, 2886–9; all good and all truth are from the Lord alone, 2882–3, 2801–2; by the Word in John i. 1–14, which was with God, and God was the Word, is sig. the Lord as to the Divine Human, thus truth, likewise all revelation, and thus the Word, 2894; the Lord spake by representatives and significatives, because from the Divine itself, 2000; all good and truth are from the Lord, 2004(2); so far as man believes that all good and truth are from the Lord, so far he is in His kingdom, 2004(3); the Lord in the Old Testament is the same as Jehovah Zebaoth, or as Jebovah; the Lord in the New Testament is the same as Jehovah, the reason why He is not named Jehovah there, is, because it would not have been believed that He was Jehovah, 2021; Lord Jehovih is used in the Word when the aid of omnipotence is sought, 2021(3); the first state of those who are reforming and regenerating is, that they suppose good and truth to be from themselves, when they are regenerated they believe good and truth to be from the Lord, in which perception are all the angels, 2046. 2060, 2074; there is only one life which is that of the Lord, 3001; all things in nature rep. the Lord's kingdom. See REPRESENTATIONS. What is sig. by the two names of the Lord, Jesus Christ, 3004–3011. See CHRIST. The Lord willed to make His rational Divine, namely, as to good by an influx from His own Divine by an internal way, and also as to truth by influx by an external way, 3030(3); in the sense of the letter a distinction is made between Jehovah and the Lord, but that they are one in the internal sense; the reason, 3035; the Lord expelled the evil and the falsity which He had hereditarily from the mother, 3036; the Divine Human of the Lord is what flows in into heaven, 3038; the process of the regeneration of man is represented by this, that the Lord made His Human Divine, 3043(3); the Divine Human was from eternity and before the Lord was born; it was Jehovah in heaven, thus clothed with the Human; afterwards when He was born a man, it was made an essence by itself, 3061(3); the regeneration of man is an image of the glorification of the Lord; a comparison, 3138(2); the Lord made His rational Divine, both as to good and as to truth, by His own proper power, this in an ordinary way, 3141(2); the Divine Human came forth from the Divine good, and was born of the Divine truth; hence came the Divine good rational of the Lord, to which good, Divine truth from the Human was conjoined, 3194, 3210(2); there is light in heaven more brilliant than light on the earth, the former light is from the Lord, 3105 (2); the Lord is light, 3105(3); He was willing to be born a man, that He might also be light to those who are in thick darkness, namely, who have removed themselves so far from good and truth, 3195(3); the holy of holies in the tabernacle and in the temple rep. the Divine Human of the Lord, its quality was rep. by the things which were therein, 3210 (2); between the good of the Lord's rational and the truth called forth from the natural, and made Divine, there is not a marriage, but a covenant resembling a marriage covenant; but the union of the Divine Essence with the Human, and of the Human with the Divine, is a marriage, 3211; he who is in worldly and corporeal loves cannot believe that the Human of the Lord was made Divine, 3212(2); the quality of the Lord's Divine Human appeared when He was transfigured, 3212; the Lord appears to every one according to the quality of him who receives, 3235(2); the spiritual disagree concerning what is most essential, namely, concerning the Divine Human and Holy proceeding of the Lord, how much more concerning other points, 3241(3); the supreme sense of the Word relates to the Lord, the respective sense to His kingdom, 3245; the Divine natural in the Lord was produced from the Divine good of the rational by Divine truth there, 3283; the Lord is rep. by Jacob and Israel; He is the God of Jacob, and the holy one of Israel, 3305(7); the Lord by temptations made all things appertaining to Himself Divine, even the vessels recipient of truth, 3318(5); the Divine love of the Lord is cel. and spir., but this distinction is in respect to those who receive, 3325 (7); when obeying, or hearkening to the voice of Jehovah is predicated of the Lord, it sig. the union of the Divine essence with the Human by temptations, 3381; when to observe ordinances, precepts, statutes, laws, is predicated of the Lord, it sig. His uniting the Divine essence to the Human by continual temptations from Himself, 3382(2); the Lord had all things from Himself, 3282 (2); the Lord is the Word in the supreme sense, in the internal sense, and in the literal sense, 3393; why the Lord came into the world in the fulness of time, that is, in the consummation of the age, or when there was not any good remaining, not even natural good, 3308(4); the Lord, in the supreme sense, is the neighbor, hence good is neighbor with a difference, 3410(3); Abraham, Israel, Jacob, David, called servant, sig. the Divine Human of the Lord, because it serves as a medium of access to the Divine itself, and by it mankind have salvation, 3441; the natural domestic good appertaining to the Lord, after it had served for a medium, was rejected, 3518; to be lord over, sig. dominion, 3582; evils are predicated of the Lord, as hatred, anger, wrath, fury, when yet the contrary is the fact, 3605 (3). 3607. 3614(6); the Lord's perception from Divine good, and His perception from Divine truth, 3610; heaven corresponds to the Lord: man as to all and single things corresponds to heaven; hence heaven is the Greatest Man, 3624–49. See MAN. The Lord, in the supreme sense, is the Greatest Man, He came into the world that He might make the Human Divine, that all things may have reference to Himself, 3637; they who are in heaven are in the Lord, yea, in His body, 3637–8; the Lord is the Sun of heaven; hence is light in which is intelligence, and heat in which is love; hence are correspondences, 3636, 3643; the Lord is a common centre, every one in heaven is a centre of all influxes in a heavenly form, 3633, 3641; the Lord also rules the hells, 3642; the Lord was distinguished by various names in the Ancient Church, and afterwards they worshipped every one as a separate god, 3667; man is so created that the Divine things of the Lord may descend through him even to the ultimates of nature, and from the ultimates of nature may ascend to the Lord, 3702; the Lord is the Last and the First, 3702; the Lord is Divine good, and from this the Divine truth, thus in the Lord there is nothing but Divine good, but from the Lord Divine truth, 3704(2), 3712(2), 4577; the Divine, which is Divine good, is what is called Father in the Word, and Divine truth what is called Son, 3704(2); in the Lord is the whole Trine, 3704(6); He is one with the Father, 3704(8); He is God from eternity, 3704(12); He rules the universe, 3705(15); He is the Word, also Divine doctrine in a threefold sense, the supreme, the internal, and the literal, 3712(2); the union of the Lord with Jehovah is not such as exists between two; it is a real union into one, so that they are not two but altogether one, 3737; how the case is with the influx of the Lord's life, 3741–3. See LIFE; the coming of the Son of Man is the presence of the Lord in every one, 3900(9); in the Lord is what is infinite, thus Esse, but from the Lord, yet not in the Lord, is what is eternal, thus Existere, 3938(2); the Divine spir. or Divine truth is not in the Lord but proceeds from the Lord, 3969(16); Divine truth is the spirit of truth spoken of in John, 3969(17); as often as the Lord comes into the world, so often the church has been vastated, and a new church established, which is effected by manifest appearings, by inspirations, and by the Word, once in person, 4060 (5); the Lord made the Human Divine, by means, but did not take anything from it, 4065; the Lord had also societies of angels attendant upon Him, because He willed that all things should be done according to order, yet He took nothing from them, but from the Divine, 4075; Divine truth from eternity flowed in by or through heaven into the human race, but inasmuch as this was not sufficient when man removed himself from the good of love, therefore the Lord then came into the world, and made the Human Divine, that Divine truth might proceed from the Divine Human itself, and thus might save the man who would receive it in good, 4180(5); the presence of the Lord with all is according to reception, 4198; truths are not various in the Lord, but appear various according to reception, 4206(2); there is no conjunction with the Lord's supreme Divine, but with His Divine Human, because an idea may be had of the Divine Human, but none concerning the Divine itself, 4211(2); conjunction is given with the Lord's Divine rational and amongst the gentiles with His Divine natural and Divine sensual, 4211; the state of the Lord's Divine when He made the Human Divine, does not fall into the apprehension of any one, not even of the angels, except by appearances and representatives of the regeneration of man, 4237; he who does not love His truth, or is not affected by it, cares nothing for it, 4274; the Lord, by temptations admitted into Himself, subdued all the hells, and reduced all things into order, and made the Human in Himself Divine, 4287(2); the Lord admitted into Himself temptations from the angels, 4295(2); all life is from the Lord, 4318–9, 4321; from the Lord's love towards the universal human race, that life appears in every one as his own, 4320; the Lord appears as a sun at a middle altitude above the plane of heaven, 4321; all things exist and subsist from what is prior to themselves, thus from the first, or the Lord, consequently by or through the spir. world from the Lord, 4523–4; the Lord altogether expelled, cast out, and removed hereditary evil from Himself, this is not the case with man, 4564(4); the Lord advanced from the outermost things of order to interior things by a regular progression, when He made the Human Divine, 4585(2); the Lord alone was born a spiritual cel. man, 4502(3)–4(2); the natural good of the Lord, which was Divine to Him from nativity, 4641, is represented by Esau, 4641; the Lord had Divine good from birth or conception, this was His soul, it was invested exteriorly with what was taken from the mother in which was hereditary evil, 4641; the Divine good of the Lord does not fall under the view of the understanding, but flows in generally, 4642(2); Aristotle concerning the Lord, 4658; the Most Ancient Church could not adore the infinite Being, but the infinite Existing, because the latter they perceived as a Divine Man; the Lord came that He might be made the infinite Existing in which is the infinite Being, 4687(2); the supreme among the doctrinals of the church is that the Human of the Lord is Divine, 4687(3); in the church at this day the Divine Human of the Lord is not acknowledged, 4689(2); the Ancient Church acknowledged the Lord, and then called Him Jehovah, 4692(2); the Christian Church does not do this, the reason, 4692 (4); the Divine itself cannot be communicated to angels, spirit, or man, except by the Divine Human of the Lord, 4724; they acknowledge the Divine alone separate from the Divine Human, who are in the life of faith separate from charity, 4724, 4731(2); the Divine love itself made the Human of the Lord Divine, as heavenly loves make man new; it is as the soul which forms the body to an image of itself, and as the end in respect to the cause, and the cause in regard to the effect, 4727(2); mankind are of such a quality, that they worship that of which they have some idea and in which there is the Divine, the Lord for this reason came into the world, 4733; a distinction between the Divine and Human of the Lord was made in a council, that the papal power might subsist; from experience, 4738(3); the church is none, where it is not acknowledged in life and doctrine that the Human of the Lord is Divine, or that the Lord is one with the Father, 4766(2); the Lord was born as another man as to those things which are from the mother, but He was Divine from the Father, 4963(3); the Lord's internal man, 4963(3); the name Lord and Jehovah are used in the Word where good is treated of, the names God and King where truth is treated of, 4973(2); the Lord made the Human Divine in Himself from His own proper power, references, 5005, 5045; the inmost of the Lord in the world was Divine, but the clothings, or exteriors, made the Human from the mother, in which was hereditary evil, 5041; if any one saw the Lord, he would adore Him from externals, not from internals, but it is otherwise with those who from internals are affected with truths and do goods, 5066–7; the Lord made the body itself in Himself Divine; He alone rose again with the body also, 5078(2); the Lord is the cel. itself and the spir. itself, or good and truth, 5110(2); the Lord is a Divine Man, who was from eternity, or Jehovah, as He is in heaven; He took upon Him the Human that men might have an idea of the Divine, 5110 (3); in the Lord the voluntary from conception was Divine, but the voluntary by birth from the mother was evil, wherefore it was rejected, and in its place a new one was procured by the intellectual, thus from His own proper power, 5157 (3); Christians in the other life say there is one God, but think three; it is otherwise with the gentiles who adore the only Lord, for they say that the supreme God must needs manifest Himself as Man, they cannot think otherwise of God than as of a Divine Man, 5256; what proceeds immediately from the Divine itself, cannot be comprehended, but only what proceeds from the Divine Human of the Lord, 5321(2); the most ancient people and the ancient acknowledged no other by Jehovah than the Lord, 5663(2); and indeed Him as to the Divine Human, because they could not be conjoined in thought and affection to any other than the Divine Human, 5663(3); the Lord never removes Himself from man in his regeneration; evils are what cause the appearance of removals, 5696; in the Lord there is Divine good, and from the Lord proceeds Divine truth, illustrated hy the case of the sun, 5704(2); the Lord requires humiliation and adoration, not for the sake of Himself, hut for the sake of man, because he is then in a state of receiving truth, 5957; evil is attributed to the Lord, when yet it is from man himself, 2447(5); nothing exists from itself, hut from what is prior to itself, thus all and single things from the Lord, 6056; it is a fallacy to suppose that the Lord is angry and does evil, when man himself does it, the manner of which is explained, 6071(2); the Lord wills to have the whole man: he should not be partly his own and partly the Lord's, the reason, 6138(2); in the hells they are against the Lord, but they are willing to hear mention made of the Father the Creator of the universe, a proof that the Lord governs heaven, 6197(2); angels know that all good and truth is from the Lord, all things flow in, but the evil are altogether unwilling to know this, 6193(2); the Divine Human of the Lord from eternity was Jehovah passing through heaven, when He spake the Word, 6280; the natural must needs be regenerated, that there may be influx through the internal from the Lord; the internal is otherwise closed, 6299(2); before the coming of the Lord there was a Divine transflux through the cel. kingdom, then the inhabitants of that kingdom had power, 6371(2)–2; at the time of His coming, this Human Divine ceased. 6371(2); but whereas it was weak, and hence things became disorderly, therefore the Lord came into the world, 6373(2); they who are of the external church do not elevate the thoughts higher than to the Divine natural, but they who are of the internal church elevate them higher, 6380; before the coming of the Lord the spir. kingdom was not separated from the cel., 6372; they who are regenerated, are elevated from things sensual, 6183; before man is regenerated, he looks at good from truth, but when he is regenerated, he looks at truth from good, 6247; external things are obscure in respect to things internal, because they are common or general; they are clear when they are reduced to compliance and correspondence with things interior, and when man can be elevated towards things interior, which is effected by regeneration, 6454; the influx of the Lord mediately through heaven, and immediately from Himself. See INFLUX. The providence of the Lord in things most particular. See PROVIDENCE. The influx of life from the Lord. See LIFE. All in heaven acknowledge the Lord, but all in hell are against the Lord, yet they acknowledge a Supreme Being, 6475; the Lord is Father when man becomes competent to judge for himself, and the natural father is no longer a father as before, 6492; there must be influx from the internal into the good of the spir. church, otherwise its good is not good, 6499(2); when man is regenerated, a change takes place, in this case truth becomes good, and ascends above things external and knowledges, 6507; so long as truth alone predominates, and not good, the natural is not subdued, but it is subdued when good has the dominion; concerning which subjugation, and the token of its taking place, 6567; the Lord draws the man of the church continually towards things interior and into heaven, thus nearer to Himself, this is from love towards the human race; He wills to have them with Himself, 6645(2); the inhabitants of all the earths, if not idolaters, adore the Divine under a human form, thus the Lord; they know that they cannot otherwise be conjoined to the Divine, 6700; the process of regeneration; the first state when good does not appear; the second when it manifests itself, 6717; with Christians the relationship of neighbor must be derived from the Lord, thus good from the Lord is the neighbor, 6706, 6711; see NEIGHBOR. In the Lord the inmost of life was Jehovah; the Lord from that made His Human Divine, thus from His own proper power, 6716(2). The Lord made Himself the Divine truth, when in the world, 6716(3); man who is regenerating is let into evils and falsities as to the external, whilst the Lord acts and arranges by internal influx, 6724(2); regeneration proceeds in spir. things in like manner as in worldly things during his growth in the world, 6751; they who are regenerating advance successively into the knowledges of good and truth, 6766(2); see REGENERATION; the Lord appears to every one according to his quality, 6832; the angels are veiled with a thin and suitable cloud, lest they should be hurt by Divine influx, 6849; unless the Human of the Lord were Divine it could not in any wise be united to the Divine itself, on account of the ardor of infinite love, which otherwise would consume, 6849(5); the Lord was the God of the Ancient Church, 6846; the Lord, when He was in the world first made the Human in Himself Divine truth, or the Divine law, afterwards Divine good, 6864; the Human of the Lord was made Divine from Divine love, 6872(2); the ancients, when they thought about God, thought of the Lord as to the Divine Human, so likewise the angels, 6876(2); the Divine truth proceeding from the Lord cannot be heard or perceived by any one, until it has passed the heavens, and then it is called the Holy Spirit, 6982, 6985; all the Trine is in the Lord; the Holy Spirit is the Divine truth proceeding from the Lord, 6993; all truth likewise, which is uttered, is from the Lord, not only mediately, but also immediately, 7004(2); to the Lord is also attributed evil, the reason, 6997; the conjunction of truth immediately proceeding from the Lord with truth mediately proceeding, 7055–6. See INFLUX. The Divine in the Lord, appeared as it were absent so far as He was in the Human derived from the mother, and so far present as He was in the Human glorified or made Divine, 7058(3); the Lord successively glorified Himself, when He was an infant, and when He grew in intelligence and wisdom; He first made Himself truth from the Divine, afterwards Divine truth, lastly Divine good, 7014; the Lord never opposes any one, but it so appears, when man or spirit opposes himself to the Divine, 7042; the Lord is the Sun of heaven from which is love and faith, as from the sun of the world there is heat and light, 7083. See CHARITY. The Lord is the Lord of heaven, 7086; He appeared in the Sun of heaven to the spirits of Mercury, to the spirits of Jupiter, and to those who had seen Him in this earth, 7173; in Him there is a Trine, the Father in Him, the Holy Spirit from Him, 7182; He is the only God, 7209; the Divine Human of the Lord is the all in heaven, because the angels cannot think of the Divine itself, 7211; they who are in heaven, are in the Lord's life, 7211; the Divine truth immediately proceeding from the Lord, and successive truths, do not affect heaven, but they are as radiant belts of flame which encompass the Sun, which is the Lord, 7270(2). The Lord when He was in the world, made His Human Divine truth, then He called the Divine good, Father, 7409; afterwards He made Himself Divine good, and then Divine truth proceeded from His Divine Human, 7409; Jehovah, or the Lord, extolling His power in the Word is not for the sake of Himself, but for the sake of the human race, that they may be in blessedness, and may thus receive life and happiness, 7550; from the Lord there is nothing but good; the evil and the hells bring evil upon themselves, by turning the Lord's good into evil, 7710, 7926(2); the good from the Lord's presence are in good, and the evil are still in evil, 7989; the Divine itself spake by Divine truth, which was the Lord in the world, and afterwards it proceeded from the Lord, 8127; Divine good is in the Lord, and Divine truth from the Lord, 8241; the Lord as to the Divine Human was called servant, because He served and ministered, 8241; they who are in falsities from evil are cast into the hells from the Lord's presence only, 8137(3), 8265; the Lord is the only Man; men are only so far men as they are images, that is, as they are in good, 8547; our Lord is the only Lord with the inhabitants of Jupiter, 8541–8547. See JUPITER. How the Lord turns evil into good, represented, 8631; from the Lord there is nothing evil, nor even harsh, 8632; the Lord, when He was in the world, was Divine truth, but when glorified was Divine good; from which considerations many arcana may be known respecting what the Lord spake concerning Himself and the Father, 8724; the Divine of the Lord in itself is far above His Divine in heaven, 8760(2); the Lord appears to every one according to his quality, 8810; the Lord as to the Divine Human is meant by Jehovah, because the Divine cannot otherwise be approached, 8864; the Lord as to the Divine Human reigns universally in all things of heaven and in all things of the world, 8864–5; they who are in evil, in no case acknowledge the Divine Human of the Lord; they can indeed understand that it is so, but they cannot believe, 8878; everything existing is from something prior to itself, thus from the first, and at length from the supreme, thus from the Lord, 9128(3); evils and falsities are not from what is superior, but from what is inferior, thus not from the Lord, but from the world, 9128(3); in the Lord was rep. the state of the church at the time when He was crucified; what was represented on this occasion by blood; what by water, 9127(6); the divided garments, sig. total dissipation of truths, 9093; what by the crown of thorns, 9144(10); the Lord is called Lord from Divine good, but God, King and Master, sig. the Lord as to Divine truth, 9167(2); the Lord is Jehovah; the Divine which He called Father is the Divine good in Himself, He is the only God, references, 9194; they who are good acknowledge the Lord, but not they who are in evil, although they are in truths, 9193(3); the Lord is better accepted out of the church than within it, 9198(2) The Lord was Divine truth when in the world, 9199(3); He was made Divine good when He was glorified and departed out of the world, 9199(3); references on the subject that the Lord made His Human Divine, 9315(5); He expelled all the human which was from the mother, 9315(5); the angels think of the Trine differently from men, because they think that the Lord is the sole and only God, which is illustrated by there being three things which make one in an angel, 9303; the Lord was and is Jehovah in a Human form, 9315; from Divine good proceeds Divine truth, as from the sun the light of the universe, 9199(5); the Lord dwells in His own, thus in what is Divine, in man and angel, and not in the proprium of any one, 9338(6); the Lord was willing to be born on our earth, which was done for the sake of the Word, 9350–62. See the WORD. They acknowledge the Lord in another life, who have worshipped God under a human form, 9359; they who acknowledge the incomprehensible, acknowledge no God, 9356; the spirits of other earths rejoice when they hear that the Lord is actually Man, 9361; Divine truth proceeds from the Divine Human of the Lord, 9308–9; to see God sig. presence in the Word, 9405, 9411; the Lord's coming is His coming and presence in the Word, 9405; in what manner Divine truth proceeds from the Lord, and flows in, illustrated by circles, 9407(14); the presence of the Lord is with man, but not man with the Lord, 9415(2); the Lord underwent the most grievous temptations, and this from Divine love, that He might save the human race; thus He made the Human in Himself Divine, references, 9528; the presence of the Lord in heaven and with man is according to the reception of good from the Lord, 9680(2), 9682(2)–3. The kingly office of the Lord is signified by the names Christ, Anointed, Messiah, the priestly office by Jesus and Saviour, 9809(9); all in heaven look to the Lord; to look to Him is to look by love to Him, also by charity towards the neighbor, 9828; the good of love to the Lord from the Lord is the only good, from which are all truths and their order, 9863; all in heaven turn the face to the Lord, and they who are out of heaven turn back from Him, 9864(2); as soon as an angel is elevated into the Divine sphere, he perceives the Lord as to the Divine Human, 9933(2); the Lord fought with the hells and reduced all things into order, when He was in the world; He does so to eternity, thus He has carried iniquities and sins, 9937; the things which are done by the Lord are said to be from will, from good pleasure, from favor, and from permission, which are degrees of influx, 9940; the esse of the Lord's life was Jehovah, for the soul is from the father, 9954

(11); those who worship an idol of stone may think of the invisible God, to whom it was said, that they may worship the invisible God, in the Lord who is the visible God, 9072; the Divine power of the Lord is the power of saving the human race, by removing hell, and by flowing in through heaven, this appertains to the Lord alone, 10019(3); He united Divine truth to Divine good which was in Himself, 10047, 10052(2). See GLORIFICATION. In the heavens no other Divine is acknowledged but the Divine Human of the Lord, 10067(2); Jehovah the Father cannot be comprehended by any idea, and hence not be believed in, consequently not loved, 10067(3); He may be comprehended by the Divine Human of the Lord, 10067(4); in the Lord there was reciprocal unition of Divine truth and Divine good, thus of the Divine Itself and the Divine Human, 10067(6). The Lord made His Human Divine truth, and by degrees also Divine good, shown by the regeneration of man, 10076(7); two states of the glorification of the Lord illustrated by the two states of the regeneration of man, 10076; the acknowledgment of the Lord is the first and most essential of all things of the church; without it nothing of faith and of love to God can be given in the church, 10083(6); the Lord has all power in the heavens and in the earths, 10080; to acknowledge the Lord is the first thing of the church; without it there can be nothing of truth and of good, without it moral life does not save, 10112; the presence of the Lord in the heavens from the Sun, for He Himself is in the Sun, 10106; the Lord is heaven and the church, because He dwells in His own, and not in the proprium of man and of angel, thus He is all in all there, 10125, 10151(2), 10157; the Lord even as to the body made Himself Divine, confirmed from the formation of the soul in the human, thus the Human of the Lord was not as the human of man, 10125(3); He is called God manifestly in the Old Testament, 10154; He redeemed man by His blood, its signification in the external, internal, and inmost senses, 10152(2). See JUSTICE. All turn themselves to those things which they love, thus the good to the Lord who is in the heavens, 10130(4); the true worship and true love of the Lord consist in doing His precepts, 10143(5), 10158; the Lord's presence with the good differs from His presence with the evil, 10146; in the universe throughout, God is worshipped under a human form; this is implanted from heaven, where the Lord is heaven itself, 10159; all turn themselves according to their loves, in heaven all turn to the Lord in every turning, since the Lord turns them to Himself, 10189(4); they within the church who do not acknowledge the Lord, have no conjunction with the Divine; it is otherwise with those who are out of the church and live well, 10205; when it is said of the Lord that He fulfilled all things of the law, it sig. all things which are said in the internal sense in the Word concerning the glorification of His Human and concerning temptations, 10239 (4); the Divine good of the Lord is simply one, because infinite, its being distinguished into cel. and spir. is owing to dissimilar reception, 10261(2); the angels acknowledge no other Divine than the Divine Human of the Lord, because they can think about it and love it which they cannot do respecting the Divine which is the Father, 10267; the Human of the Lord is Divine, because from the Esse of the Father, illustrated by the likeness of fathers in their children, 10269; the Lord is good itself and truth itself, 10336; the union of the Divine itself with the Divine Human of the Lord is the sabbath, the six days of works which precede are His combats with the hells, 10356, 10730–2; see SABBATH. The essential of the church is to acknowledge the Divine Human, or to acknowledge the union of the Divine itself in the Human of the Lord, 10370; heaven is closed and hell opened with those who deny the Divine of the Lord, 10033(8); to be disjoined from the Lord and heaven is to perish, 10452(4); the church exists where the union of the Divine Itself with the Human of the Lord is acknowledged, 10372; the face of Jehovah is the Lord, 10570; the Lord is called an angel as to the Divine Human, 6831, 10528; to love the Lord is to live according to His commandments, 10578(3); the Lord from eternity was the Divine Itself passing through the heavens, 10579(4); this was in the Human form, which it actually put on in the world, 10570(4); Jehovah, Jehovah, God, sig. the Trine in the Lord, 10617; the Lord is good itself and truth itself because infinite, 10618–19; if man be worshipped instead of God, and not the Lord, infernal spirits are worshipped, 10642(2); the Lord alone is to be worshipped, and no other, 10645; to have faith in the Lord, and to love Him, is to will and to do His precepts, 10645; the Lord wills worship and glory, not for the sake of Himself, but for the sake of man's salvation, this is the glory of the Lord, 10646(3); the Lord by the passion of the cross fully glorified His Human and subdued the hells, 10655(2); man's salvation is owing to this, that the Lord subdued the hells and glorified His Human, 10655, 10650; the passion of the cross was not to reconcile the Father, and to do many other things which are believed, and which involve contradiction; it was the last of temptation and of combat, 10650; the union of the Human with the Divine Itself in the Lord is the primary truth of the church, to which all things therein have reference, 10728, 10730; spirits from some earth in the universe concerning the Lord, 10736–38: they are confused by the idea of three persons in one God, which idea is infused by visitors from our earth, 10736–8; they think of God that He is man, and perceive Him under a human form, and that they know this, is confirmed from the ancients in our earths, in like manner they perceived God, 10737; they can conceive a Trine in God as the trine in an angel, namely, the inmost invisible, the external visible, under a human form, and the proceeding sphere of life, so concerning the Divine in the Lord, 10738; the Human of the Lord is Divine; shown from the Word, and from rationality; His inmost is what is called Father, the external which is Human is what is called Son, and the Divine proceeding the Holy Spirit, 10738 (2); doctrinal concerning the Lord, 10815–10831; the primary of the church is to acknowledge God, 10816; they who are within the church ought to acknowledge the Lord, His Divine and Human, to believe in Him and to love Him, 10817; He who does not acknowledge the Lord and His Divine within the church, cannot be saved, 10818; no one can be conjoined to God except by the Lord and in the Lord, 10818; the Lord is God, 10810; they who are in the light of heaven see the Divine in the Lord, not they who are only in the light of the world, 10820; they who have an idea of three Persons in the Divine, think of three, but it is otherwise with those who have an idea of three in one Person, 10821; as is the case when a Trine in the Lord is thought of, 10822; the esse or soul is from the father, the existere therefrom is the body, this is seen in the likeness of the father in the sons, 10823; the Divine and Human is one Person, is agreeable to the faith received from the Athanasian Creed, 10824; the Lord rose again with the whole body, otherwise than other men, 10825; they who make the Human of the Lord like to the Human of another man, do not think of the several things treated of, 10826; whereas in the Lord all is Divine, therefore He has all power in the heavens and in the earths, 10827; the Lord saved mankind by this, that He subdued the hells, and glorified His Human, 10828; and the passion of the cross was that by which the last victory was obtained, 10828; to love the Lord is to live according to His commandments, 10829; the Lord put off the human from the mother, and put on the Human from the Father, 10830; the appearance of the Lord in a cloud, see 10810–11. The Lord appears to the angels in the Sun as a Man, encompassed there with solar fire, 10809; how He appeared to spirits of the sixth earth, 10809–11.

Lot the son of Haran son of Zerah rep. the origins of idolatries, from Lot were two idolatrous nations, 1359, 1364; Lot rep. the Lord as to His sensual and corporeal man, the sensual and corporeal itself, 1428, 1434, 1547, 1563, 1597–8, 1608; Lot rep. the pleasures which pertain to voluntary things, and which constitute the sensual man, but the outermost of it, which also left the Lord, described Gen. xiii. by Lot, 1535–1618; Lot or the sensual in relation to the internal rep. by Abram, 1562–1600; Lot, Abram's brother's son, rep. the external man when apparent good occupied it, but when called Abram's brother rep. it when occupied by genuine good and truth, 1707 (5); he brought back Lot, the external man, 1718; he rep. those in external worship but still in good, 2317, 2324, also successive states of the church commencing from them, 2317, 2324, 2422, 2459; their end is Moab and Ammon, 2324(2); see Moab and Ammon. Lot rep. good, 2309; the good of charity, 2370, 2373, 2375, 2379, 2387, 2390, 2400; in Gen. xix. Lot rep. the spir. church, how in process of time it declines, 2312; at first it is in good of charity and acknowledges the Lord, six stages of decline until good is adulterated and falsified, 2313, 2317–68.

Lots. Lots are said to be of the Lord's kingdom, because the land which was divided by lots sig. the Lord's kingdom, 3230(2); to cast lots and parting the garments sig. to pull these truths asunder and d sperse them, 9942(13).

Love. In general there is love to God, and love towards the neighbor, or charity; there are also the love of self and the love of the world. See Charity, also Affection. Love is the greater luminary, not faith without love, 30–38, see Sun. Angels perceive whatsoever is of faith by love from the Lord, 202; the cel. church by love has faith, 337, 393, 308; angelic love consists in loving the neighbor more than self; such love may be given, from experience, 548; heaven and heavenly joy is mutual love, 549, see Heaven. The societies in the heavens are according to all the differences of mutual love and of faith, comparatively as consanguinities and affinities on the earth, 684–5, 917; marriage love is the fundamental of all loves, 686, 3021, 4280; mutual love constitutes heaven, hatred, hell, 693, 695; the love of self is contrary to true love, 760; there are consanguinities and affinities of love, and so likewise of faith, 917; love to the Lord is a likeness, and charity an image, 1013; they who place the essential of salvation in faith, do not even see and attend to those things which the Lord so often spake concerning love and charity, 1017; in universal nature there is love, whence comes union, in all things except with man, 1055; self-love is full of all kinds of evils, 1326; the essence of cel. love is the desire to give all its own to another, 1419; loves are the ends, 1568 (3); nothing lives but love and affection, 1580; mutual love is by or through the internal man from the Lord, 1594(5); mutual love conjoins, 1594(5); the mercy of the Lord which is of love, is described, 1735; Jehovah is love, 1735(2); the Lord fought from love towards the whole human race, 1780, 1812–13, 1820(5); the love of the Lord, its quality, 1799(2); so far as any are in mutual love, so far they are heirs of the Lord's kingdom, 1802(2); evil genii and spirits fight against man's love, thus against his life, 1820; love to the Lord and towards the neighbor is the essential celestial, 1824; conscience, which is of charity, is intermediate between the Lord and man, 1862; Divine love is love towards all, may be manifest from the influx and increase of love towards posterity, successively, 1865(3); the fruit of faith is charity, love to the Lord, the Lord, who is the internal sense of the Word, 161, 1873; the love of infants, see INFANT. Marriage love, see MARRIAGE. All loves exist from the marriage of good and truth, 2733(2), 2737–9; the loves born from marriage love are as consanguinities and affinities, 2739; see also AFFINITIES and MARRIAGE. Marriage love, the love of infants, and mutual love, constitute the cel. things of the Lord's kingdom, and mutually succeed each other, 2039; by mutual love in the other life is all consociation, and by the love of self all destruction, 2057; heaven is mutual love, 2130(4)–1; inasmuch as the angels are in love, they are in intelligence and wisdom, 2500(3), 2572(3); the difference between love to the Lord and charity, 2023; he who is in love to the Lord, must needs be also in love towards the neighbor, or charity, 2227; love is spir. heat, such as the love is, such is the heat, 2146; cel. love from the Lord continually flows in, but the love of self and of the world hinder its reception, 2041(2); the wisdom of the Lord is infinite, because He is Divine love itself, 2500(3), 2572; the Lord's love transcends all human understanding, 2077(2); the life of the Lord in the world was love towards the entire human race, 2253; they who are without love, do not attend to all those things which the Lord spake concerning love, 2371(6); when love is named with those who are not in the life of faith, it appears as full of darkness and dust, 2343(7); love is spiritual conjunction, 2349(2); in Divine love there is omniscience of all things Divine, cel., spir., rational, natural, 2572; the angels are in the wisdom and intelligence of all things, because in love to the Lord and in mutual love, 2572(3); mutual love and all good loves are and exist from the marriage of good and truth, 2728, 2737–8. The distinction between mutual love and marriage love, 2738; love is the very being of life, 3063; heavenly freedom appertains to love to the Lord and towards the neighbor. See FREEDOM. All societies in the heavens constitute as it were one man, 684. On this account, and by reason of correspondence, heaven is called the Greatest Man, 1276; the Word before the Lord appears an image of a man, 1871; man sig. the church and everything of the church, 768; difference between a cel. man, a spir. man, and a dead man, 81, 123, 128; Adam or man sig. the Most Ancient Church, 477–9, 502, 505; man sig. understanding, wife, will, 770, 915; men as to their souls have a situation in the Lord's kingdom, 1277; if men were in the spirit, they might converse at any distance, 1277; there are with every man at least two spirits and two angels, 697; man is born into no exercise of life, but has everything to learn, otherwise than the brute animals, 1050(2); man is nothing but evil, 987; man is worse than the brute animals, 637; difference between man and beast, 1999(3); man (homo) and man (vir) brother sig. the will and intellectual, here filthy, 1007; the Lord, in the unition of his Human Essence with the Divine, had respect to the conjunction of Himself with the human race, 2034(2); the Lord is the only Man, and that hence men are called men, 1894; man would be born into the rational if order were not destroyed in him, 1902; now he is miraculously made rational by an external way, 1902(2); man is a recipient of life, not life itself, 2021(2); men who are in good are in society with angels as to their souls, 2379; the ideas of man are most obscure respectively, 2367.

They who are in the Greatest Man in the heavens and in the earths make one, 2853(2). All heavenly societies belong to some province in the body, and heaven is the Greatest Man, 2996, 2998. See Representations. All parts of the body correspond to the Greatest Man, 3021; man is not born into natural truth, still less into spir. truth, he must learn everything, otherwise he would be viler than the brutes, 3175; man does not live from himself; he is an organ recipient of life, 3318(2); in man there is an alliance of truths and goods as it were making one state, illustrated by the Greatest Man, 3584; heaven corresponds to the Lord and man as to all things, hence heaven is the Greatest Man, 3624–3640; angels from cel. order know all things which are in man, 3626; everything exists and subsists from another, and is connected by things prior with the first, 3627–8; forces from without and from within act into all forms that they may subsist; the forces from without are not alive, the forces from within are alive, which must correspond to each other, 3628; there are many societies in heaven, to which one organ and member corresponds, the more numerous they are, so much the more powerful, 3629; it cannot be known that natural effects are from things spiritual, because it appears altogether otherwise, 3630, 3632; influx into the muscles of the face, 3631; heaven is immense, few respectively are from this earth, 3631; spir. things flow in into natural, evident from actions which are of the will, and from discourses which flow from the thoughts, 3632; Divine order terminates in things external appertaining to man, 3632; spirits and angels appear to themselves as men, 3633; man is a little heaven from love and charity, 3634; the heart corresponds to things cel. and the lungs to things spir., 3635; the Lord is the Sun of heaven, hence is light in which is intelligence, and heat in which is love; hence also are correspondences, 3636, 3643; the Lord, in the supreme sense, is the Greatest Man, He came into the world and made the Human Divine, that all things might have reference to Himself, 3637; they who are in heaven are in the Lord, yea in His body, 3637–8; the societies of heaven keep a constant situation, howsoever man, spirit, or angel is turned; from this circumstance it is evident that heaven is the Greatest Man from the Lord, 3638–9; the hells also have a constant situation under the soles of the feet; it is a fantasy that some thence appear above the head and in other places, 3640; those in the hells have an opposite situation with head downwards, and feet upwards, thus they act in unity, 3641; the Lord the common centre, every one the centre of influxes in the heavenly form, 3633; thought and speech with the angels penetrated hell, but in the way it was changed into the opposite, good and truth into evil and falsity; thus also they made one, 3642; man has a situation in the Greatest Man as to his soul while he lives in the body, 3644–5; the kingdom of the Lord is a kingdom of ends and of uses, from experience, 3645; there is also an influx and correspondence of the Greatest Man with beasts, but it is according to their souls, thus otherwise than in man, on which subject see several particulars, 3646; some who have lived like beasts; they had little of life, but life from the angels was successively inspired into them, 3647; there is a correspondence of the Greatest Man with the subjects of the vegetable kingdom, concerning which, 3648; three classes of men in the church, those in love to the Lord, those in charity toward the neighbor, and those in affection for truth, 3653; man is nothing but evil, on which account he must be regenerated, 3701; man is so created that the Divine things of the Lord may descend by or through him even to the ultimates of nature, and from the ultimates of nature may ascend to the Lord, so that man might be a uniting medium of the Divine with the world of nature, and of the world of nature with the Divine, 3702; the Greatest Man is from influx of the life of the Lord, who is the only Man; hence are the cel. and spir. things which flow in with man; see the continuation concerning the Greatest Man and correspondence with him, 3741–50; see also LIFE. The varieties in the Greatest Man are innumerable, and are altogether in the relation in which the organs, members, and viscera in man or the human body are, 3744–5; in general they refer to the head, breast, abdomen, members of generation, and what are interior and exterior, in each, 3746; there are three degrees of life in man, from experience, 3747(3); the learned know nothing about the Greatest Man, 3747–50, see LEARNED; the Greatest Man and the correspondence of the heart and lungs, 3883–96; see HEART and RESPIRATION. There is correspondence with the Greatest Man, 3883; heaven is in man, 3884; in heaven or the Greatest Man there are two kingdoms the cel. and spir., 3887–9; and innumerable societies, 3890–91; the motions of the heart and the respiration of the lungs correspond to the cel. and spir. things of the Greatest Man, 3889–95; the life of the natural man is contrary to the life of the spir. man, before man is regenerated, 3913; in man there are three things in general, the corporeal, the natural, and the rational; they communicate, 4038(2); man is a little heaven in the least form, 4041; by man alone there is given descent from the heavens into the world, and ascent from the world into heaven, 4042; spirits and angels are men, man is man from intelligence and wisdom, 4051.

Man feels it irksome to think about cel. and spir. things, but not about sensual and worldly things, 4096(3); when spirits come to man and enter his affections, they know no otherwise than that the things appertaining to man are their own, 4186(2); the Greatest Man and correspondence in general, 4039–55, 4218–28, 4318–4331, 4403–4420; the Lord alone is Man, angels, spirits, and men are men, so far as they receive Divine things from the Lord, 4210–20; there is correspondence in the organic forms, and in the parts of their parts, 4222; it is with the functions of the organs, and on that account with the organic forms themselves because they act in unity, 4223–4; it is not only with the organic forms which are visible, but also with those which are invisible, by which the internal senses and affections operate, 4224; they are within the Greatest Man who are in love to the Lord and in charity towards their neighbor; they are out of him, who are in the love of self and of the world, 4225; man is a little heaven, 4279(2); man sig. what is good, 4287(4); man (vir homo) sig. truth from good, 4287(5); from the situation of spirits and their application to myself, I was able to know what was their quality, 4403; the correspondence of the eye and of light with the Greatest Man, 4523–33; the correspondence of the hearing and ears, 4652–4660; man is a little world natural and spiritual, 4523–4; man has connection with the Lord more than the beasts have, hence he cannot die, 4525; heaven is the Greatest Man, whatever passes through it has with it an image thereof in the whole and every part, 4687 (2); the correspondence of the taste, tongue, face with the Greatest Man, 4791–4805; in the other life, those in order or good, appear as men, those not in order but in evil, appear as monsters, 4839(2); the correspondence of the hands, arms, shoulders, feet, soles, and heel, with the Greatest Man, 4931–53; the correspondence of the loins and genitals with the Greatest Man, 5050–62; there are degrees from things interior to things exterior with man, 5114(3); man is capable of receiving what is Divine by affection; he has a reciprocal by which he appropriates it to himself, otherwise than the beasts, wherefore he cannot die, 5114(5); the correspondence of the viscera and interior things of the body with the Greatest Man, 5171–89, 5377–96; from situation and influx it may be known to what provinces angelic societies belong, 5171; when man is in the literal sense of Word and lives according to it, he is in correspondence, 3464(2).

Man is not man from form, speech, thought, but from good and truth; in those he can look at what is Divine, and receive it perceptibly, 5302; it is otherwise with a beast, from experience, 5302 (2); in the Greatest Man the head is cel., the body is spir., the feet natural, 5328; man is internal and external, the former is in heaven, the latter in the world, and ought to obey, 5368; spirits and angels attendant on man, 5846–66; all things flow in with man, both what he thinks and what he wills, 5846; there are with man two spirits from hell and two angels from heaven, 5848; by them there is communication, 5848; man would die if the spirits from hell were taken away, 5849, 5854(3); what the order of man should be, and what it is, 5850; the spirits with man vary according to his affections, 5851; when spirits from hell come to man, they are not in hell, but are then in the world of spirits, and at the same time in man's loves, 5852; when spirits come to man, they instantly enter into all things of his memory, 5853, 5857, 5859–60; spirits suppose that all things of man are their own, 5853, 5858; spirits flow in into the thoughts, angels into ends, good spirits into those things which are of faith and charity with the man, 5854; man is in consort with spirits as to his interiors; the societies in which he has been, are shown him, 5861; spirits do not know that they are attendant on man, 5862; if they knew, they would destroy him, 5863–4; the corporeal of man appears to spirits as a black mass, with those who are in faith, as something woody, 5865; man after death appears as a man from head to heel, and is also endowed with the same faculties, 5883; man is a heaven in the least form; he is created to be an image of heaven as to the interiors, and an image of the world as to exteriors, 6013; the soul is the very man himself who lives after death; it is better to call it the spirit or interior man, than the soul, 6054; the spirit in the other life appears as a man with all things which are proper to man, 6054(2); the internal man is created to be an image of heaven, and the external to be an image of the world, 6057; thus in man the spir. world is conjoined with the natural world, 6057(3); what reigns universally with man, is in each and everything appertaining to him; such as man's quality is in general, such it is in each and everything, 6159; spirits enter into all things of man's memory, and suppose those things to be their own, 6192–3, 6198–9; they do not know that they are with man, 6192; see INFLUX. Every one appears in a human form according to the reception of good and truth from the Lord; angels are in a beautiful form, infernal spirits in a form scarcely human, but as monsters, and in like manner hell, the societies there, and each in the society, 6605, 6625; here see concerning the communication of good and truth, 6605; man is in the least such as he is in the greatest, 6571, 6626.

There must be many earths to make the Greatest Man complete, 6807; governments and kingdoms in heaven as to things spir. are rep. as one man; the church of the Lord through the whole globe is so represented, 7306; man and beast sig. the evil of lusts interior and exterior, 7424, 7523, 7872; good or evil interior and exterior, 7424, 7523, 7872.

those who attribute all things to nature, and nothing to the Divine, 4941; the greatest part of Christians are sent into the lower earth, because they are natural, 4944; they who attribute all things to nature and still talk of a Supreme Being, cannot have an idea of a living Deity, 4950; universal nature is a theatre representative of the Lord's kingdom, because things spiritual and celestial there terminate, 4939; cel. things are the head, spir. things the body, and natural things the feet, in this order they succeed and flow in, 4038–9; natural good and truth is from a twofold origin, from what is hereditary and from doctrine; the former is natural good and truth, but the latter is natural spiritual good and truth, 4988 (2), 4992; the merely natural nauseate those things which are of heaven, and the very mention of spir. things, from experience, 5006(2); truth natural not spir. has affinity with truth natural spir. but not conjunction, 5008, 5025, 5028; the natural regard spir. good and truth merely as a servant, 5013, 5025; the spiritual is prior, and the natural posterior, 5013; those who are natural and not at the same time spiritual, in the other life when seen in the light of heaven, appear with the head downward and the feet upward, 5116(4); the natural is both internal and external, the internal communicates with the rational, and the exterior with the world, 5118, 5126; man has both a rational and a natural, the former is internal, the latter external, 5150(2); the natural, especially the exterior natural, is a plane, and as it were a face, in which the interiors see themselves, otherwise man cannot think, 5165(2); unless that natural is subordinate and thereby in correspondence, man cannot think interiorly, thus cannot believe anything, nor have faith, 5168(2); there is an inward active force in the natural from the spiritual world, without which world nothing would exist which exists, 5173(2); the natural has no view of anything nor does anything from itself, although it so appears, but from the interior, 5286; by the natural simply so called is meant the natural mind, 5301; the natural with the regenerate is constituted from the spiritual as an effect from a cause, 5326; the obedience of the natural has place when man regards the neighbor and the things of heaven more than those of the world, 5368; to the natural man nothing appears which is in the spiritual, unless there be correspondence and a medium; on the other hand to the spir. man all things appear which are in the natural, 5427–8, 5477; the natural is exterior and interior, 5497; they who are purely natural have something hairy instead of a face, 5571–2; many Hollanders are purely natural, 5573; the natural is interior and exterior; man is ignorant of this, but the angelic societies know it well, 5640(2); the natural is the plane in which influx terminates, therefore its life must be subdued, and a new principle given during regeneration, which is the spir. natural, 5651(2); in the interior there are thousands of thousands of things which appear as one in the exterior, 5707(2); the natural is in the light of the world, the spiritual in the light of heaven; the former is the external of the church, the latter the internal, 5965(2); to the intent that man's natural may live, there must be immediate influx from the Lord, and mediate through the spiritual world, 6063(2); they who do good from natural good, and not from religious doctrine, cannot be saved, 6208; because they have no conscience into which the angels may flow, 6208; an internal lives in the natural man, but the internal clothes itself with things by which it can produce effect in a lower sphere, 6275, 6284, 6290(2); the natural must needs be regenerated before there can be influx through the internal, otherwise the internal is closed, 6200(2); the subjugation of the natural, 6567; see REGENERATION. Those things which are in the natural are respectively obscure, 6686; a life according to natural good is not saving, but a life according to the precepts of faith and charity, 7107. He reasons from falsities who attributes all things to nature, who believes that man is a beast; his reasonings are sig. by frogs, 7352; when the church is vastated the whole natural is in falsity and evil in its extremes, and there are no truths there, 7645; the quality of those who do good from natural disposition alone, they cannot be in heaven, 8002(2); faith merely natural is sensual faith, grounded in miracles and authority, it is not of the Lord; but truths of innocence are therein, 8073(3); whatsoever exists in nature has its cause and origin in those things which are in the spiritual world, 8211(2); the regeneration of the natural man, 8742–8747; the quality of the natural man not regenerated, and regenerated, 8744–5. See REGENERATION. The life of the natural, although in good, does not give salvation, but the life of faith, which is spir. life, 8772(2); neither from natural light nor from natural theology can anything be known concerning God and heaven but from revelation, 8944; man is not regenerated until the natural is, 9043, 9046, 9061; the natural man separate from the internal cannot endure a spir. sphere, 9109; interior things close in exterior, and are at rest; interior things have connection with exterior, wherefore if ultimates be removed the interiors also are dissipated, 9216(2). In nature all things represent and correspond, references, 9280. See REPRESENTATIONS and CORRESPONDENCES. There must be a correspondence of the natural man with the spiritual or internal, that he may be regenerated; man is not regenerated until the natural is regenerated, references, 9325(10); the internal of man is called spiritual because it is in the light of heaven, but the external is called natural because it is in the light of the world, 9383; the purifications of the internal man are effected in the natural, 9572; the internal and external man, or the spir. and natural, 9701–9709; what is celestial, spiritual, and natural, or the good of love, of charity, and of faith, follow each other in order, 9938–9, 9992, 10005(2), 10017, 10068. Representatives in nature have reference to the human form, 10185. The natural man unregenerated is hell, 10156. Universal nature is a theatre representative of the Lord's kingdom, references, 8812(5); the natural was created to serve the internal or spiritual, 9776; the natural serves when it obeys and does not draw from the intellectual reasons favoring self-love and worldly love, 9776; everything natural comes forth from what is spiritual, 10200; if the natural is perverted the spiritual can act only in a perverse manner and is therefore closed, 10208(4); of the natural or external man, 10235–7; the sensual, the lowest of the natural is called flesh, it is rejected at death; there is an external sensual in the memory which remains after death but is quiescent, 10236 (2); the purification of the natural, 10237, 10243; the feet sig. the natural or exterior things of man, 10241, 10243(3), to wash the feet sig. regeneration of the natural, 10243(2); distinction between sensual and natural life, 10254; spir. and natural thought correspond, 10604(3); principally when man reads the Word, 10604(3).

NATURE. Those who worship nature and deduce from her the origin of things are in principles so deadly that the fantasies of wild beasts are far more sane, 775. Death is nothing but the putting off the things of a most gross nature, 1854(2); all things of nature are from things spiritual, 1881, 2026(2); their causes are from spir. and cel. things, 2993; they are from the First, 4523–4, 10185(4); if influx from heaven were taken away all things of earth would fall to nothing, 10185(4); space and time are proper to nature, 2625; those who consult natural knowledges concerning spir. things believe nothing, they ascribe all things to nature, 2832, 3747(2); they are in fatuous light, 4214 (4); their place in the other life, 4941, 4950; there are many who ascribe all things to nature, 3175, 5084(4), 7290(4), 7352, 8628(2); those in self intelligence do, 8041(3); angelic wisdom ascribes nothing to nature, 3483; angels know the secrets of nature, 3626; universal nature is representative of the Lord's kingdom, 3518(3), 3703(2), 3942, 4939, 5116(2), 5173(2), 9272(2); man is a medium uniting the Divine with nature, 3702, 3721; of those who acknowledge nature in place of God, 4733(2); as the sensual, 5094(4); many at the present day, but more in a certain nation than in others, 5572–3; it closes the interiors, 5990; the formation of lower degrees from higher, 5114(4), 7270(3), 8603(2); unless there is an idea of God as Man it falls into the idea of nature, 6876(3), 8705(4), 9303(3), 10736(2); atheists and naturalists reject spir. things, their blindness, 8783; all things in nature relate to the human form, 9555, 10005(4); nature is the ultimate of Divine order, 10634(2), 10728(2).

Order. See Influx. The order of words in the Word of the Lord, 47, 52–3, 146, 312, 670, 710, 802, 8864–5, 10203. Repetitions in the Word, 683, to describe will and understanding, 707. All the laws of order flow from heavenly principles, 162. Order requires that cel. things should rule spiritual, these natural, and these corporeal, 911; this order is in the regenerate, 911(2), 1475–6. The order of conjoining the external man with the internal, 1489. Series and order in the Word, 2953; the order and series of ideas in the internal sense is entirely different from those in letter, 2343(2). The order of influx about instruction from knowledges in the memory, things intellectual and cel. meet them, 1495. Divine truth is order, and Divine good is the essential of order, 1728; the Lord is order itself, thus above order in the heavens, 1919(4); all order is from the Lord, all things are ruled from good and truth, they are from will, good pleasure, leave, and permission, 2447(2); the essential of order is Divine good, it elevates all into heaven; the secondary of order is truth, which condemns all to hell, 2258(2). What wisdom is, intelligence, order, from a wise Gentile, 2592. If man's life were according to order things still more hidden would be perceived in his interior organs, 3702(2). Highest things are together in the ultimate of order, 3730(2). The order in which truths must be that they may enter good, 4302, 4345; man who is regenerating has many falsities mixed with truths, which are arranged into order when he is regenerated, and acts from good. Truths then are in the inmost, and falsities are rejected to the last circumferences; a different arrangement has place with the evil, 4551–2; in the other life evil is contrary to order, and good is in order, and so far as any are in evil or contrary to order, so far in the other life they appear as monsters, but so far as they are in good, or in order, so far they appear as men, 4830(2). Knowledges in genuine order are arranged into the form of heaven, but those which are in inverted order into the form of hell, 5700.

The wonderful order in the mind of the man truly rational, 2556; genuine order in the affirmative principle, inverted order in the negative, 2568(2); how the Lord arranges in order the knowledges in man's mind when he is regenerated, 3057(3); order of influx of the rational into the natural, 3160(2); the orderly arrangement of things in the natural by influx from the rational, 3283; the arrangement of doctrinals in the natural mind is by good which flows in, 3316(2); order of arrangement of things in the mind when man is regenerating and when he is regenerated, 3726, 4104(3–5). The various orders in which the names of the sons of Jacob are mentioned are significative, 3862(3–5); order of introducing good and truth from the intellectual into the voluntary, 4097; affections for sciences and knowledges being the most external and general come first, affection for external truth follows, affection for interior truth comes last, 4345; the order of the sensual in the regenerate and unregenerate, 5125; how the Lord reduces disorderly things into order, 5396; knowledges and truths are arranged in a wonderful order in the memory, in one order with the good, another with the evil, 5881. The order in heaven after the Lord glorified His Human was more perfect than before, 7031. Where order is, there the Lord is present, and where the Lord is present, there is order, 5703–4; the order is, that truths and goods, directly under the view of the internal sight, be in the midst, 6068(2). The universal proceeding from the Lord, arranges all things into order in general and in every part, 6338. Successive and simultaneous order, the latter from the former, 6451(2); the order of heaven is a life of uses, and doctrine, so far as it is derived from the life of uses, 7884. The order of heaven after the Lord began to govern heaven and earth from His Divine Human, 7031. The laws of order are Divine truths, in external things, statutes, 7905. He who is led of the Lord by good, is led according to order, and is in the Lord, 8512. There is an opening from the Lord to him who is in Divine order, and a closing to him who is not in Divine order, 8513. Successive order illustrated from ends, interior things and exterior things are distinct, likewise conjoined, 8603(2). Everything is possible which is according to Divine order, impossible if against it, 8700(2). The Divine truth proceeding from the Lord makes order, and is order, 8700, 8688(3); successive order, according to degrees, 10099. See DEGREES. There are two kinds of things with men which ought to be in order, ecclesiastical and civil, 10780; their government, 10780–10806. Order cannot be maintained in the world without governors 10790; without them the human race would perish, 10791; there ought to be order amongst governors, 10792; the universal heaven, as to all the angelic societies, is arranged by the Lord according to his own Divine order, for the Divine of the Lord makes heaven, 3038, 7211, 9128, 9338, 10125, 10151(2), 10157. See ANGEL, HEAVEN, LORD. Hence the form of heaven is a form of order, 4040–4043, 6607, 6877. In man are collated all things of Divine order; from creation he is Divine order in form, 3624, 3628, 4219, 4223, 4523–4, 6013, 6057(2), 6605, 6626, 9706, 10156(4), 10472. See MAN, CORRESPONDENCE. Every angel who is a recipient of Divine order from the Lord, is in a human form, perfect and beautiful according to reception, 322, 1880–1, 3633, 4622, 4735(2), 4797, 4085, 5100, 5530(2), 6054(2), 0879, 10177(4), 10194. See ANGEL. The whole angelic heaven also, in its whole complex, is in form as a man, on this account heaven is the Greatest Man, because the universal heaven as to all the angelic societies there, is arranged by the Lord, according to Divine order, 2996–8, 3624–49, 3636–43, 3741–45, 4625; hence it is evident that it is the Divine Human of the Lord which gives birth to all those things, 2996, 2998, 3624–49, 3741–45. See LORD. Man is not born into good and truth, thus neither into Divine order, but contrary to it, and in what is contrary to order, and that hence it is that he is born into mere ignorance, and that on this account it is necessary that he be born again, that is regenerated, which is effected by Divine truths from the Lord, that he may be initiated into order, and thus be made a man, 210, 215, 1047, 2307–8, 2578, 3701(2), 3812(2), 8480, 8550, 10283–4, 10731. See MAN, HEREDITARY, REGENERATION. The Lord, when He forms man anew, that is, regenerates him, arranges all things appertaining to him according to order, which is into a heavenly form, 5700(2), 6690, 9931, 10303. When the Lord is present all things are arranged in order by His very presence, He is order itself, 5703–5. See HEAVEN and MAN. The commandments are laws of Divine order according to which one should live, 8512–13; the interiors are open into heaven, even to the Lord, with that man who is in Divine order, but are closed with him who is not in order, 8513; so far as man lives according to order, so far he has intelligence and wisdom, 2502; the Lord rules the first principles of order, and at the same time the last; He rules the last from the first, and the first from the last, thus all things are kept in connection, 3730, 0828. Concerning successive and simultaneous order, and the ultimate of order in which successive things are together in their order 634(2), 3691(2), 4145(2), 5114, 5897, 6239, 6326, 6451, 6465, 8603, 8641, 9216(3), 9828, 9836(2), 10044, 10099, 10320(4), 10335. Evils and falsities are contrary to order; still they are ruled by the Lord, not according to order, but from order, 4839, 7877(5), 10779; evils and falsities are ruled from permission; this is for the sake of order, 7877(4), 8700, 10779. See PROVIDENCE, FREEDOM, AND FORESIGHT. Everything is impossible which is contrary to order, a man who lives in evil can not be saved from mercy alone, in the other life the evil cannot be consociated with the good, nor can man be compelled to live well, and several other things, 8700. See LIBERTY. Ecclesiastical and civil order, 10789–10806. What the Lord speaks first in the commandments and in the Lord's prayer is the inmost and universally reigns in what follows, 8864–5. Divine truth is order, when man receives this truth in good he is a heaven in form, 8988(3); evils are removed from man only gradually according to order, references, 9336; to receive order into one's self is to be saved, 10650(4); order cannot be inscribed by immediate mercy, 10659 (4); the order of goods, inmost good is from the Lord or good of love, next good of mutual love, then good of charity to neighbor, lastly good of faith, 9683; the order of the spices is according to their signification from exterior to interior, 10293.

PRODUCE or ingatherings sig. fruits, 6155; produce sig. the goods of truth from instruction, 9272–3.

PROFANE. See WORSHIP. They are kept in ignorance lest the truths of faith should be profaned, and thus they should perish, 301–3; when man immerses truths in lusts he profanes, 571; they are capable of profaning who acknowledge, not they who do not acknowledge, still less who do not know, 593, 1008, 1010(2), 1050; worship becomes external lest the internal should be profaned, 1327–8; holy things ought not to be commixed with profane, 1001(2); danger arises from the profanation of holy things and of the Word 571, 582; profanation rep. by eating blood, 1003; he can profane who knows and acknowledges truths, not he who is ignorant of them, 1327(3); providence operates to prevent good and evil being commixed, 2426; within the church they can profane holy things, not they without 2051(2); good and truth cannot be profaned except by those who have first acknowledged them, the reason, 3398(2); therefore they are withheld as much as possible from the acknowledgment and faith of what is good and true, if they cannot continue therein, 3398(2), 3402(2); hence internal truths were not discovered to the Jews, concerning which truths, 3398(3), 4480; profanation of holy things can take place only with those who know, acknowledge, and imbibe them, 3756–7; those who bring down spir. things to earthly things, and defile them, who are amongst profaners, 4050(3); profanation consists in acknowledging and believing truths and goods, and in willing and living contrary to them, 4601(2); there are two things which deprive man of the capacity of ever becoming rational, namely deceit and profanation, references, 5128(5); those who turn clean into unclean things and holy things into profane, 5390; unless faith be conjoined to good, it either becomes no faith, or is conjoined to evil, whence comes profanation, 6348; by the prohibited degrees are sig. various kinds of profanations, 6348(2); profanations come from the conjunction of good and evil, 6348(3); the lot of profaners is the worst of all others in the other life, from experience, 6348(3); how interior things are preserved lest they should be injured by profaning, 6595; he who in childhood believes truths from masters, lightly profanes them, but he who confirms himself in those truths within himself, and does not live according to them, or denies them afterwards, profanes, 6959, 6963, 6971(2); the Jews would have profaned truths if they had known them, hence they had the leprosy, 6963(2); if a man relapses after repentance, he profanes; then his latter state becomes worse than the former, 8304; to profane is to believe what is true and to live evilly, and to believe nothing and to live holily, references, 8882; to pollute sig. there will be no worship, 8943; within the church man is with difficulty withheld from the conjunction of falsity and evil with truths, why, 9188; truths from good are not commixed with falsities from evil, 9268; such commixtion is profanation, references, 9203(2). 9818 (27); they who have first acknowledged Divine truths and afterwards deny them, profane, but they who have denied from infancy, as Jews and others, do not profane, the utmost caution is exercised by the Lord to prevent profanation, references, 10287. Profanation is effected by denial after acknowledgment, 10287. There are various kinds of profanations, 10287(3); when worship is applied to the loves of self, it then becomes infernal, 10307, 10309; in like manner to imitate affections, as if they were celestial, from the proprium, 10309; to profane the sabbath sig. to be led by one's self and one's own loves, 10362; the profanation of good is the affection of evils conjoined to truths, and the profanation of truth is the conjunction of truths with falsities, 10652; the Gentiles cannot profane holy things, 1327(3), 1328, 2051(2), 2986(3). The hell of profaners is deeper than other hells and is seldom opened, 10287(3); the Israelitish nation was in externals alone lest they profane holy things, 10490(2); profanation of good and of truth sig. by whoredom, 10652.

Proprium. See Evil, Man, Hereditary. Its quality with men and angels, 41, 131–6, 141, 148–64, 633, 987. The proprium of man is nothing but evil and falsity, 210, 214, 215, 1040; man from the proprium can do nothing good, and think nothing true, 874–6; man, spirit, and angel, as to the proprium is vile excrement, 987; from the proprium, which is the love of self and of the world, comes hell, 694; falsity flows in from the proprium, 1047; so far as the voluntary proprium can be separated, so far the Lord can be present, 1023, 1044(3); the proprium in those about to be regenerated is inanimate, 39, 41; in the regenerate it does not appear, 731; evil is not separated, but man and angel are withheld from evil, 1581; the proprium vivified by charity and innocence is beautiful and delightful, 164; the heavenly marriage is in the proprium, 155; the proprium of will made quiescent by temptations, 1023; man ought to do what is good and true from the proprium, or as it were from himself, 1712(2); rib and bone sig. the proprium, 147–9, 157; if man compels himself to resist evil and to do good, he receives from the Lord a heavenly proprium, 1037(3), 1047; what is from the proprium is from freedom. See FREEDOM. To the intent that man may receive a heavenly proprium and heavenly freedom, he ought to do good as from himself, and to think truth as from himself, 2882–3, 2891; the proprium twofold, one from hell, the other from the Lord, also intellectual and voluntary, 3812–3; they who enter heaven have no proprium and merit of self, 4007(4); the Lord's proprium in His natural was acquired by His own power, 4168; the voluntary, thus the proprium, has been altogether destroyed with the spiritual, 4328; the proprium of man consists in thinking about himself on every occasion, the heavenly proprium in thinking about the neighbor, the public, the church, the kingdom of the Lord, and the Lord, 5660(3); he who is in this latter proprium trusts to the Lord, and is blessed, 5660 (3); the freedom derived from the proprium is nothing but evil, 5786(3); good from the Lord has inmostly in itself heaven and the Lord, good from the proprium has within in itself hell, 8480; good and truth with the regenerate man become as his own proper possessions, not actually his own, 8497; they of the church, where the Word is, are called the Lord's own possession and property, 8768; the proprium is the ruling or universally reigning love with a man, 8853–8; the things from man's own intelligence, have no life in them, those have life which are from the Word, 8941, 8944; the proprium of man is evil; there is a voluntary proprium and an intellectual proprium, his voluntary proprium is evil, his intellectual proprium is falsity thence derived, 10283(2), 10284, 10286; of those who believe that all things are from themselves, and nothing from the Divine; they call dignities and wealth blessings, but in many cases they are as curses. They obtain such things because man is led by the intellectual in freedom; their hell in the other life, 10400; in proportion as the proprium of man recedes, in the same proportion the Divine is received, 10646(3); he who is led of himself and his own loves, thus by the proprium, cannot be saved, 10731; all good is from the Lord, all evil from man, 10808; it is believed by the evil that all things are of their own proper prudence, but not by the good, 10779. Doctrines hatched from the proprium, and desire to be worshipped as Divine, are meant by graven and molten images, 8869; the proprium or selfhood is nothing but evil, references, 9219. The proprium of the Lord is Divine good, of man is evil, references, 10035(2).

PROVIDENCE (providentia). The Lord provides for all and wishes to make all His heirs, 1865(3); the providence of the Lord is universal by virtue of being in things most particular, 1910(4), 2664(3); the Lord has foresight and providence, foresight in respect to man that he may be in freedom, providence in respect to the Lord that He may rule that freedom, 3854(2); the Lord's providence is especially directed to the conjunction of good and truth, 3951, 4136(2); the providence of the Lord is not universal unless it be in things most particular, 4329(4); to provide sig. to be at hand, and to defend from evils, 4540; it is in things most particular, 5122(3); the Divine conclusion and execution of a thing is providence, 5124; He provides good and foresees evil, 5155, 5195; where providence is, there is foresight, the one is not without the other,

5195; God doing sig. providence, and has in it what is eternal and infinite, concerning which, 5264; when men have good and truth as an end as much gain falls to their share as is needed, 5449; contingencies are from and of providence, 5508(2); providence acts invisibly, the reason, that man may be in freedom to ascribe the event to providence or to chance, 5508(2); Divine providence in the most particular things of all, 5894, 5904; there is immediate influx from the Lord into things most particular, and mediate through the spir. world, 6058; the providence of the Lord is universal, because in things most particular, 6480–9; fallacies oppose this idea, 6484; see UNIVERSAL, INFLUX, PREDESTINATION. The Divine providence turns all things to good with those who receive Him, 6303; He daily provides necessaries, 8478; the Divine providence is universal and leads to a state of eternal happiness with those who trust in Him, 8478(4); the Lord governs by the evil as well as by the good, leading them by their loves, 6481, 6495; what is universal is according to things particular thus the providence of the Lord is infinite, even in particular things, 6483; man's own prudence is as a mote in the atmosphere, providence as the universal atmosphere, 6485; one who believed that nothing was of providence, but that all was of his own prudence, when heaven flowed into his delight it became hell to him, 6484; the providence of the Lord is in most minute things, confirmed by the angels, 6486; there is no such thing as predestination or fate; man has freedom; providence is as the skill of an architect who heaps together materials for building in a confused order, 6487; all are predestined for heaven, none for hell, from the angels, 6488; foresight is joined to providence, evil is foreseen, good provided, 6489; the providence of the Lord is infinite and has respect to what is eternal, as is evident from the formation of man in the womb, and especially afterwards in regard to spir. life, 6491; the Lord is Father, when man comes into the exercise of his own judgment; then he has no longer a natural father as before, 6492; fortune is providence in the ultimate of order, 6493–4. See FORTUNE; the Lord turns evil into good, for the infernals intend evil, and the Lord good, 6574(2); the Lord flows in in the ultimate of order mediately through heaven, angels, and spirits, also immediately, hence providence in things most minute, 7004, 7007; mediate influx through heaven from the Lord, 6982, 6985, 6996; who are in the stream of the Divine providence, and who are not, with those in it all things conduce to eternal happiness, 8478, 8480(3); the Lord governs immediately and mediately through heaven, His providence is in most minute things, not as a king in the world, 8717; the Lord does not look to temporal things but eternal with man, 8717, references on providence, 9010; everything which exists is from the Firstand Supreme, thus from the Lord, 9128(3); yet evils and falsities are not from the Lord, 9128 (3); all the leading of providence looks to eternal ends, 8560; the Lord foresees evil and provides good, 9304; the providence of the Lord is universal and in the most minute particulars, 9407(15); He foresees and provides all things, 10048(2); those who believe that everything is from themselves, but nothing from the Divine; they call dignities and opulence Divine blessings; yet to many they are curses; the reason why their machinations and cunning devices succeed is because man is led through his intellectual in freedom; their final lot, 10409; the doctrinals of providence, 10773–10781; providence is the government of the Lord in the heavens and in the earths, from whom is all good and truth, 10773; it extends to things most particular, 10774; they who think of the Divine providence from worldly things, believe it to be universal and not particular, when they see the evil exalted to honors and wealth above the good, and that artifices succeed, 10775; nevertheless eminence and opulence, are not real Divine blessings; eternal things which are of heaven are real blessings, 10776; the reason why artifices succeed, is, because it is a rule of order that all things be done according to reason, and with freedom, 10777; to leave man to do evil thence is called permission, 10778; a particular providence prevails as well with the evil as with the good, 10779; this cannot be comprehended from the light of nature, 10780; there is providence and foresight, 10781.

PROVISION sig. support, 5490.

PRUDENCE. Something concerning man's own prudence, 2694(3); a certain person who had believed that nothing was of providence, but that all things were of man's own prudence, and that his delight thence derived, when heaven flowed in, became hell to him, 6484; the evil call cunning by the name of prudence, and make all wisdom to consist therein, 6655. No one is regenerated except by charity, 980; seed must be rooted in the good of charity, 880; they are regenerated in the other life who have exercised charity from obedience, 980; there is an alternation of charity and no charity, with a person about to be regenerated, and with one who is regenerate, 933; there are changes, as of cold and heat, with a person about to be regenerated, 933; as of summer and winter, as to things of the will, 935; as of day and night, as to things of the understanding, 935(2), 936; the regeneration of the spir. man is compared to a rainbow 1042 :3; the ground for regeneration is prepared by temptations, 848; the effect, the external man obeys the internal, 911, 913; man cannot be regenerated to eternity, so as to be perfect, 675, 894; although man be regenerated, still evils and falsities remain, but they are tempered, 868; evil spirits dare not assault a regenerate person, because from the sphere they instantly perceive a reply and resistance, 1695(2); fructification and multiplication with a regenerate man, 984; all regeneration is effected by the truths of faith, 2046; man is not regenerated by truth, but by the good of truth, 2697; when man is regenerating, the Lord insinuates good into truths as recipient vessels, 2063(3); how truth is implanted in the good of charity during regeneration, 2189(2); with the spiritual, good and truth are implanted in the affection for outward knowledges, 2675; there is reciprocal conjunction of the Lord with man and of man with the Lord, 2004(2); man is regenerated by the affection of truth, when he is regenerated he acts from the affection of good, 1904; the process of regeneration, 2343; man by regeneration receives a new rational from the Lord; how he is regenerated; illustrated by examples, 2657; man ought to compel himself to think what is true and to do what is good, 1936–7; how the ideas are bended to goods and truths by the Lord, 1947; regeneration of the men of the church rep. by Lot, described in a series, 2343(2); how the good are regenerated and this also in the other life, 2400; the regenerate come into angelic intelligence and wisdom, 2494; how man is prepared for regeneration by the Lord, 2636(2); the things which are insinuated into the spiritual before regeneration, are continual means or mediums to the subsequent spiritual life, 2679; they are capable of being regenerated who are in an affirmative of truth, and are confirmed in it even to affection; but they who are incapable doubt, and afterwards deny, the life of evil is the cause, 2680(3); the spiritual, in the beginning before they are regenerated, receive but little of truth, 2674; in the beginning they are left in the proprium, thinking at this time that good and truth are from themselves, 2678; the first state of the spiritual is, before they are regenerated, they are carried away into various errors, 2679; the spiritual, before they are regenerated, are reduced to ignorance, which is called the desolation of truth, 2682(2); reasons why they who are regenerating, are reduced to the desolation of truth even to despair, from examples 2694(2); they who are in the affection of truth, come into anxiety, when they are deprived of truths, but not so the evil, 2689; what a full state is, when man is regenerating, 2036(2); a state of enlightenment and joy after the desolation of truth, 2699(2); first instruction when they are enlightened, 2701; second state when they are easily instructed, 2704; in what a light of truth the celestial are above the spiritual, 2710, 2705, 2718. See CELESTIAL and SPIRITUAL. When man is regeneratiog, correspondence is effected between things rational and things natural, 2973(4); no one can be regenerated except in freedom, see FREEDOM. Every one is regenerated according to his faculty and understanding, 2067(2); if the will and understanding do not agree and make one, man has not been regenerated, 2975. The process of regeneration by truth until the person acts from good, 2979; see GOOD. The regeneration of man is an image of the Lord's glorification, 3043(3), 3138(2); during man's reformation, general things are first arranged into order, and in this case doctrinals are removed, concerning which state, 3057(3); the first affection of truth, with those who are about to be regenerated, is impure, but it is successively purified, 3089; the regeneration of man is an image of the glorification of the Lord, comparison, 3043(3), 3138(2), 3212(3), 3296(2), 3490, 4402, 5688(3); regeneration is in freedom, 3145-6; reformation, which is the initiation and conjunction of truth and good, is as a virgin when she is betrothed, and is next joined to a husband, 3155; regeneration by the conjunction of good with truth and of truth with good, see TRUTH; there are innumerable arcana by which man is led during regeneration, of which scarce anything is known to him, 3179(2): by the fall, the natural man has separated himself from the spiritual, and then the natural man began to lift himself up above the spiritual, hence the necessity of regeneration, 3167 (2); with man about to be regenerated, the case is similar as with an infant, who first learns to speak, to think, and to understand what is of science, but next, when it is connected with the life, the spiritual things which are thus imbued flow spontaneously, 3203(2); a regenerate man is altogether another and new, not as to the body but as to the spirit, 3212; the natural is regenerated by the rational, and so far as the natural is not at variance with the rational, so far it is regenerated, 3286(3); the natural is regenerated hy rational good as a father, and by rational truth as a mother, 3286, 3288; they who are regenerating do good at first from doctrinals, but when they are regenerated, they do it from good, exemplified, 3310(3); during regeneration doctrinals at first are in the memory as a chaos, 3316(2); the vessels recipient of truth are softened by temptations, that they may receive good, 3318(3); the rational receives truths before the natural, because the natural is to be regenerated by influx from the rational, 3321(2); causes why the natural is regenerated at a later period and with more difficulty than the rational, 3321(2); truths have the priority in the spir. man, 3325, 3336; see TRUTH; the spir. man, during regeneration, proceeds from doctrinals to the good of doctrinals, from this to the good of truth, and from this to the good of life, and when he is regenerated, vice versa, 3332(2); good of life is of the will, good of truth is of the understanding, and good of doctrinals is of knowledge, 3332(3); affection always adjoins itself to the things which are brought into the memory; they are reproduced together, affection of good is adjoined to truths hy the Lord with man in his natural, by the affection of good truths are reproduced, thus falsities and evils are removed, 3336 (2); the natural is regenerated later and with more difficulty than the rational, the reasons, 3469(2); natural good is not spir. good, the former being from parents, the latter from the Lord by regeneration, 3470(2); how natural good is extirpated, and spir. good by truths is formed by regeneration, 3470(2); truths not genuine are insinuated, 3470(2); in this case there is grief from combat, 3471; truths are as the fibres which form good, but which are led and applied into form by interior good, 3470(3); the rational is regenerated before the natural, why, 3493; the rational appears to itself to see nothing unless the natural corresponds. 3493(2); the natural is regenerated by the knowledges of good and truth, and by things delightful and pleasant accommodated to it, 3502, 3512; the successive states of regeneration, 3505; the regeneration of the natural is effected by the knowledges of good and truth, 3508; the natural is first regenerated by influx from the rational into the truth of the natural, not so much into its good, 3509(2); things gain a place in the natural according to the enjoyments and pleasantnesses which have introduced them, 3512; at first, during man's regeneration, the will does not act in unity with the understanding, 3509(2); natural good, or mere delight, serves first for a medium of introducing truths in order, and this especially during man's regeneration, 3518(2); truth is apparently in the first place whilst man is regenerating, and good in the second, thus in an inverted order; but good is in the first place and truth in the second when he is regenerated, 3539(3), 3548, 3556, 3576, 3603(3), 3701, see PRIMOGENITURE; regeneration is presented as in an image in the formation of man in the womb, 3570(4); the good and truth of the natural is formed from the good and truth of the rational by influx, 3573, 3616; there are innumerable means of conjunction, which are treated of in the internal sense of the Word, 3573(2); from the good of the rational inmostly exist goods and truths in the natural, 3576(2); good produces truth in the natural, almost as life constructs fibres in the body, 3579; goods and truths with a regenerate person form as it were one kingdom or state, and this from the form of heaven, whence there is influx with man, 3584; when truth is deprived of self-derived life, it is then conjoined to good, and by good receives essential life, 3607(2); what is meant by truth having self-derived life, 3610; the quality when truth is in a prior place, and when good is in the prior place, 3610; then first there is life when the life of the love of self and of the world is extinguished, 3610(2); there is a continual endeavor in good to restore the state, that truth may be subordinate, 3610(3); he who is regenerating, is led by the Lord as an infant, boy, youth, adult, when as an infant boy, he has knowledges of external and corporeal truth, 3665(2), 5342(2); see TRUTH. They who are regenerating, are at first in a state of tranquillity, afterwards they come into temptations, and after temptations return into a state of tranquillity, which state is their end, 3696; the process of regeneration from infancy to adult age, 3701; man, from his hereditary, is nothing but evil and falsity, he must be regenerated, 3701(2); the order of regeneration is not known at this day, it is rep. in Gen. xxix. and following chapters, Jacob in Haran, 3761; knowledges of truth and good are implanted in the natural as in their ground by the life, but those which are not implanted by the life are therein like things historical, 3762(2); which historical things must precede knowledges before man can be regenerated, 3786(2); in like manner before the church can be established anew, 3786(2); regeneration proceeds from what is external to what is internal, and advances from the truth of faith to truth in the will, thus to charity, 3868, 3870, 3872; to know and understand truth, to will truth, and to be affected by truth, or charity, mutually succeed each other during man's regeneration; afterwards one is contained in the other, 3876-7; regeneration advances from what is external to what is internal, and afterwards from what is internal to what is external, thus there is ascent and descent as by a ladder, 3882; they who are regenerating, first know internal truths, but do not acknowledge them by faith, nor yet by act, 3906; the life of the natural man is contrary to the life of the spiritual, before regeneration, 3913(4); the interior man is as it were dead, if the exterior is not conjoined to him and corresponds, 3969; the progress or order of regeneration, 3969(2); external truths and goods are what serve to introduce genuine truths and goods during man's regeneration, which former truths and goods are afterwards left, 3665(2), 3690, 3863, 3866, 3974, 4195; during regeneration, there is an influx from the Lord into the good of the internal man, and by the truth there into the natural man, 4015; how the natural is regenerated, 4027; this is effected by enjoyments, that he may be brought into the state of a new man, 4063, which is effected by societies of spirits and angels, concerning whom, 4066-7; during man's regeneration, good flows in from the Lord through the angels into the knowledges of truth which man has, and he is kept in them until he is affected by them, 4096(5)-7; all things are disposed and arranged with man according to his ends, 4104; societies of spirits attendant on one about to be regenerated, and their separation, 4110(2)-11(2), see SOCIETIES. Since knowledges at this day are wanting concerning regeneration, and concerning what is good and true, therefore what is said on those subjects cannot easily be comprehended, 4136(3); during regeneration, good takes the first place, then he undergoes temptations, 4248; then another order is introduced amongst the truths and goods in the natural, 4250, 5251; man is regenerated by this, that good is conjoined with truths in the natural, in the next place the natural is conjoined with the rational, the process is described, 4353(2); the regeneration of man is effected by means such as appertain to man, 4364(2); he who is regenerating passes through ages, answering to those of his natural birth, 4377; spiritual life comes forth from every age, as from an ovum, 4378-9; general things are insinuated into those who are regenerating, in which things are particulars which successively come forth, 4383; the order of regeneration is that one must be instructed in the truths of faith, next is to will truth and do it, finally he comes into the enjoyment of willing and doing it, 4538(5); spiritual good is charity, and consists in willing and doing good to another from no selfish motive, but from the enjoyment of affection; attained only by regeneration from the Lord, 4538(4); the regenerating man has many falsities mixed with truths, which are arranged into order when he is regenerated and acts from good; truths are inmost, falsities rejected to the circumferences, in opposite order with the evil, 4551–2; every evil remains, even when a person is regenerated, 4564(2); unless the natural be regenerated, the rational can produce nothing of good and truth, 4588; the natural must be regenerated before it is conjoined to the rational, the reason, 4612; regeneration rep. by processes of natural generation, 4918–26; those regenerating come as it were into the womb; from kingdom of the lungs into kingdom of the heart, 4931(3); regeneration of the cel. man as to will, of spir. man as to understanding, 5113 (2–4); regeneration rep. in trees, 5115–7; process, the last becomes first, the end the beginning, from which charity commences, which faith has for an end, 5122 (2); neither man nor angel ever regenerated so as to become perfect, 5122(3); how the interior, natural, and rational is successively opened with man, how closed, 5126(3); order of truths and goods in the natural during regeneration; truths and goods in the centre and in light, 5128(2), 5134; the dominion of the interior man, and the service of the exterior, 5128(2); there are states of inversion, but in one way with those who are regenerated, and in another way with those who are not regenerated, 5150; the regenerate as to external things, appear like the unregenerate, but as to internal things they are altogether different, illustrated by the love of the body for the sake of the mind, and of the mind for the sake of good and truth, 5150; during reformation truths are multiplied, during regeneration he is deprived of truths apparently, and is enlightened from the interior, then truths are stored up in their order, 5270; man is regenerated by temptations; without regeneration not saved, 5280(3); reformation precedes, instructed concerning goods and truths, afterwards truths are as it were exterminated, and are then remitted into the light which is in the natural mind from the interior, 5280(3); regeneration by remains, the process, 5342(2,3); regeneration by which come the new intellectual and new voluntary, progress to eternity, 5354(3); truth conjoined to good and good to truth, the process, 5365(2); when the natural of man is regenerating, the truths and goods of remains are brought together into knowledges there, 5373(2); truths at first are multiplied, next conjoined to good, in desolation at the time, 5376(2); man at this day knows little of regeneration, because he believes in the remission of sins in a moment and justification, when yet the arcana of regeneration are innumerable, and persist through the whole life of man, yea, to eternity, 5398; when man lapses into evils, and is in anxiety, it is a sign that he may be reformed; if there is no anxiety, it is a sign that he cannot, 5470(2); during regeneration, the natural man rebels, he supposes that he is altogether perishing, 5647, 5650, 5660(2); afterwards he thinks otherwise, 5650; that man may regenerate, the natural must be deprived of its ability, and must be subjected to the spiritual, 5651(2); when he is regenerated, he receives a new natural, a natural spiritual, 5651(3); because the natural is the plane in which influx terminates, 5651(2); when a change is effecting, or when good is to be in the first place in the course of regeneration, there is temptation, 5773; when the conjunction of truth with man is effected in man, the incongruous and opposing knowledges are rejected from the middle to the sides, 5871; see KNOWLEDGE. With a view to man's regeneration there must be truths of faith; they must enter with genuine affection, in which case when truth is reproduced, affection is reproduced, and vice versa, thus man is withheld from evils by the angels, 5803 (2); good multiplies truths around every truth, and makes it as a little star, and by derivations successively, 5912; that man may be regenerated, truths must be conjoined with knowledges, 6004, 6023, 6052; the Lord wills to have the whole man, and the man be not in part his own, 6138 (2); during regeneration man looks at good from truth, but when regenerated, at truth from good, 6247; the sensual at this day is not regenerated with man, but man during regeneration, is elevated from it, 7442(4)–43; regeneration as rep. in natural birth, 8043; in the growth of a tree, 8326; not regenerated without temptation; must undergo many, 8403(2); during regeneration, former pleasures are removed from man, and new ones from a spiritual origin are insinuated in their place, 8413(2); he who is led of the Lord by good, lives according to order, thus in the Lord, 8512; with him who lives according to order, there is what is open from the Lord; but closed with unregenerate, 8513; first led by truth to good, before this he cannot know what good or charity is; afterwards led of the Lord by good, 8516(2); good adopts truths and joins them to itself, 8516(2); the conjunction of good and truth is effected in a state of peace, 8517; regeneration, doctrine of, 8548–53; he who is not regenerated cannot be saved, 8548; what the spiritual life received by regeneration, the natural life from parents, 8549; hereditary evils are from parents and grandfathers in a long series back, 8550; he continually superadds evils from himself, 8551; these are contrary to spiritual life; man must be altogether created anew, 8552; the very order of life is to be inverted, 8553; not come into heaven, until in a state to be led of the Lord by good, 8516(3), 8539(2), 8722, 8773, 9832: the former state is to be led to truths, and the latter to be led by good, 7023, 7092, 8505–6, 8510, 8512, 8516, 8643, 8648, 8658, 8685(2), 8690, 8701, 9224, 9230(2), 9274(2); he who is regenerated knows what is of the world and what of charity, 8635, 8638–40, 8685(2), 8690(2); because man of himself apprehends nothing but what relates to the world and self, 8636; examples of things which a man does not know from himself but from revelation, 8637; the life of the regenerate consists in receiving, in the first state, immediate influx from the Lord, in the second, both immediate and mediate influx, references, 8685; see INFLUX; the quality of truths that they may be made goods described, 8725; man not regenerated until the natural man is regenerated, 8742–47; with the unregenerate the natural man rules, the internal serves, contrariwise with the regenerate, 8743; the quality of the natural man when not regenerated, 8744; when regenerated, 8745; how effected by the internal, 8746; the regenerate man is an angel, and has the life of heaven, 8747; natural life does not give salvation, but spiritual life does, which is the life of faith, 8772; regeneration effected first by knowing the truths of faith, afterwards by acknowledging them, at length by believing them; then they are conjoined with good, and afterwards good is acted from, 8772(2); the quality of truths of the first state, and the second, 8772(3); during regeneration, general truths are first insinuated, which are primary, and afterwards the rest, 8773; regeneration has for an end, that charity may rule, 8856; also love to the Lord, 8857; man is such as his universally reigning principle, 8858; they who act from obedience, and not from affection, cannot be regenerated, but reformed, 8987; not to eternity, 8991; during regeneration all things of self and of the world are to be inverted, that they may be for means and not for an end, 8995; opening the womb sig. faith from charity, things of the new birth, 8088; process of regeneration from infancy even to spiritual life, by knowledges from revelation, 9103(3–5); truths and goods are spoken of when concerning the state before regeneration, but goods and truths when concerning the state after regeneration, 9135; with man they form connection and constitute life; falsities are to be extirpated, and truths implanted by the Lord, compared with the prolific principle in seed, 9258(2); the two states of regeneration, references, 9274; he ought not to return from the second state to the former, references, 9274(4), 10184; initiament of the new will from infancy, the reception of good and truth thence, the succeeding state, 9296–7. All things are formed with man according to use of life, 9297(4); the natural or external man ought to be in correspondence with the spiritual or internal, that man may be regenerated; he is not regenerated until the natural is regenerated, references, 9325(10); regeneration continues from infancy even to the last of life, afterwards it is perfected to eternity, references, 9334(3); the regeneration of man in the world is a plane to purify his life to eternity, 9334 (3); evils and falsities are removed slowly during regeneration, otherwise falsities creep in and fill the mind, 9334(2)–6; there are innumerable things from the Lord during man's regeneration, that hell may be removed and heaven implanted, 9336(3); the goods called fruits of faith, are the first and the last during man's regeneration, because they are ends, 9337; the Lord dwells with man in his own, thus in what is Divine, 9338(6); all purification from evils and falsities is effected by the truths of faith, likewise all regeneration, references, 9959(3); the process of regeneration from external to internal innocence, described, 10021; regeneration effected by Divine truths from the Word, successively more interior, 10028 (2); truths implanted in the life do not appear, 10029; the arrangement and providence of the Lord in regenerating man is eternal, because to eternity, 10048 (2); the two states of regeneration, references, 9274; the process of regeneration and of the glorification of the Human of the Lord, described and illustrated by the circle of life with man, 10057; the first and second states of the regeneration described, 10057(4), 10060; the reciprocal conjunction of truth and good or of faith and love with the regenerate, 10067 (5); the Lord alone effects this, not man, by love, which becomes of the will, 10067 (7); two states of the regeneration described and illustrated; and the two states of the Lord's glorification, 10076; in each kingdom, cel. and spir. good is implanted by truth, in the former kingdom in the voluntary part, in the latter in the intellectual, in each there is a different mode of regeneration, 10124; the natural man is in hell, and the spiritual in heaven, man is in hell unless he becomes spiritual, 10156; the difference between purification and regeneration, 10230(2); the Lord's words in John are explained, chap. iii. concerning regeneration by water and spirit, that spirit is the Divine truth from which man has life, 10240; when man is in truths, he is in combat, when in good, in rest, in the supreme sense, the Lord, when in combats, was Divine truth, when He was made Divine good, He had rest, which is the sabbath, 10360; see SABBATH; man enters heaven when he is in good, 10367; he is led by truths to good, truth is made good when it is of the will or love; how effected, 10367(3); they who are only in truths, and not at the same time in good, cannot be regenerated, 10367 (5); man has two states, illustrated by action and re-action; what is active finds for itself a re-active that they may act in unity, and be as it were one; that good is active and truth re-active, 10729; regeneration of the cel. and spir., 10787.

Regeneration rep. by the six days of creation and the seventh day of rest, 6–63; by the six days of labor and the sabbath, 8884–94, 9278–81, 10729–32; by the story of the ark and flood, 606, 599–1059; the regeneration of the celestial, the spiritual, and the natural man by the history of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, 1404, 3793(3), 1401–6597; by the bringing of Israel out of Egypt, the journey in the wilderness, and entry into Canaan, 8530(2), 6634–10832; by birth, 848(3); by baptism and washings, 2702(16–17); by circumcision, 1025(5); by the rainbow, 1042; by burial and the sepulchre, 2916; by the sacrifices and burnt-offerings, 10042(5), 10053; by the passover, 3994 (6); by the seven years of plenty and famine, 5275; see under foregoing subjects for full references.

Region. A region of heaven occupied by the evil before the Lord's coming, 6858, 8054.

SENSE, SENSATION, SENSITIVE. See

SIGHT, HEARING, SMELL, TOUCH, TASTE, TONGUE. Faith does not come through the senses, 126–130. Spirits have exquisite senses, 322, 1630, 1880–1; example, 1883. The senses with the most ancient people were instrumental, with the antediluvians principal, 241; things of sense rep. by serpents, 195–202, 206, 241–260; spirits and angels have not the sense of taste, but have something analogous to it, 1516, 1880; they have more exquisite senses than men, 1880–1; exquisite sense of those who are withdrawn from the body and are in the spirit, 1883; touch is the general of all the senses arising from what is perceptive, 3528; everything sensitive and perceptive is from good, and not from truth, 3528; the natural communicates on one part with the senses, and on the other with things rational, on the first part with the world, and on the second with heaven, 4009; the external senses are the means of communication between the corporeal and natural; the internal senses are the means of communication between the natural and the rational, 4038(3); there is correspondence with the internal senses, 4224; what the general sense is, voluntary and involuntary, 4325; how the general involuntary sense from earliest times has varied and diffused itself out of the face, from experience, 4326; they who at this day have reference to the general involuntary sense, are the worst of all others, from experience, 4327, 4330(3); the quality of the general involuntary sense with the cel. and with the spir., from experience, 4328, 4329(3); sensuous knowledge sig. by maid-servants, 4360; the sense of touch corresponds to affection for good, taste to affection for knowing, smell to affection for perceiving, hearing to affection for learning, and sight to affection for understanding and being wise, 4404, sight, 4405–4412; it is the spirit which is sensible in the body, 4622(2); there is no life without senses, and such as the sensation is, such is the life, 4622(3); the things which were seen in the other life, were seen with the eyes of my spirit, not of the body, 4622(5); the life of sense in the other life is real in heaven, and not real in hell, 4623; senses, especially hearing and sight, open organic vessels of the external man to receive life from the internal, 1563; by learning and knowledges, also by pleasures and enjoyments, 1563(2); senses perceive from influx, 1953–5; it is the spirit which speaks and hears, 4652(2); nothing can be called forth in man unless there is something to affect his senses, for this reason the Lord came into the world that men might perceive the Divine in His Human, 4733(2); the sensuals subject to the intellectual part are rep. by the butler of Pharaoh, the sensuals subordinate to the voluntary part are rep. by the baker, 5072–5170; the corporeal is constituted of external sensual things and recipient forms, the five senses are the life of the body, 5077; sensual things are two-fold, those which are subject to the intellectual, and those subject to the voluntary, concerning which, 5077–8; they ought to be altogether subject to the interiors of man, 5077(2); sight and hearing subject to the intellectual, smell subject to both, also the taste, but touch subject to the voluntary, 5077(3); the sensual things of the body are ministers, because they minister those things which serve as a plane for the interior man, 5081; sensual things induce fallacies, 5084; unless the thought be withdrawn from sensual things, man is little wise, and is thus a sensual man, 5089(2); man is intelligent if he thinks above sensual things, 5089(2)–94(4); TEMPTATION. Combats, their nature, 59, 63, 227; temptations are combats of evil spirits with angels, 741, 751, 761; two kinds, of will and of understanding, 751(2); rep. by Noah in the ark, 705–902; temptations are celestial, spiritual, and natural, 847. In temptations, evil genii and spirits assault those things which are of the love and life of man, 847, 1820. The effect of temptations, 1693, 1717(3), 1740. Temptation is on this account, that corporeal things may be subdued, 857(2); evils and falsities are subdued by temptations, 1868(2); truth is the first of combat, 1685; man must fight from the goods and truths which he has imbued by knowledges, although they are not goods and truths, 1661(3); evil spirits excite evils and falsities, hence come temptations, 741, 751, 761, 762, 765; man in temptations supposes the Lord to be absent, when yet He is then more present, 840; he cannot in any wise endure temptation combats of himself, because he is opposing all the hells, 1692 (2); by temptations, evil spirits are deprived of the power of doing evil with man, 1695(2), 1717; the Lord alone fights on man's side, 1661(4), 1692(2); temptation has place with those who have conscience, and is more acute with those who have perception, 1668(2); at this day there are not spiritual temptations, but anxieties, which are different things and from another source, 762; men who are spiritually dead cannot endure temptation combats, 270; all temptations are accompanied with despair concerning the end, even those of the Lord, 1787, 1820; after temptation there is fluctuation, 848, 857; temptation as to things intellectual is light, 735; the Lord first fought from goods and truths, which were appearances of good and truth, their quality described, 1661; the Lord fought against the evils of the love of self and of the world, from love towards the universal human race, 1690, 1691(5), 1812, 1813, 1820(5); the Lord fought from His own strength, 1692(2); the Lord's temptations were a thousand-fold more grievous than any man can endure, He overcame evil or the devil and all hell by His own power, 1573(4); without hereditary evil from the mother He could not have admitted temptations into Himself, nor could He have conquered the hells 1573 (7); temptations are the means of dissipating evils and falsities, of introducing goods and truths, and of reducing the things of the external man into obedience 1717(3); the Lord alone fought from Divine love, and all others, whilst they fight from themselves, fight from the love of self and of the world, 1812–13. The hells fought against the Lord's love, which was the salvation of the universal human race, 1820(5). The Lord, by temptations and victories from His own power, was made justice, 1813; He sustained the most grievous of all temptations, 1663, 1668(2), 1787(2); the union of the Human Essence with the Divine in the Lord was effected by temptations and victories, 1737, 1813; see LORD. The signification of lead us not into temptation, 1875; the good by temptations, learn that they are nothing but evil, and that all things are of mercy, 2334. Temptation is a combat concerning power, 1023; by temptations goods are more closely conjoined to truths, 2272; none are saved on account of temptations, if they yield, or if they place merit in them, it is proof that man has lost the thoughts which he received by temptations, 2273; in all temptation there is freedom, stronger than out of temptations, 1937(4); in temptations there are indignations, and several other affections, 1917; the temptation of infants, of what quality, 2294; in temptations there is a fluctuation between the affirmative and the negative, 2338; in temptations they are reduced to despair, 2694(2); the Lord's most grievous and inmost temptations described, Gen. xxii., 2764–2844; by them He united His Human Essence to His Divine Essence, 2764; God does not tempt, but delivers, and then induces good, 2768; in temptations He does not concur by permitting them, according to the idea which man has concerning permission, 2768; the passion and most grievous temptations of the Lord, 2776, 2786, 2795. See LORD. The Lord, as to the Divine, could not be tempted, 2813–14. Not as to good, but as to truth, 2813; neither could He be tempted as to Divine truth, but as to truth Divine, 2814; He admitted temptations into Himself, 2816. A summary concerning temptations, with references, 2819; the vessels recipient of truth are softened by temptations, that they may receive good, 3318(3); the rational or internal man, during regeneration receives truth sooner than the natural or external man; hence the combat of temptations, 3321(2); by temptations the vessels in the natural are softened to receive the Lord's influx of life, 3318(2); truth cannot be interiorly received, when incredulity reigns, because this limits and prevents, 3390. See TRUTH and FAITH. They who are regenerating are first in a state of tranquillity, before they are in temptations, afterwards they return into a state of tranquillity, which also is the end in temptation-combats, 3696(2). The Lord conquered from His own power, He alone fights for man, 3027 (2); temptation is a combat between the evil spirits attendant on man and the angels, 3927(3); on account of the disagreement between the internal of man and the external, it is a combat for dominion, 3028; it is between the enjoyments of each, 3928. Temptation cannot exist unless there be affirmation and acknowledgment of good and truth, 3928(2);

man undergoes temptations when good begins to act the principal part, which is in adult age, 4248; temptation is from this that angels hold man in goods and truths, and evil spirits hold him in evils and falsities, 4249; when good takes the first place the natural man is in falsities, 4256; no one can be tempted except as to what he loves, thus as to truth, when he loves truth, 4274; he who is not in the good of faith, cannot undergo spir. temptation, because he would yield; such are only let into natural anxieties, 4274(2). The Lord by temptations admitted into Himself, subdued all the hells, and reduced all things into order, and made the Human in Himself Divine, 4287(2); the Lord admitted into Himself temptations from the angels, 4295(2, 3); none can be tempted but they who are in the affection of truth and good, 4299(2); temptations are from this that evils and falsities are excited, 4299(3); they appear as if they were from the Divine, 4299(3); evil spirits excite evils and falsities, and temptations, 4307; temptations exist when good is conjoining itself to truths, because fallacies and falsities adhere to truths, 4341; temptation is for the sake of the conjunction of good and truth, 4572; it is the combat of spirits attendant on man, 4572(2); after temptations there is joy, on account of the conjunction of good and truth, 4572(2); there are two kinds of temptations, as to truths, and as to goods, 5035; temptations exist by evil spirits attendant on man, who excite his falsities and evils, thus by influx thence, 5036; they who are regenerating undergo temptations, 5036(3); truth impressed on man's interior has rule in a state of temptations, often when the man is ignorant of it, 5044; a state of temptations is filthy and unclean, because falsities and evils are excited, but afterwards comes serenity, 5246; a comparison with the state of man amidst temptations, 5246; man is regenerated by temptations, because temptations remove the loves of self and of the world, also because from opposites they give relatives, and confirm goods and truths, and evils and falsities are subdued, not daring to rise up again, 5356; an inversion takes place with man who is regenerating, in this case there is temptation, the reason, 5773; temptations appear to be evil, but they are means by which the natural receives the spiritual, 6097; the good procured by temptations, desolations, and desperations, 6144; the Lord turns the evil, which infernals induce in temptations, into good, 6574; man is insinuated into interior societies chiefly by temptations, 6611; temptation is when man is let into his own evil, then evil spirits fight against the angels, 6657(2); truths exist according to infestations in temptations, 6664; evil spirits use cunning and malice in temptations, 6666(2); he who is regenerating, for the most part does not combat from genuine truth, but from the truths of his own church; nevertheless this truth ought to be such that it may be conjoined with good, 6765; when man is in temptation, he is in a state of obscurity and grief, afterwards, when he emerges thence, he is in a state of brightness and gladness, 6829; spiritual combat or temptation is necessary, this is not known in the world, but is well known in the other life, 7090(4); infestations or temptations of the well-disposed have place in the other life, that evils and falsities and filthy things may be removed, before this they cannot be elevated into heaven, 7122. The Lord cannot be tempted as to the Divine Human, wherefore He assumed an infirm human that He might be tempted, 7193(2). The difference between temptations and infestations; temptations are effected with pangs of conscience, infestations not so, 7474(3); when any are to undergo temptations, truths and goods are arranged by the Lord in a state to undergo them, in this case they are nigh unto hell, 8131; the hells fight against man, and the Lord for man, 8150(3); they draw forth all his evils and accuse him of them, 8150; the Lord alone fights, and man not at all, 8172, 8175–76; the spiritual, who were kept till the coming of the Lord, could not come into temptations until the coming of the Lord, because they conquered by His power, 8099; there are spir. temptations, and natural temptations, the latter sometimes attend the former, and sometimes not; in this case they are only pains of mind, 8164; there is anxiety of melancholy, which is accompanied with temptation, and which is not accompanied, 8164(2); there is despair in temptations, in such case bitter things are spoken, but they are not attended to, because temptation is then at the ultimate limit of power, 8165(2); they who yield in temptations, come into grievous damnation, 8165(2), 8166; in temptations two forces act, a Divine force from within draws man back, 8168; in temptations prayers are not so much heard, why; man ought to engage in combat against falsities and evils, as from himself, the reason, 8179. A second temptation that truth was without enjoyment sig. by the bitter waters, 8259. He who once conquers the hells, conquers them perpetually, 8273(3); the Lord alone fought from Himself against the hells, 8273(3); He alone fights for man, 8273(4); temptation is a combat of the internal man, and the external, 8351 (2); faith and charity cannot be implanted except by temptations, 8351(2); temptations on account of the defect of truth is described, 8352. After temptation there is illustration and affection from what is pleasant and delightful, 8367, 8370. A third temptation sig. by a lack of bread, 8395. A fourth temptation sig. a lack of truth, 8554. Man without temptation cannot be regenerated, he must undergo many, 8403(2); to tempt is to explore, 8419; to tempt Jehovah sig. what is contrary to the Divine, 8567. Temptation assaults that which a man loves and longs for, 8502(2); temptations are continual despairings, and they are ended in desperation, 8567; truths and goods are implanted and confirmed by temptations, references, 8924. Concerning temptations, 8958–8969; they are spir. combats in those who are regenerating, 8958–9. They are from evil spirits attendant on man, who assault, 8960; they relate to the dominion of evil over good, and of the natural man over the spiritual, 8961; combats are effected by the truths of faith, 8962; why not tempted until adult age, 8963; neither is he tempted, unless he has the truths of faith, 8964; the state after temptation is worse than the former state, if man yields, 8964; at this day few are admitted into temptations, 8965; by temptations truths are confirmed, lusts are subdued, and man humbled, hence he has intelligence and wisdom, 8966–7. Temptations are undergone before man is in good, but not when he is in good, 8968; man ought to fight as from himself, but to believe that it is from the Lord; if he does not afterwards believe that it is from the Lord, the temptation is of no avail, 8969; the Lord by temptation combats overcame the hells, and arranged all things into order, references, 9528, 9715(7); the Lord, when in the world, fought with the hells, and arranged all things into order, 9937. They who place merit in works cannot fight against the hells, but for those who do not, the Lord fights, 9978; the angels instantly come into the spiritual idea, the material idea is put off at the first threshold of heaven, 10568; by temptations the internal is opened, 10685; the goods and truths appertaining to man do not come to apperception in temptations, but afterwards are implanted and reduced into order, 10685; man knows not that this is effected, nor how, 10685. By temptations the internal is opened to man, and afterwards truths are therein implanted, because the Lord fights from the interior, 10685; not to eat bread and not to drink water forty days and nights sig. a state of temptation, 10686.

There is no truth but from good, examples, 2434; good cannot flow in into truth, so long as man is in evil, 2388(2); truth is according to good, in like ratio and degree, 2429(2); the same truths with one are truths, with another less true, and with others even falsities, 2430(2); man cannot be saved by the truths of faith, but by the goods which are in truths, 2261(2); there is an affection of good and an affection of truth, the distinction, 1904, 1997, 2439; two affections, of good and of truth; the ancients instituted a marriage between them, 1904; the quality of those in the affection of good, and of those in the affection of truth, 2422, 2429; an affection of rational truth and of truth of knowledge, 2503; Divine good flows in into truths of every kind, but more closely into genuine truths, 2531; Divine good flows into appearances and fallacies, 2554; truths appertaining to man are appearances imbued with fallacies, also with falsities, but the Lord conjoins himself with man, and forms conscience in him, 2053; conjunction is reciprocal, namely, of the Lord with man and of man with the Lord, 2004; things rational are appearances of truth, 2519; the quality of an idea of truth without good, and the quality of its light in the other life, 2423, 2425; rational truth without good is morose, 1949–51, 1964; but when from good, what its quality is, 1950; truths from good are arranged according to affinities in heaven, 1900, 1928; there is truth intellectual, rational, and truth of knowledge, 1904(3); what cel. truth is, and what spir. truth, the former flows in with the cel. man, the latter with the spir. man, 2069(3); who are capable of coming into the knowledges and faith of truth, and who are not capable, 2689; the Lord made Himself Good itself and Truth itself, 2011; all good and truth is from the Lord, 2016; Divine good elevates all to heaven, but truth condemns all to hell, 2258(2), 2335; man ought to compel himself to think what is true, and to do what is good, 1937(3); rational truth cannot perceive Divine truth, 2196(2), 2203, 2209; the first-formed rational, because it does not comprehend, makes light of intellectual truth, 1911, 1936, 2654; what it is to be judged from good, and what from truth, 2335(2); things rational and knowledge are like a body and clothing to things spiritual, 2576; appearances of truth. See APPEARANCES. How important it is that truths be known and believed, 2588 (8). Truth without good appears pointed, 2709(21); the Lord, as to Divine Truth, could not be tempted, but as to Truth Divine, the Son of Man is Truth Divine, 2813–14; Truth Divine is what was scourged by the Jews and crucified, 2813 (2); all truths have affinity with each other, 2863; cel. freedom is of the affection of good and truth, and infernal freedom is of the affection of evil and falsity, 2873. See FREEDOM. Man ought to do good and to think truth as from himself, that he may receive a cel. proprium and cel. freedom, 2882–3, 2891; all good and truth is from the Lord, and so far as man believes that it is from Him, so far he is in His kingdom, 2904(3); the first state of those who are regenerating is, that they suppose good and truth to be from themselves, they are left in that opinion, the reasons; but when regenerated they believe that good and truth are from the Lord, and at length they perceive it, 2946, 2960, 2974; good flows in into the rational by an internal way, but truth by an external way, 3030(2); falsity cannot be conjoined with good, nor what is true with evil, from experience, 3033; the first affection of truth in the natural is not from genuine truth; the affection of genuine truth comes successively, 3040; truth is the form of good, 3049; outward knowledge is the vessel of truth, and truth the vessel of good, 3068; by influx, truths from the natural man are continually called forth, elevated, and implanted in good, which is in the rational, 3085(2), 3086; the first affection of truth, which is to be initiated into good is impure, it is successively purified, 3089; there is a reciprocality of truth when it is to be conjoined to good, 3090; power is predicated of truth, thus hands, arms, shoulders, 3091; good is what enlightens, but by truth, 3094; enlightenment by truth, penetrates further and effects more thoroughly, 3094(2); good flows in by an internal way, and truth by an external way, in the natural, but they are conjoined in the rational, 3098; truth acknowledges its own good, and good its own truth, that they may be conjoined, 3101–2; enlightenment in the natural man is from good, but by means of truth, sig. by giving the camels drink, 3102; when truth is conjoined with good in the rational, it is appropriated to man and fades out of the external memory, 3108; a most exquisite exploration and precaution is exercised to prevent truth being conjoined with evil, and falsity with good, 3110(2), 3116; there must be innocence and charity, that truth may be received, 3111; truth is faith, 3121; truth in the internal sense is charity, for truth or faith is from charity, 3121–2; mercy and charity is from the Lord, it is an influx of love, truth is also an influx of charity in respect to the cel., and it is an influx of charity and faith in respect to the spir., 3122(2). Truth is formed first in the natural man, by an influx of good through the rational, 3128(2); if there be correspondence, truths are formed, if there be not correspondence, falsities are formed instead of truths, 3128(3), 3138; the first truths are appearances of truth, afterwards appearances are put off, and they become truths in essence, examples, 3131(3); truth is initiated and conjoined to good in the rational according to degrees of instruction, 3141(2); as light without heat produces nothing, so the truth of faith produces nothing without the good of love, 3146; that truth may be conjoined with good, there must be consent on the part of the understanding and the will; when there is consent on the part of the will, then there is conjunction, 3157–8; truth cannot be conjoined with good except in a free state, 3158; the affection of good and the affection of truth in the natural man are as brother and sister; but the affection of truth called forth from the natural man into the rational is as a married man, 3160; rational good flows in immediately into natural good, not so into natural truth, 3160(2); the rational as to truth is procured by knowledges, truths are appropriated when they are conjoined with good, they are of the will, and for the sake of life, 3161(2); good makes to itself truth, to which it may be conjoined, because it acknowledges nothing else for truth but what is in agreement, 3161; all things in the universe refer to good and truth, 3166(2); natural good and natural truth, 3167; man is not born into natural truth, still less into spir. truth, but he has everything to learn, otherwise he would be viler than a brute, 3175; truth can with difficulty be elevated out of the natural into the rational, on account of the lusts of evil and the persuasions of falsity, and the fallacies thence derived, thus on account of reasonings and doubts whether it be so, 3175(3); truth is elevated into the rational, when man begins to be averse to reasonings against truths and to laugh at doubts, 3175(3); good acknowledges its own truth, and truth its own good, 3179; truth perceives in itself an image of good, and from good the very effigy of itself from which it is, 3180; how it is with truth, when elevated out of the natural into the rational, 3182, 3190; when truth is elevating out of the natural into the rational, it passes from those things which are of the light of the world into those which are of the light of heaven, thus from obscurity into clearness, whereby man comes into wisdom, 3190; Divine truth natural and Divine good natural, as two wings, elevate the truth, which is to be initiated into good in the rational, 3192; truth must be initiated and conjoined with good, not once, but through the whole life, and in the other life, 3200; what is meant by truth being separated from knowledges and elevated thence, and conjoined to good, 3203; truth, in a man about to be regenerated, is like as with an infant, he first learns what is of knowledge, then it becomes of the life, 3203(2); pure truths are not given with man, nor even with an angel, but in the Lord alone, 3207(3); the appearances of truth appertaining to an angel and to a man who is in good, are received by the Lord as truths, 3207(3); the appearances of truth, 3207(5); between the good of the Lord's rational and truth from the natural, there is not a marriage but a covenant resembling the marriage covenant, 3211; both the cel. church and the spir. have good and truth, but with a difference, 3240; the good of truth in its first existence is truth, 3295; the case with good and truth is as with offspring, they are conceived, carried in the womb, born, and grow up, 3298, 3308; good and truth are conceived together, but good gives life by truth, each is called soul, 3299; good is connate with man, not truth, on account of hereditary evil, but still truth adheres to good with some power, 3304(2); knowledges are the truths of the natural man, 3293; the truths of the natural man are truths of sense, truths of knowledge, and interior or doctrinal truths, 3309, 3310(4); spiritual truths or doctrinals are still more interior commandments, 3310 (4); doctrinals are founded on truths of knowledge, and these on sensual truths, without the latter and the former no idea can be had concerning doctrinals, 3310 (4); the good of the rational flows in into the good of the natural immediately, but into the truth of the natural mediately, this is sig. by Isaac loving Esau, and Rebekah Jacob, 3314, 3513, 4563(4); good reduces truths into order, 3316(2); truths are vessels recipient of good, or they are perceptions of the variations of form according to changes of state, 3318; from various reasonings it appears as if faith is prior to charity, or truth to good, but that is a fallacy, 3324; references on faith and charity, or truth and good, 3324(3); with the spir. man truth has dominion over good as to time apparently, but the good of truth obtains dominion, 3325(2), 3330, 3336; see PRIMOGENITURE. This is the case, inasmuch as in the affection of truth there are many things from the love of self and of the world, it is not known that good is prior and in that affection, 3325(3), 3330, 3336 (3); the spir. man proceeds from doctrinals to the good of doctrinals, from this to the good of truth, and from this to the good of life, when he is regenerated the order is inverted, 3332(2); how good is adjoined to truths in the natural during regeneration, 3336(3); affection always adjoins itself to the things which have entered into the memory, they are reproduced together; the affection of good is adjoined to truths from the Lord with man, and by the affection of good truths are reproduced, and thus falsities and evils are removed, 3336(3); the appearances of truth. See APPEARANCES. Truths are received by every one according to apprehension, 3385; if truths are not received, good cannot flow in, so as to become rational or human good, and thus spir. life, because truths are the vessels recipient of good, 3387; many things are received from being called Divine, but there is need of confirmation, 3388; truths are not knowledges, but in knowledges, 3391; when unbelief universally reigns it limits and hinders the truths of faith from penetrating interiorly, 3390(2); good and truth are removed from man towards the interiors in proportion as he is in evil and falsity, 3402(2); merely to know goods and truths is not to have them, but to have them is to be affected with them not from the love of self and of the world, 3402(3); who they are, and of what quality, who are in the good of truth, 3459, 3463; spir. good is formed by truths, truths are as fibres which form good, but which are led and applied into form by interior good, 3470, 3579, see GOOD. Good is the first-born, and truth is afterwards begotten, illustrated by the state of infants, 3494. See PRIMOGENITURE and INFANT. Truths are introduced into the natural by enjoyments and pleasures, 3502(2), 3512; there are innumerable kinds of good and of truth, 3519(2); the most universal kinds were rep. by the animals offered as burnt-offerings and sacrifices, 3519(3); truth is apparently in the first place during man's regeneration, thus in inverted order, but good is in the first place when he is regenerated, 3324–5, 3330, 3336, 3494, 3530(3), 3548, 3556, 3566, 3570, 3576, 3603, 3701(2), 3843, 4243(2), 4247, 4337, 4925–6, 4928, 4930, 4977, 5351(2), 6256(2), 6269, 6272–3, 8516(2), 10110. Truth and good of the natural are formed from truth and good of the rational immediately, and mediately by influx, 3314 3573, 3616; there are innumerable means by which conjunctions are effected, treated of in the internal sense of the Word, 3573(2); from rational good exist inmost goods and truths in the natural, 3576; good from the rational produces truth in the natural, almost as life produces fibres in the body, 3579; good and truths appertaining to man form, as it were, one kingdom or state, and this from the form of heaven and influx thence, 3584; few know what is good and what is true, none know it but the regenerate, 3603(2); good is turned into evil, and truth into falsity, when it descends from heaven with the evil, and contrariwise, 3607; when truth is deprived of the life derived from self, it is then conjoined with good, and thereby receives essential life, 3607(3); what is meant by truth having life from self, 3610; what is the quality of the state when truth is in the prior place, and what the quality when good is in that place, 3610(3); there is a continual endeavor in good to restore the state, that truth may be subordinate, 3610(3); mention is made of lives in the plural, because there are two faculties of life, the will which is of good, and the understanding which is of truth; they make one life when the understanding is of the will, or truth is of good, 3623; during regeneration, man is led by the Lord first as an infant, next as a boy, afterwards as a youth, and at length as an adult, and when he is led as an infant boy, that he has knowledges of external or corporeal truth, which are such as the knowledges of historical things and of rituals in the world, 3665(2), 3690(2), 3982(2), 3986 (5); such knowledges of truth admit successively things spiritual and celestial because inmostly in them is the Divine, 3665(2); the good of truth and the truth of good; one is the inverse in respect to the other, 3669; with good and truth the case is as with seeds and ground; that seeds are from the rational, ground in the natural, 3671; the good of truth is inverted in the beginning in respect to the truth of good, but during man's regeneration they are conjoined, illustrated by example, 3688(3); the Lord is Divine good, and from it is Divine truth, as the sun from which is light, 3704, 3712(2), 4577; good is the first of order, and truth the last of order, 3726; good is varied in all and single things by truths; from truth it receives its quality, 3804; they who are only in external truths, are weak, wavering, and changeable; but they who are at the same time in internal truths, are firm, 3820; truths are conjoined with goods, when they are learnt for the sake of life, 3824; truths are not conjoined to man, only so far as he is in good, that is so far as they become of the life; they are not conjoined to him by knowing and acknowledging them, 3834; the truths of faith are nothing without affections, 3849; interior truths are not at first received, but exterior, and by the latter the former, 3857; regeneration is effected from truth to good, this is ascent, next from good to truth, and this is descent, as by Jacob's ladder, 3882; they are not of the church who are in the affection of truth and not in good, and who are in the affection of good not productive of truth, 3963; good and truth not genuine serve to introduce genuine goods and truths, 3974; there are mediate goods and truths which are serviceable in introducing genuine truths and goods, and are afterwards relinquished, 3665, 3690, 3974, 3982, 3986. 4145; the goods appertaining to man are mixed with evils, and truths with falsities, but with such evils and falsities, as are not contrary, illustrated by examples, 3993. goods and truths are in the middle, and evils and falsities at the circumference, 3003(13); during regeneration, there is an influx of the Lord into the goods of the internal man, and through truths there into the natural, 4015; power is attributed to the truth thence derived, 4015(2); truth is from good, 4070; how good is conjoined to truth illustrated by the influx of good into the knowledges of truth with man, 4096–7; so far as cel. things have the dominion, so far truths are multiplied, and so far as worldly things, so far truths are diminished, 4099(2); what is meant by not speaking to any one from good to evil, 4126; at this day there are no knowledges concerning representation, nor concerning good and truth, wherefore neither can those things be easily comprehended, 4136(3); good becomes various by truths, thus in no case is it altogether alike, 4149(2); goods and truths of a threefold degree are in the internal man, and as many in the external, 4154; see DEGREE. All good and truth is from the Lord, none from self, 4151(3); there are three degrees of truth in the internal man, and three degrees in the external, 4154; the evil can receive Divine truth in the external man, illustrated by the light of the sun flowing in into objects, 4180(2); Divine truth is lucent, not Divine good, 4180(2); Divine truth proceeds from the Lord, and in the Lord is only Divine good, 4180(6); Divine truth, before the coming of the Lord, was by influx of the Divine into heaven; after the coming of the Lord it is from His Divine Human, 4180(5); one truth is not sufficient to confirm good, but there must be several, 4197(7); truths are reproduced, when the affection of good is excited with which truths entered, and vice versa, 4205(2); good is respectively a lord, and truth a servant, they are also brethren, 4267; truths must be insinuated into good, that it may be good; they are insinuated by affection, 4301; truths in goods are arranged into order, when according to their order in the heavens, 4302(3); the good of truth is truth from the will and in act, 4337(2), 4353, 4390; when truths are conjoined to good, progress is made from things more general to things particular, 4345; the conjunction of good with truth, 4353; see REGENERATION. All truths respect love and charity as their beginning and end, and are implanted therein, 4353(3); good acknowledges its own truth, and vice versa, 4358; before truth is accepted and conjoined to good, things of confirmation precede and cause belief, 4363; truths cannot be accepted, and conjoined with good, except with those who are in the good of charity and of love, 4368(2); the affection of truth appears to be from truth, but it is from good, 4373; good acts, truth re-acts from good, 4380; what the truths of good are, 4385; all things have reference to good and truth, 4390(2); the correspondence of the sight of the eye with the intellect and with truths, 4403–21. See LIGHT. The correspondence of the sight of the eye is with truths, because these are of the understanding, and because there is nothing which has not reference to truth and good, 4409; the left eye corresponds to truths of faith, and the right to goods of faith, 4410; truth cannot be conjoined to evil, but to good, shown by lights, 4416; the correspondence of the sight of the eye and of light with the truths of faith, 4523–34; specifically, 4526; man who is regenerating has many falsities mixed with truths which are arranged into order when he is regenerated and acts from good; in this case truths are in the inmost, and falsities are rejected to the circumferences; the opposite with the evil, 4551–2; truths are the forms of good, 4574; truth is not truth unless from good; falsity, when it is received by good, is accepted as truth, 4736; good acts by truth, 4757; interior truths are conclusions from exterior, 4748(3); some who perceive the truths of faith, and live evilly; in the other life abuse the truths of faith to gain dominion; their quality described, 4802; truth does not become the truth of intelligence, until it is led by good, and passes from the will into act, 4884(2); to set up truth as the essential of the church is attended with many errors, concerning which, 4925; truth is to good, as water to bread or drink to meat, 4976; truths not applied to use are separated, how truths become uses and goods, 4984; good and truth natural, spiritual, and non-spiritual, 4988(2), 4992; see NATURE. Spir. truth and natural agree in ultimates, there is not conjunction but affinity, 5008, 5020; abstract spir. truths have nothing by which they may defend themselves against natural truths, 5008–9, 5028; truth without good cannot be given, because truth is the variation of form, and good is the delight thence derived, 5147 (2); truths exterminate falsities, and on the other hand falsities exterminate truths, 5207; truths and falsities cannot subsist together, 5217; truths are lucid in the other life, 5210; all things in the universe refer to good and truth, and hence to the will and understanding with man, 5232(2); the knowledges of good are truths, but they do not become truths until they are acknowledged in the understanding and will, 5276; truth is conjoined with good when man is in charity, 5340, 5342; truths are multiplied only from good, 5345, 5355; truth is conjoined with good, and good with truth, by affection, 5365(2); they who are in the affection of truth do not remain in doctrinals, but search the Word whether they be true, 5432; truths have in them a hidden power of attracting minds, 5464; the truth of faith is founded on knowledges, 5510(2); truth, when it passes into the will, becomes the good of truth, 5526; truth is called good when it passes into the will and act, and becomes of the life, 5595; good arranges truths in the form of heaven, but evil arranges falsities in the form of hell, 5704; truths are applied by good under good, 5709; the good of truth is of the spir. church, and the truth of good is of the cel. church, 5733; to claim to one's self good and truth is theft. See THEFT. Concerning truth that it is from good, 5804, 5806, 5816(2); between good and truth there is close conjunction, 5807, 5835; when the truth of faith is reproduced from the memory, its affection is also reproduced, and vice versa, 5893. See REGENERATION. Good multiplies truths around itself, also around every truth, and makes as it were a little star, and by derivations successively, 5912; the reciprocal or reaction of truth into good is also from good, and how, 5928; spiritual truths are derived from charity, 5921; truths are first knowledges, next truths of the church, and lastly spir. truths, 5951; how non-spiritual truths appear, and how spiritual, from experience, 5951; purifications are effected by truths, 5954(10); truth, to become genuine truth, has its essence and life from charity and from innocence, 6013; truths are to be insinuated into knowledges, treated of Gen. xlvii., 6059, 6004, 6023, 6071, 6077; unless truths are insinuated into knowledges the conjunction of the internal man with the external cannot be effected, 6052(2); truths and goods with the regenerate are arranged into cel. form, in the midst are the best, and so successively, 6028; truths lead to good, 6044; the Word ought to be searched to know whether doctrinals are true, 6047(3); see FAITH; truths seek their life in knowledges, and good in truths, 6077; to do mercy and truth sig. good and truth, and is a form of speaking adopted by the ancients, 6180; falsity from evil appears hard in the other life, but truth from good, soft, 6359; they who are in truth, and not yet in good, are in fallacies, from lowest nature, 6400; truth has power from good. See POWER, HAND. It is allowed to the evil to assault truth, but not good, 6677; the difference between truth of doctrine and truth from good, 6717; he who is in truths is safe even in the hells, 6769; he who is regenerating, for the most part does not combat from genuine truth, but from the truth of his own church, in such case it may be conjoined with good by means of innocence, 6765; truth prevails immensely over what is false, 6784; truth of knowledge of the church is the Word in the sense of the letter, also every representative and significative of the Jewish Church, 6832; the Divine truth proceeding from the Lord is the veriest reality in the universe, 6880, 7004(2); truths constitute the quality of good, because truths become goods when they become of the life, 6916; the confirmation of truth is effected by enlightenment, and enlightenment is diverse according to the state of every one's life, 7012; the truth immediately proceeding from the Lord, and its conjunction with truth mediately proceeding from him, this conjunction is effected with those who are in good, 7055–6, 7058; they who are in truth are rigid, and they who are in good are soft, 7068; the varieties of good, which are perpetual, are from the truths conjoined to it, 7236(2); truths are not to be believed in a moment; the quality of those which are believed in a moment is described, 7298(2); examples concerning falsifications of truth, 7318; truth falsified has a grievous stench, 7319; the reason why many in the other life are permitted to falsify truths, 7332; falsities and truths cannot be applied, neither be conjoined, except by intermediates which are fallacies and appearances, such as are in the sense of the letter of the Word, 7344; all things which are according to order have reference to good and truth, and all things which are contrary to order, to evil and falsity, 7256; good and truth are of the Lord when done for the sake of good and truth itself, they are not of the Lord when done for the sake of self, 7564; there are truths and goods which look upwards in man, and which look downwards, 7601(2), 7604, 7607, see GOOD. The conjunction of good and truth, or of charity and faith, 7623–7. See CHARITY. Goods and truths are taken away from the evil, and given to the good, 7770; all things are effected of the Divine by the truth proceeding from Him, 7796; truth becomes good when man wills it, and does it, 7835; pure truth is not given with man, 7902; what the truth of the good of innocence is, 7877(2); purification is effected by truths, 7918; the enjoyments of the affections, adhere to truths, that they may be alive, and that according to affections they are excited by the angels, 7967; the good of the spir. church in itself is truth, 8042; every truth has a sphere of extension according to the quantity and quality of good, 8063; truths appertaining to those who are in evil are falsified, because they are brought down to evils, and falsities appertaining to those who are in good are vivified, because they are brought down to goods, 8149; Divine truth has omnipotence; it is power itself and the veriest essential from which all things are, 8200; the affection of truth is from good, the one is conjoined with the other, 8349, 8356; truths appear undelightful when communication with good is intercepted, 8352; good and truth conjoined make the image of a man, 8370; there are six degrees of Divine truth, 8443; the truth of faith has rise from the truth of peace, 8456; what it is to look from good to truth, or from truth to good. See BACKWARD. How truth is circumstanced with respect to good, and what the quality of truth is without good, from several comparisons, 8530; Divine truth becomes combating truth by influx into those who are in an ardent zeal, rep. by Joshua, 8595; men of truth sig. pure truths, 8711; what the quality of truths must be that they may become goods, 8725; the Divine good and truth above the heavens are accommodated to the angels by putting on something finite, 8760(2). Truth Divine is the veriest essential, and is the only substantial, by which all things are, 8861; all truths have their origin from truths Divine, which are the internal beginnings of all things, in what order truths follow each other, 8861(2); the truths, which are not from the Lord, are from the proprium; they are truths in the external form, but not in the internal form, 8868; the affection of truth. See AFFECTION. All truths ought to be under a common affection; they perish if under diverse affections, 9004(3); truths and goods appertaining to man are as generations, or as families, 9079; truths mutually acknowledge each other; this is from angelic societies, in which they mutually love and know each other, 9079(2); purification is effected by the truths of faith, 9088(2); truths live from good, illustrated by a fibre in which is spirit, and by a vessel in which is blood, 9154(2); also by this, that good has its form, thus its quality from truths, 9154(2); good desires truth, and truth desires good, 9206–7. Divine truth is not speech but is the Divine filling the heavens, as light and heat from the sun fill the world, 9407(13); Divine truth is the one only substantial thing from which all things are, 9410(5); good and truth are in the perpetual endeavor to conjoin themselves, 9495; truths without good are not truths because they have not life, 9603; every truth has its good, and every good its truth, 9637; truths of faith from love, and confirming truths called secondary, 9841(4); man can hardly distinguish between truth and good, because he can hardly distinguish between thinking and willing, 9995; truth teaches what is good and how man should live, this enables him to be regenerated, 10026; all things have reference to good and truth, or to evil and falsity thus to will and understanding, and that they must be one, 10122(2); order in which man enters into truths, 10028, 10252(2), 10264(2), 10292(3); the arrangement of truths in series, 10303. In each kingdom, celestial and spiritual, good and truth are implanted, but in a different method, in the former in the voluntary part, in the latter in the intellectual part, concerning which, 10124; those in truth constitute the spir. kingdom, 10180; Divine good in the heavens is called Divine truth, whence, 10196(2); interior truths are those which are implanted in the life, and not those which are only in the memory, 10199(8); purification from evils is by truths, 10229, 10237, 10240; man is nothing but his own good and truth, 10298. See MAN. Truths with man are arranged into series according to the arrangement of angelic societies in the heavens, 10303; see SERIES. Spir. good is truth, 10336; to do good and truth for the sake of good and truth is to love the Lord above all things, and the neighbor as oneself, 10336(4). Man is led by truths to good; truth becomes good when it becomes of the will or love by the life, 10367(3). They who are in truth, and not at the same time in good, cannot be regenerated, 10367(5); all regeneration by truth, 10387; evils and falsities have no power at all, 10481(2). Good and truth must be conjoined that they may be something, 10555; mercy and truth sig. love and faith, 10577(3); all truth is of good, 10619; whoredom sig. the falsification of truth, 10648, see FALSITY. All good is from the Lord by truths, thus by the Word, 10660–1; they who are in the internal of the Word, of the church, and of worship, love to do truth, and to think truth, so likewise they who are in the external in which is the internal, the difference; they who are in the external, without the internal, do truth for the sake of themselves and gain, 10683 (2); truth does not become of the life until it enters the will, 10683(4); those who receive truths immediately into life come into interior perception, but those who receive them in the memory, then in the understanding, and finally into the will, are in faith, and act from conscience, 10787; the conjunction of truth and of good, illustrated by action and re-action, 10720(2). See REGENERATION.

The intellectual, the rational, and the faculty of knowing are distinct from each other, 1004(3); intellectual truth is distinct from rational truth, 1904(5); man believes that he has understanding from himself, but he is much deceived, 2701; the intellectual is continually going to meet knowledges, that the rational may exist, 1901(2); the rational first conceived makes light of intellectual truth, because it does not apprehend it, 1911, 1936; what is interior can perceive what is in the exterior, not vice versa, 1914(2); in love and charity there is wisdom and intelligence, 2280(6); the intellectual part is separated from the voluntary part with the spiritual, 2256(3); in the antediluvians voluntary good was destroyed, now intellectual good begins to perish, 2124; see also SPIRITUAL. Good of infancy, the good of ignorance, the good of intelligence, their difference, 2280(2); things intellectual or spiritual meet knowledges and adapt them to themselves, and that hence man has a rational, 1495(2); man can apprehend with his understanding things which do not affect his will, 3539(4); the intellectual is from the voluntary, 3619; mention is made of two lives in the plural, because there are two faculties of life, namely, understanding and will, the latter being the faculty of good, but the former of truth, which make one when the understanding is of the will, or when truth is of good, 3623; the understanding is obscure or clear according to the ideas which form it, 3825; they do not come to the first threshold of intelligence and wisdom who are in doubt about all things, and inquire whether it be so or not so, 3833(3); with the spiritual a new voluntary is formed in the intellectual by the Lord, 4328, 4403(2). The correspondence of the sight of the eye with the understanding, 4403–21. See SIGHT and EYE, and with light, in the same numbers. See LIGHT. The correspondence is evident from expressions in familiar discourse, 4406; sight with man depends on the understanding, otherwise than with animals, 4407; the quality of the appearance of intelligence from the proprium and of intelligence from the Divine, shown by lights, 4419; the subject continued concerning the correspondence of the sight of the eye and of light with the understanding and truths, 4523–33, specifically, 4526; where the spiritual church is treated of in the Word throughout, there also its intellectual is treated of, because the man of the spir. church is regenerated as to the intellectual part, 5113; the intellectual sees from the light of heaven, and gives life to the sensual of sight appertaining to man, 5114; man (vir) intelligent and wise sig. truth and good, 5287; exterior sensual things first open the way to interior sensual things, and then to intellectual things, because intellectual things rise forth from things sensual by a mode of extraction, 5580; the understanding and will must make one, that man may be saved, 5835; those things which are of the understanding always follow, and those things which are of the will precede, 5969; the intellectual of man consists chiefly of those things which are of experience and science, and is also formed from a view of causes from effects and of consequences, 6125; every one is capable of being perfected as to the intellectual, to the end that he may be regenerated, 6125; the intellectual is the recipient of things spiritual, 6125(2); the intellectual of the church, which is Ephraim, consists in apprehending by perception from enlightenment what is true and good from the Word, 6222(2); perception is enlightenment of the understanding from the light of heaven, 6608; the intellectual is the recipient of faith, 7503; the form of thought and of understanding is clear in the midst, and obscure round about, opposite things look downwards, 8885; the understanding is a form of the will, 8885(3); those things which are from man's own intelligence, have no life in them, but those things which are from the Word have life, 8941(2), 8944; evils of the will alone, or of the understanding alone, those of both together, 9009; man has understanding both interior and exterior, 9052; from will and understanding together it comes to pass that things are appropriated to man, 9009, 9069, 9071, 9132; a man is guilty if by the intellectual he does not check the evil of the will, 9075; how from infancy intelligence is born and grows, 9103(3); concerning sight from the interior, 9128(2). See TO SEE. In what manner the will communicates its fire with the understanding, and in such case concerning the state of the latter, 9144; esse is of the will, and existere is of the understanding thence derived, 9282. See WILL. The communication of truth and good, thus of the understanding and will, is like that of the heart and lungs, 9300(2); the understanding is what receives the truths of faith, and the will the good of charity, 9300(2); the new will of good is implanted in the intellectual part with the spir. man, references, 9509(2); the cel. kingdom corresponds to the voluntary, and the spir. kingdom to the intellectual of man, 9835(2); the intellectual is the recipient subject of truth Divine, 9930; all things of the understanding proceed from its will, 9042(2); not perception but understanding of truth in middle heaven, 10062; the understanding of man is of such a quality as are the truths which form it, and vice versa; and the will is of such a quality as are the goods of love, 10064; understanding, cause, and faith are the same, 10076(4); in the spir. kingdom truth is received in intellectual part,

10093, 10124; all things have reference to understanding and will, because to what is good and true, and to what is evil and false, and that those two must be one, 10122(2). What is meant by wisdom, intelligence, knowledge, and work, they follow in order together one into the other with the good, 10331; the understanding must be from the will to be the understanding of the man himself, 10332(2); to him who is enlightened by the Lord it is given to understand the truths which are to be believed; these admit the Lord into their life, 10659(3); what is intellectual cannot be predicated of falsities from evil, but of truths from good, 10675 (3); knowledges must precede and enlighten the understanding, 10367(4), 10409(4), 10536(2); the intellect or understanding is the internal eye, 10569(2); the understanding of truth, intelligence, and wisdom are received so far as the internal man is opened toward heaven, 9796–9803; which is when man perceives and loves truth, 10675(3). Interior truths are those which are made of man's life and affection, but not truths only in the memory, 10199(8), 10645; the understanding is so far the man as it partakes of the will, 10109(2)–10, 10645(2); the Lord is present in truths from good, that is such as man wills and does, 10645(3); man has two faculties, understanding and will, how the understanding is enlightened, 10786. WORD, THE (verbum). There are four styles in which the Word is written, 66, 1139–40. In the Word there is an internal sense, 1–5, 64, 65, 66, 167, 605, 920, 937, 1143, 1404, 1405, 1408, 1409, 1502(3), 1540, 1650, 1756, 1767–1777, 1869–1879, 1783, 1807. The internal sense is the life and soul of the Word, 1405, 1984; the Word also of the Old Testament, in the internal sense, contains arcana which respect the Lord, whence its life is, 1–4; words in the Word are used with exactness, 519(3), 621; the Word contains innumerable arcana, 937, 1502(2); the historicals of the Word do the same, 7555; innumerable things are represented to the angels whilst the Word is reading, 167, 1767, 1768; the Word throughout in every part contains things cel. and spir., 630, 680; the Word applies to all men in the universal sense, 838; the doctrinal teachings from the revelations and perceptions of the Most Ancient Church were the Word to the Ancient Church, 1068; word sig. doctrine, 1288; it has a soul and body, spirit and letter, 1408; how many things are in one expression of the Word, shown by open ideas, 1869, 1870; each word even to a jot, in the Word is divinely inspired, 1870; the Word, in the sense of the letter, with respect to the internal sense, is as a rude apparent projection around an optical cylinder, in respect to the beautiful image in the cylinder, 1871; the Word is presented before the Lord as the image of a man, by which heaven is represented, 1871; they who love the interior things of the Word are rep. by a virgin handsomely clad, and they who reject, by a deformed old woman, 1774; how elegant the internal sense is, although nothing is mentioned but mere names, 1224, 1767, 1768; the Word is vivified with man according to his life of charity and faith, 1776; the Word read by infant boys and girls is better perceived, 1776; the Word is vivified and perceived according to the life of every one, 1771(2); those in the other life who have seen and perceived the interior things of the Word, 65, 1769(2), 1770, 1772; they who have loved the Word, have warmth according to the delight thence derived, 1773. The internal sense is to the letter as light to darkness, 1783(2); wonderful things in a single word, 1869; what the internal sense of the Word is, shown from good works, or fruits of faith, they are charity, love to the Lord, the Lord Himself, 1873; what the internal sense of the Word is in the Lord's prayer, lead us not into temptation, 1875; the book of Jonah is historical, 1188(2); also Is. xxxvii., 37, 38, 1188(3); true historicals began Gen. xii., 1401, 1403–4, 1408, 1783; the angels do not comprehend even one expression, still less names in the Word, but the internal sense, 64, 65, 1434; names do not penetrate into heaven, spirits by their speech cannot pronounce one expression, 1876; all things in the Word are representative and significative, 1408, 1409, 1619; in like manner too the historicals of the Word, 1540, 1659, 1709, 1783; the representatives of the Jewish Church and of the Word arose from the significatives of the Most Ancient Church, 920(4), 1756(3); the most ancient style consisted in describing things historically under types, 66, 605, 1756(2); there are four different styles in the Word, 66. 1139; the Most Ancient style was composed history, to Eber, names not persons but rep. churches; from Noah to Eber, rep. churches, they were also nations having such worship, 1140. To look at heaven is from external things to see internal, also from the literal sense to see those things which are of the internal sense, 1807. In the prophetic Word the cel. and the spir. are expressed distinctly, hence there are as it were repetitions, 683, 707, 793, 801(2); the repetition sig. also that something else is treated of, 734; the Word is spoken according to appearances, 589, 926, 1874, 1876; fallacies and appearances in the Word are adapted by the Lord that they may be as truths, 1832(2); it is not hurtful although man be in fallacies from the literal sense of the Word, 735; it is not hurtful if any one simply believes the Word, but it is hurtful if any one confirms false principles from the Word, 589; those who reject the interior things of the Word, who place merit in works, 1774, 1877; conspiracy by those who reject the interior things of the Word, that they are deprived of rationality and dispersed, 1879; those who have despised the Word and have derided, blasphemed, and profaned it, 1878. What danger arises from the profanation of the Word, 571, 582; it was necessary that some revelation should be made, conjoining heaven and earth, and because man was born for heavenly things, 1775; I have discoursed with those who are distinguished in the Word, 1114; words being one sig. one doctrine in particular, 1288; Preface Gen. xvi. (4), contains many references to internal sense; a word sig. all doctrine concerning charity and faith, 1288(2); words in the Hebrew language also sig. things, 1785; the Word is something else in the internal sense, because it is sent down from the Lord through heaven, and because it has a tendency to unite heaven and earth, 2310(2), 2495; the internal sense is for spirits and angels, because their ideas are also spir., examples, 2333(4); several things, which are in the internal sense of the Word, fall only into angelic apprehension, because then they fall into those things which are of the light of heaven, not into those which are of the light of the world, 2618, 2719, 2629; the sense of the letter does not reach to the angels, but the internal sense is for them, 1929, 2015; the Word in the heavens is different from what it is with men, they have the internal sense of the Word, 1887;

the internal sense of the Word is for the angels, they esteem those things of the Word to be precious, which appear to man to be trifling, 2540(2)–41, 2545, 2551 (2), 2574(2); the cel. angels, from affections in the Word, form to themselves lights of ideas; the spir. angels do the same from the significations of things, 2157, 2275; there is an internal sense, its quality, 1084, 2135, 2395(2), 2495; how copious the internal sense of the Word is, 1965; the internal sense of the Word is sometimes more universal, hence more remote, 2004; how pure the Word is in the internal sense, although it does not so appear in the external sense, 2362, 2395(2); the historical Word has also an internal sense, likewise the prophetical, 2310, 2333(4); the sense of the letter simply furnishes objective forms, as is done by human words, as basis of internal sense, 2069; the ideas of angels are purified and perfected by reading of Word by man, 2249(4); the Word is distinct from all other writing, 2311; the literal sense, especially the historical, is only an object serving for angelic ideas, 2143; the prophetical parts of the Word, in very many passages, would be of no use unless there were in them an internal sense, 2607–8; the arcana of the internal sense are less evident in the historical parts than in the prophetical, 2176; deep arcana lie concealed in the Word, nor do they appear in the letter, 2161(2); every expression is Divinely inspired and contains things relating to eternal life, 1886; the Word in the letter is a cloud, in the internal sense glory, Preface to Gen. xviii. Names in the Word sig. things, 1888; the ancient wise ones were delighted with the Word, as containing representatives, 2502–3; how at this day they explain the inspiration of the Word as to every iota, and how they explain its historical parts, 1886. In the Word there are things inexplicable, 1955. The historicals of the Word are representative, and all of the words significative, 2607; the precepts of life in the Word are of use in each sense, both the internal and the external, 2609; the precepts of the Decalogue are perceived by the angels otherwise than by men, wherefore they were promulgated with a miracle, 2609; the representatives which are in the Word and in rituals, derive their origin from those seen in the spir. world, 2179 (2); in the Word there are often two expressions, the one involving what is general, the other something determinate in that general, 2212; in every single expression of the Word there is a marriage of good and truth, 2712(3); all expressions in the Word are so predicated of their respective goods and truths, that merely from a knowledge of the predication of such expressions, it may be known what subject in general is treated of, 2712 (4); sometimes there is a kind of interchange in place of truth is found evil, and falsity in place of good, 2240(7); in the sense of the letter there are sometimes two or three expressed when one is meant in the internal sense, where the Lord is treated of, 2663; the Word is according to appearances, and why, 2242(3), 2520 (5); the Word is clothed with appearances from the human, whence also is doctrine, 2710–20; the doctrines of the Word are not understood, unless they be rationally expounded, 2553. See DOCTRINE. The Word of the Old Testament was written mostly in accommodation to the people who then lived, 2520(5); still the Lord disclosed the interiors of the Word in many places, but only for the wise, 2520(6); in the internal sense of the Word the Lord's whole life is described, as it was to be in the world, even as to perceptions and thoughts, why, 2523; the Word of the Old Testament is called the law and the prophets, also Moses and the prophets, the prophetic parts also called Elias, 2606. The Lord taught to the apprehension of the people, but thought from a celestial spir. ground, hence the internal sense, 2533; why the interior things of the Word were not discovered to the Jews, 2520(5); the internal sense describes all the life of the Lord, that all things might be present to the angels, 2523; why so much is said in the internal sense concerning the unition of the Divine Essence of the Lord with His Human Essence, concerning perception and thought, 2249; the Lord is the Word, or doctrine, 2533(3), 3364, 3393; the Law and the Prophets, or Moses and the Prophets, sig. the historical and prophetical books, 2606; the Ancient Church had also historical and prophetical books, which were to them the Word, cited from Moses, 2686; they who are unacquainted with the internal sense of the Word, give wrong explications of the Lord's words to Peter concerning the keys of the kingdom of the heavens, Preface to Gen. xxii. The white horse in the Apocalypse sig. the internal sense of the Word, and He that sitteth on him, the Lord who is the Word, 2760. Many things in the Word originate in representatives in the other life, and in correspondences, 2763; what is meant by the Word being with God, as in John i. 1, 2803(3); the Lord's rising on the third day, sig. the internal sense of the Word, which had perished, will be raised up in the consummation of the age, 2813(3); the Lord is doctrine itself, because He is the Word, and that the Word treats of Him and of His kingdom, 2859; the Word, spoken of in John i. 1–14, which was with God, and God was the Word, sig. the Lord as to the Divine Human, thus as to truth, consequently all revelation, and the Word itself, 2894; the Word has been in every period of time, 2895; the Word, in the Most Ancient Church, was from revelation, and inscribed on hearts, 2896; representatives and significatives with the men of the Most Ancient Church, 2896. Enoch sig. those who collected representatives and the significatives from them, 2896; the Word in the Ancient Church was from thence, 2897; the necessity of accommodating truth to man's comprehension, 2553–4; the internal sense perfects the ideas of angels, 2574(3); rational things confirming the doctrine that the Word has an internal sense, 2588(6). The Ancient Church had a written Word, which is now lost, it consisted of histories which were called the Wars of Jehovah, and of prophecies which were called Parables, cited by Moses, 2897; that Word was Divine, similar to the Word written by the prophets, 2897. Divine propheticals were also with others, which treated in the Divine sense concerning the Lord, the prophecy of Balaam, 2898; the Word by Moses and the prophets was written by representatives and significatives, it could not be written in any other style, so as to have an internal sense, by which there might be communication of heaven with earth, 2899; the Lord spake by representatives and significatives, because from the Divine Itself, 2900; there are many things in the sense of the letter, which are one in the internal sense, as Jehovah and the Lord, 3035; in the internal sense are contained things which exceed comprehension, 3085–6; the internal sense appears in the light of heaven, not so in the light of the world, 3086(2). The Word is a fountain whose waters are living, 3424(2); of those who dispute about the Word denying its internal sense, 3425; examples showing the nature of the internal sense, 3425(2); and the causes why the internal sense is denied, 3427–9; of the literal sense, it is threefold, historical, prophetical, and doctrinal, 3432; of the Word in the Most Ancient Church, not written, 3432(2); the Ancient Word, written, 3432(2); the Israelitish Word, 3432(2); the successive states of the Churches as to the Word described in Gen. xxvi., 3432(3); the literal sense is in shade in respect to the internal sense, 3438; the Divine is also in the literal sense of the Word, 3439; the Divine Itself is in the supreme sense; the Divine is in the internal sense, also in the literal sense, 3439; on the agreement of the internal sense of the Word with doctrine from the literal sense, 3451–2, 3454. If the Lord had not written the Word as it is, it would not have been received by men nor understood by angels, 3652(5); the Word is closed when understood only as to sense of the letter, more closed when doctrinals favor lusts, 3769; the Word is a medium uniting man with the Lord, without it heaven would remove from man, 4217(3); the different senses of the Word from the Lord to man, of the internal historical sense, 4279(2,3); two classes of those who read the Word, one seeking instruction in truth, the other to confirm their own dogma, 4368(2); the internal sense differs exceedingly from the sense of the letter, hence it is that names sig. things in the Word; other writers in like manner learnt from the ancients by names to sig. things, 4442(2); in heaven they perceived the Word spiritually, 4480; if the man of the Most Ancient Church had read the Word, he would have seen the internal and celsense in clearness, otherwise than the man of the Ancient Church, 4493(4); in the internal sense of the Word things follow in a manner predicable of their subject, 4502; the things which the Lord spake in parables are such as to fill the universal heaven, 4637; they who are in any heresy interpret the Word from the sense of the letter in their own favor illustrated by the case of those who are in faith separate, 4783; the Lord spake by representatives and significatives, and He thus spake at the same time before the world and before heaven, 4807; why most of the expressions in the Word have an opposite sense, 4816; the internal sense of the Word in the literal sense is as the soul in the body, 4857(3); the Jews altogether reject the internal sense of the Word, 4868; what is mystical in the Word is nothing else but what is spiritual and celestial, thus what treats of the Lord, of His kingdom, and of the church, 4923(2); in the mere historicals of the Word there is not the Divine, but within in them, 4989(2); love towards the Lord, and reverence from an interior principle, is testified by charity towards the neighbor, 5066, 5067; the reason why words sig. things in the original tongue, is, because Word sig. truth, and whatever exists, exists by truth, and becomes a thing, 5075; by the Word man has communication with heaven that Divine truth from heaven may affect him by influx, 5247(6); the idea of person is turned into the idea of thing in the internal sense, 5287; in the internal sense of the Word no respect is had to time, nor space, nor person, 5253; Word, in the original tongue, sig. thing and what is real, 5272; it is Divine truth from which comes everything real; what is meant by all things being made by the Word, 5272 (2); the truths of the church are procured by doctrinals and by the Word, when by doctrinals, a man believes what others have concluded, when, by the

Word, he can believe that they are truths from the Divine, 5402(2); they who are in the affection of truth do not remain in doctrinals, but examine the Word whether they be true, 5432(5); the man who is in good thinks spiritually, thus according to the internal sense, although he is ignorant of it, 5614(2). The natural sense with men is transmuted instantly into the spiritual sense with the angels, and this suddenly, because it is correspondence, 5648 (2); they who are in no affection of truth for the sake of truth, nauseate the interiors of the Word, 5702; they who despise the Word, have reference to the vitiated parts of the blood, 5719; cloud sig. the literal or external sense of the Word, and glory the spir. or internal sense, 5922(6). Moses sig. the law, and the historical Word, 5922(5); the Word ought to be searched that it may be known whether doctrinals are true, 6047(3), see FAITH. Jacob spake on account of the internal sense from the prophetic spirit, 6306(7); there is an internal sense of the Word, evident from the prophecies of Israel concerning his sons, in that nothing befell them which was said, 6333, 6361, 6415, 6438, 6444; there is a cel. marriage in each of the things of the Word. See MARRIAGE. The internal sense in the external is glory in a cloud, 6343(4); the church was in the land of Canaan from the most ancient times, and was there continued, because all things therein were representative, and thus the Word was written, in which all and single things were representatives and significatives, 6516(2); the internal sense does not appear in the historicals, the reason, 6507; the internal sense has been dictated to me from heaven, 6597. Innumerable things are in the Lord's prayer, contained in each of the expressions, from experience, 6610; innumerable things are in everything of the Word, from experience, 6617, 6620; in the inmost sense are things abstracted, as that people sig. truths, and so forth; the reason is, because abstract things do not limit ideas, 6653; the internal of the Word flows in with those who account the Word to be holy, whilst they are ignorant of it, 6789(2); the literal sense of the Word is according to appearances, 6839; the angels understand the historicals of the Word spiritually, 6884; the spir. things of the Word cannot otherwise be presented to view than by natural things, 6943; in the internal sense of the Word are described all the states of the Lord's glorification, 7014; the internal sense or the Word in heaven, its difference from the Word on earth shown by four precepts of the Decalogue explained, 7089; the things which are of the internal sense of the Word, appear to man as scattered, and of little moment, but they are essential and in most beautiful coherence, thus they are seen by the angels in the light of heaven, 7153; the Word is accommodated to angels and to men, 7381, 8920; the Lord says, that the scripture is fulfilled in Him, this involves those things which are in the internal sense, illustrated by passages cited, 7933(2); not a single jot can be taken away from the Word without an interruption of the series of the subject in the internal sense, 7933(3); the statutes and laws concerning the passover are not known without the internal sense, but why all such things were ordained, is comprehended from that sense, 8020; there are expressions in the Word which are predicated of truth, and which are predicated of good, also of both together, 8314(2); two expressions of one thing in the Word are adopted on account of the heavenly marriage, 8339 (2); in some passages there is no sense unless it be the internal, 8398(2); there are six degrees of Divine truth in the Word, what they are, 8443; the Word is written by mere correspondences, and on this account has Divine power, 8615(3); without the internal sense it is not known why the Holy Supper was instituted, and what is meant there by flesh, body, bread, wine, 8682(2). A word sig. a thing which befalls, 8693; there is illustration and perception to those who are in good, and thence in the affection of truth, when they read the Word, 8694(2); what is meant by illustration and consequent perception, 8694(3). A word too weighty sig. what is not possible, 8700; the Word is written as to the sense of the letter, in a form most natural, if otherwise, it would not be apprehended, 8783; the learned are greatly mistaken, who believe that they would receive the Word if it were otherwise written, and if heavenly things were exposed naked, 8783; truth Divine is called the Word, the Word is the Lord, 8861; all things in the Word are accommodated to those who are in the heavens, and to those who are in the earths, and that this is true of the precepts of the Decalogue, 8862; the historicals of creation in the first chapters of Genesis are historicals so made, illustrated by various particulars therein, 8891(2); in the precepts of the Decalogue there is an internal sense, 8899; smoke sig. the literal sense of the Word, 8916; truth Divine is altogether in another form in the heavens from what it has in the earths, and also is in various forms in the heavens, 8920 (2); unless Divine truth were expressed naturally such as it is in the letter it would not be received, 8920(4); the Word is thick darkness to those who are of the spir. church, especially to the Jews, 8928; the Lord spake by a living voice from Mount Sinai, the reason was, because it was the beginning of the revelation of the Word, 8931(3); those things which are from man's own proper intelligence, have no life in them, but those things which are from the Word have life, 8941 (2), 8944; the Word is as a Divine Man, the literal sense of the Word is as body, and the internal as soul; the former lives by the latter, 8943; by the light of nature, thus by natural theology, nothing is known concerning God, and concerning heaven, but all things from revelation, 8944; in the sense of the letter are many things which seem not Divine, when yet from the internal sense they are Divine, as civil laws and other things, 8971; the Word in the internal sense is in a beautiful series, although in the literal sense the things treated of seem disconnected, 9022; the Word, in the literal sense, is altogether dissimilar, and as it were contradictory, to the internal sense, 9025; the difference between those who teach and learn from the literal sense of the Word, and those who do so from the doctrine of the church from the Word; the latter comprehend internal things, but the former only external things, 9025(3); the things which are of faith from the literal sense of the Word ought not to be extinguished, unless after full instruction, 9039; the Lord spake from the Divine, thus such things as contain in them an internal sense, 9048 (7), 9063; the things which the Lord spake have in them an internal sense, because He spake from the Divine, 9086(2); all things of the Word have in them an internal sense, this is inspiration, 9094(4); the Word is inspired as to every tittle, 9198(8); the laws called judgments prescribed to the Jews in the Old Testament are not binding on Christians, still they are holy from the internal sense, 9211; those laws which are abrogated at this day, those which may be observed if we are so disposed, and those still in force, enumerated, 9349; by the Word there is a connection of heaven with the world; without the Word the human race would perish, 9212(8), 9216(3); they who in heart deny the Word, blaspheme it, 9222; laws were enacted respecting things which rarely came to pass; still they were most worthy on account of the internal sense, 9259. By means of the Word alone there is a connection of heaven with man, 9280 (2), 9317; the mystic arcana which diviners have vainly labored to discover in the Word lie concealed in the spiritual sense, 9280(3); no one at this day knows where the Divine in the Word is, when yet it is in its spir. sense, 9280(3); the Word in the letter is not annihilated but confirmed by the internal sense; as to every tittle and jot it is holy and Divine, 9349; the laws, judgments, and statutes; some are altogether to be done; some are of use, if a person be so disposed; some are abrogated, which, see citations, 9349; nevertheless they are equally holy, or are equally the Divine Word, 9349(4). The Lord was willing to be born in this our earth, and not in another, which was done for the sake of the Word, 9350–62; the principal reason was on account of the Word, 9352; the Word in our earth could be written, 9353; the Word could then be published through the whole earth, 9354; being once written it could be preserved to the most remote posterity, 9355; thus it could be manifested to all in the other life, that God was made Man, 9356; the Word is the means of union of heaven and the world, and in its supreme sense treats of the Lord, 9357; in other earths Divine truth is revealed orally through spirits and angels, 9358; the Lord was willing to be born on this earth, that He might be made the Word even in the external sense, 9360; the Word is Divine in the internal and external senses, 9370; there is no conjunction of the Lord with what is external without what is internal, 9380. Illustration from the Word. See ILLUSTRATION and DOCTRINE. Judgments and words sig. truths of the spir. state, and truths of the natural state, 9383. The Word is called a covenant, so the tables and the ark where the law was, and the Word of the new covenant, 9396; how much the external and internal sense of the Word differ, 9396(3); in the sense of the letter of the Word there is a spir. sense, in this a cel. one, and thus the Divine Itself, 9407; the doctrine of charity and faith is the internal of the Word, the sense of the letter is its external, 9409(3); what the internal holy of the Word is, and the external holy which Moses and Joshua represented, 9419(2); the Word in the letter is the support and foundation in which interior things close, and on which they stand, 9430(2), 9433(3); the Word is the doctrine of good, inasmuch as it is the doctrine of love to the Lord and of love towards the neighbor, 9780; the things contained in the first chapters of Genesis are composed history illustrated by the books of that time, 9942(4); the Word of the Ancient Church quoted by Moses, 9942(5). Word sig. discourse thought of the mind, thus everything which really exists and which is anything, 9987. Word sig. Divine truth; the Lord as to Divine truth, 9987(3); all truth from the Divine is called the Word, 9987(4). Let all beware lest they do injury to the Word, for to do injury to the Word is to injure the Divine Itself, 9430(2). The Word was represented by Elijah and John the Baptist, 9828(6). All things of the Word are representative, 10033(9). The Word is as it were heaven in ultimates, illustrated from representatives in the other life, 10126; in what manner the internal sense is understood in heaven from the external sense, that it is done instantaneously, without a knowledge of what is in the natural sense, 10215; the external sense of the Word is holy from the internal, not without it, 10276(8); the Word serves the heavens for a basis and foundation, 10126; the Lord speaks at this day by the Word with men, 10290; doctrine concerning the Word, 10318–10325; man knows nothing concerning God, eternal life, love and faith, except by revelation, 10318; the evils of the love of self and of the world induce ignorance, such ignorance prevails with men, although they have revelation, 10319; on this account God provided for the human race by giving them the Word, 10320; the Word is Divine in the whole and every part, 10321; since it is Divine, it is for angels and men, and on this account has a spir. sense, and a natural one, 10322; none comprehend the Word but such as are enlightened, 10323; the Word in the letter is apprehended only by means of doctrine drawn from the Word by one enlightened, 10324; the books of the Word, which have an internal sense enumerated, 10325; conjunction of the Lord with man is effected by the Word, references, 10375. Concerning various kinds of revelations in four successive churches, and in the fourth or Christian, by the Word, 10355, 3432(2). See CHURCH and DOCTRINE. To worship the external things of the Word and of the church separate from internal things is idolatrous, 10399. The cause of heresies, that man is in things external without things internal, and thinks of himself and of the world whilst he is reading the Word, 10400(2). Doctrine from the Word must be a lamp, the internal sense teaches that very doctrine, 10400(3); the internal man is actually in the internal sense of the Word, but he cannot be enlightened except according to the knowledges in which he is when his internal is open, 10400, 10402(6); the quality of the Word in the external sense, if it be not understood also as to the internal sense, 10402(3); the sense of the Word is not that of the letter, 10402 (4); every iota is Divine; when the spiritual things are understood, then it becomes Divine, 10416(4); the appearance of evil therein, 10431; if written with a better nation the letter would have been different, 10436(2), 10453(3), 10632. The sense of the letter without doctrine from the Word leads into errors, 10431; it is a plane into which interior things close, and on which they rest, 10436(2); by the Word there is conjunction of the Lord with man, and of heaven with the world; unless the Word was, the human race would perish, 10452(3); the external sense of the Word was changed on account of the Israelitish nation, which is treated of throughout, the law is called Moses, 10453, 10461; the internal sense still remained the same, 10453(2), 10461. The Word is compared with man, its ultimates with the skin and bones, the internal sense with the interior organs, 10441(2). Though it appears rude and simple in the letter its wisdom is supereminent, 10452(2). The external of the Word with the Israelitish nation was not understood as the Word is in itself, 10548; that nation was not in the external of the Word, the church, and of worship, but out of it, 10548–9; the Word could be written only in the land of Canaan because all things there were representative, 10559(3); in the Word nothing is said in vain not even the slightest expression, 10574(8); its three senses, 10614(2); that the Word is so wonderful cannot be seen by those who do not know correspondences, or anything of spiritual thought, 10634(3); there is nothing more wonderful than the Word, 10634(3); the holy influence from the Word is effected by correspondences even when people do not know them, 10635. The internal of the Word is also the internal of the church and the internal of worship, 10460. All instruction concerning the truths and goods of the church and of worship is effected by the external of the Word, but by those who are enlightened, 10548; they receive influx and enlightenment in reading the Word, who love truth for the sake of life, thus for the sake of truth, and not they who love it for the sake of themselves and the world, 10548–50; in the Word truths and goods are conjoined, 10554; the sense of the letter of the Word was changed on account of the Israelitish nation, illustrated by examples, 10603; still the internal things of the Word are Divine, 10604; the quality of the external and internal sense of the Word, the quality in heaven, described by ideas of thought interior and exterior, 10604(2), 10614(2); in the external sense of the Word is the internal, and also the inmost, 10614(2), 10627. The most ancient people had immediate revelation, the ancients by representatives; afterwards by the Word, 10632; in all things of the Word there is conjunction of the Lord with man by correspondences, hence it is more wonderful than any other writing, 10632–6; the Word is Divine in such things as are abrogated, 10637; in the Word they see truths who are led by the Lord, but not they who are led by themselves, 10638(3); he cannot be enlightened by the Word, who appropriates to himself a doctrinal tenet which defends evil, 10640(2); to those who are enlightened by the Word the Lord gives to understand truth, and not to believe things contradictory, exemplified by the passion of the cross, 10659(2). Every good communicated to man from the Lord is by truth, thus hy the Word, 10661; the Word is written hy pure correspondences, and on that account by it is effected the conjunction of heaven with man, 10687; ten words sig. all Divine truths, 10638; the light of truth in the external is for those who are in the internal, 10691, 10694; they who are in the external without the internal cannot endure things internal, 10694. The internal of the Word, of the church, and of worship, the external in which is the internal, and the external without the internal, explained, 10683; the reason why the Word effects conjunction with heaven is that it is written hy correspondences, 10687; how the internal of the Word appears in the external and affects the external, 10691; the church is where the Lord is acknowledged and where the Word is, 10761; there must he doctrine from the Word, for without doctrine the Word is not understood, 10763.

Work. The work of the fingers of God sig. the regenerate, 63; the cel. man is called the work of God, 88. Works of faith without charity are dead, 348; the quality of those who place merit in works, 1774; good works are evil works unless the things of the love of self and of the world are removed; they are good when those things are removed, 3147; in order to be good works they ought to correspond to the good of faith, they are comparatively as the face to the will, 3934(2); works are often mentioned in the Word, 3934(4); because in works is the will of man, 3934(7); he who is about to be regenerated begins from works, but he who is regenerated closes in works, 3934(8); truth does not become the truth of intelligence until it is in the will and passes into act, 4884(2). The works commanded hy the Lord and their correspondence, 4954–9; work is use, 5148; works are goods, 6048; works are offices and uses, 6073; charity shows itself in works, works contain in them all things of charity and of faith, 6073; works done from the affection of the love of self are as burdens, which poorer asses carry, 6300; works are of greatest necessity being good and truth in outward form, their quality is according to the good and truth in them, 6406; works are predicated of good, preparing the hands of truth, 8330; what is meant hy wisdom, intelligence, knowledge, work, in the genuine sense, they follow in order with the good, and are one in the other, they are all in works, 10331; works include and conclude the interiors of man, and the whole man is in them, such as he is as to love and faith, and to be judged according to works is to be judged according to those interiors, 10331(7); man's being judged according to his works sig. according to the intentions which are in his works, 8911; work sig. faith in act, 8708; not to do any work on the Sabhath sig. rest and peace thus heaven, he is then free from all solicitude, unrest, and anxiety, 8890; deeds and works in the Word, according to which man will he recompensed, are not meant deeds and works in the external form, hut in the internal, since the evil do works in the external form, hut only the good in the internal, 3934, 6073; works, like all other acts, proceed from the interiors of man, they have their esse and their quality from the interiors of man, which are of the thought and will, inasmuch as they thence proceed, wherefore such as the interiors are, such are the works, 3034(2), 8911, 10331; with respect to faith and love, 3934(3), 6073, 10331, 10333; works include those interiors, they are interiors in effect, 10331; this is meant hy being recompensed and judged according to works, 3147(7), 3934(7), 6073, 8911, 10331(7); it is frequently said in the Word that man shall he recompensed, and be judged according to deeds or works, 3934(8); works so far as they respect self and the world, so far they are not good works, hut so far as they respect the neighbor, 3147 (7); the apostle Peter sig. faith, and John works of charity. See Preface to Gen. xviii. (2). See also Peter, 10087(2). Inasmuch as John represented works of charity, therefore he lay at the hreast of Jesus, 3934(8), 10087(2); and therefore Jesus said to Peter, who was indignant at John's following Jesus, What is it to thee, Peter, do thou follow Me, John xxi. 22, for Peter said of John, Lord, what shall this man do? 10087(3). Work is the effect of wisdom, intelligence, and knowledge, 10331 (3). To work out or make sig. to proceed from the will, 10332. Six days shall work he done sig. the first state of regeneration, 10729; this is when he is led hy truths to good, 10729; the Sahhath rep. the second state when he is in good and from good sees and loves truths, 10729–32.

World and World of Spirits. Its exterior and interior sphere, how filthy it is at this day, described, 2121–4. See Judgment. In the world of evil spirits at this day the goods and truths of the church are in a moment turned into evils and falsities, 2123. The earths and the worlds in the universe. See Earth. The spirits from hell, when attendant on man, are in the world of spirits and in this case they are in man's thoughts and affections, 5852; the world of spirits is where the spirits attendant on man are, where also men first come after death, and where the hells terminate ahove, and heaven beneath; it is an interstice between hell and heaven, 5852. Worldly and corporeal cares disperse heavenly ideas, from experience, 6309; the internal man is formed to the image of heaven and the external to the image of the world, and that thus man is a microcosm, 6057; and the things of the internal and external man are opened successively, how, references, 9279, 10156; with a sincere person the internal man is formed to the image of heaven, and the external to the image of the world subordinate to heaven; but with an insincere and unjust person the internal man is formed to the image of bell, and the external to the image of heaven subordinate to hell, 9283(2); how little wisdom concerning heaven he has who is in inverted order, because the world reigns in him; but heaven reigns with him who is in direct order, 9278(4).

WORM. See INSECT. The transformation of worms into chrysalises and flying things, is representative of marriage love, 2758. See BUTTERFLY.
